Auxilians Hear Katz, Elect Officers

A talk by Dr. Samuel L. Katz, chairman of the Duke Department of Pediatrics, and the election of officers were the highlights of the Duke Hospital Auxiliary's annual membership meeting October 29 at the Graduate Center.

Dr. Katz, who spoke on "Progress and Problems in the Care of Children at Duke Hospital," explained the growth of recreational therapy and social service for pediatric patients over the past two years.

He added his intentions to work toward establishment of a program in adolescent medicine at the Hospital.

"We've made progress in certain areas, and we're very pleased," Dr. Katz said. "We think that caring for our patients rather than just treating them has made pediatrics a truly attractive field."

Mrs. Evelyn Maddox, president of the Auxiliary since January, was elected for
