

Trading Post

FOR SALE—Portable Remington typewriter and antique Waltham man's pocket watch. Call Mrs. Browning at 477-4279 after 4 p.m.

FOR SALE—1970 Kustom Amplifier K-2 for lead guitar. Like new. Call Earl at 596-2830 after 5:30 p.m.

FOR SALE—Self-propelled power mower in perfect condition—$50. 30-inch wooden bed—$10. 7-cup electric percolator—$3. Wooden student desk—$5. Large pedal station wagon—$12. Metal chair—$5. Upholstered chair—$5. Heater with thermostatic controls. Bathroom space-saver shelves. Call Mrs. Harris at 682-0025.

SPECIAL—“To private duty nurses and staff of Duke Medical Center: Thank you so very much for the beautiful plant I received during my illness.”

Doris Reddrick

Office of Public Relations
Box 3354
Duke University Medical Center
Durham, North Carolina 27706

Mattie Russell
Manuscript Department
344 Perkins Library
Campus Mial

Duke Gets Grant

The John A. Hartford Foundation, Inc., of New York has made an award of $170,313 to the Medical Center for a three-year study of macular degeneration, a little-understood blinding condition.

Announcement of the grant was made jointly by Harry B. George, foundation president, and Dr. William G. Anlyan, vice-president for health affairs at Duke.

Duke researchers believe that macular degeneration—traditionally thought to be hereditary—may instead be caused by metabolic disturbances. They will try to identify these metabolic defects and determine if they can be corrected by diet or drugs.

The research project will involve both the departments of ophthalmology and pediatrics.

Mrs. Andrews Named

* Mrs. Kree Andrews has recently been named the new administrative assistant to the director of nursing services, Miss Wilma Minniear.

Prior to her assignment, effective Oct. 5, 1970, she has been a payroll clerk for nursing services since 1961.

Mrs. Andrews and her husband, Claiborne, live in Timberlake, and are the parents of a daughter. She is originally from Person County.

She replaces Al Taylor, who is now administrator of the Durham Rehabilitation Center on Erwin Road.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10

Duke University Council on Aging and Human Development Open Seminar
Topic: "Comparison of Perceptions of Health, Health Services, and Status by Two Housing Groups of Older Residents!"
Speaker: Dr. M. Powell Lawton, associate editor, Journal of Gerontology
4 p.m. Room 1504 Gerontology Building

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12

Director's Hour Program
Topic: "The Resorption and Remodeling of Calcified Structures: Osseous and Institutional"
Speaker: Dr. William P. Deiss, Jr., professor and chairman, Department of Medicine
University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston
5 p.m. Amphitheater

Chorus Concert Scheduled Nov. 13

A program of popular songs spiced with a few melodies of the Thanksgiving season will be featured at the Duke Medical Center Chorus concert scheduled November 13.

The concert, set for 8 p.m. in Room 213 of the East Duke Building, is planned as a children's benefit. All proceeds will go to provide items for sick and needy children at Butner and in Edgemont.

Some of the more familiar tunes the chorus will present include "He," "The Impossible Dream," "This Land Is Your Land," and "Born Free."

A quartet consisting of Michael Jenkins of Pickens Rehabilitation Center, Wesley Brown of the operating room, Theodore Freeland, director of the group, and Jerome Saunders, a student, will present four selections during the concert.

Soloists will include Miss Sarah Judd of Hanes ward, Ronnie Johnson of Cushing and William McDuffie of X-ray.

Adult tickets, available from chorus members or at the door, are 50 cents and children will be admitted free.

The chorus plans more concerts during the Christmas season.