SHEDDING SOME LIGHT ON FATHER—The daughters of Dr. Josiah C. Trent unveiled a bust of their father at a ceremony held on Saturday afternoon in the History of Medicine Reading Room in the Medical Center Library. The bust, a gift of university trustee Mary Semans, honors Dr. Trent who died in 1948 and was both a skilled thoracic surgeon and an avid collector of rare volumes from the history of medicine. At the ceremony, which served as a rededication of the Trent Room, Mrs. Semans presented an edition of Cicero on Old Age printed by Benjamin Franklin in 1744 to the Trent Collection, and Mrs. Ida W. Shuman of New York added a gift manuscript of Walter Miles, a medical student at the turn of the century. The bronze bust, sculpted by Antonio Salemme of Pennsylvania, was unveiled by Mary T. Jones, Sarah T. Harris, Rebecca T. Kirkland and Barbara Trent. (Photo by David Williamson)

Included in that figure is $3,367,242 received through 18 area campaign efforts undertaken by Duke alumni and friends. Of the 18 area campaigns launched so far, six have reached their goal.

The university received $527,416 in its home area and $92,461 from Columbia, S.C. More recently, Spartanburg, S.C., Asheville, Washington, D.C., and Charlotte have all exceeded their respective goals of $65,000, $75,000, $415,000 and $350,000.

GREAT MISTAKES OF MAN

Man's imperfections lead him to many mistakes in life, and the pointing out of the frailties has engaged the attention of philosophers and reformers in all ages. These are the seven greatest mistakes of man:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others down.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot accomplish it.
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences in order that important things may be accomplished.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind by not acquiring the habit of reading.
6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.
7. The failure to establish the habit of saving money.
