New House Officers, Welcome to Duke

This special issue of Intercom is devoted and dedicated to new members of the Medical Center house staff who officially began their tours of service and training here this week.

By running their pictures we hope Medical Center personnel will become acquainted with the new house officers and they will become acquainted with one another more quickly.

Since in the past offices and departments have clipped this section and displayed it on bulletin boards in their areas, the pictures this time have been arranged by clinical service for easier identification.

Should additional copies of this supplement be required, please contact the Office of Public Relations, Box 3354, or call Ext. 4148.
