ACCREDITATION EVALUATION IS RELEASED

Dr. Robert Weigman, consulting authority in the community college field, will evaluate Southeastern Community College's program to achieve accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and schools.

Dr. Weigman visited the SCC campus Wednesday and conferred with administrative officials and faculty members. He said his evaluation will include recommendations and observations in all phases of the college program.

William L. Eddings, Southeastern's acting president and business manager, and Dr. Charles King, dean, described Dr. Weigman's visit as "most significant in our bid for accreditation." They said his recommendations not only will show how the college can emphasize its strongest points, but also how it can improve its weaknesses.

Dr. Weigman is assistant dean of the college of education at the University of Florida, and is recognized among educators as an authority on the two-year college. He has headed the University of Florida's program for junior college administration for six years.

Dr. Weigman said he discussed Southeastern Community College's aspirations as well as its problems. "Where there are problems, we are looking for solutions, or alternatives." He said he talked individually with faculty members, and also lead an afternoon discussion at a meeting of the faculty.

College officials said an objective analysis by Dr. Weigman is what Southeastern needs. "His recommendations will be very valuable to us," Dr. King explained. Both Dr. King and Eddings expressed pleasure with Dr. Weigman's visit.

The next step in SCC's accreditation bid will come in September, when a survey team visits the campus to evaluate the effectiveness of the college program on all levels.

King Wins Polaroid At Phi Theta Kappa Fund-Raising Event

After raffling tickets for two weeks, on March 31st, members of the Phi Theta Kappa had their drawing to see who would be the winner of the Polaroid Swinger.

The drawing was held in the faculty office and the winner was Miss Lucretia King, SCC guidance counselor. When informed that she was the winner Miss King refused to believe it; she had not expected to be a winner.

Cosmetology To Be Offered For First Time At SCC In Sept.

The newest, and one of the most unusual, course which will be offered on the new campus in September will be cosmetology.

The Technical-Vocational Building will house the new department, which will be equipped with a lab with all the necessary equipment for the program.

"Fifteen to eighteen students will be accepted in this new program," said Dean George Howard. He added that these "students will complete 1200 hours of study and training in order to be eligible to take the State Board Exams and become registered cosmetologists."

Dean Howard emphasized that one of the greatest demands being made today is for workers in the field of cosmetology.

"Because the field is so demanding, the state has established certain rules and regulations concerning the program.

The program at Southeastern will provide the practical and classroom preparation to meet the State Board of Cosmetic Arts requirements," he added.

He further added, "The most important task of the Technical program at the moment is finding instructors for the new program, and we are now receiving instructor applications for the new twelve month cosmetology course at SCC."

First Graduation Set June 4 Dr. Weigman To Give Address

Dr. Robert R. Wiegman, Assistant Dean at the University of Florida, will speak June 4th at graduation.

A full week-end of events has been planned for the graduating class. The week-end will begin with the graduation dance to be held Saturday night, June 3. On Sunday night there will be a tea for the graduating students and their parents following the graduation exercises.

The Commencement ceremony will be held in the college auditorium in Chadbourn. Dr. Robert R. Wiegman, Co-chairman of the Southern Regional Kellogg Leadership Program for Junior Colleges, will be the guest speaker at the exercises. Mr. Wiegman is Assistant Dean at the University of Florida; he is also head of the Junior College program in the College of Education.

According to Dr. King, thirty college parallel students should be eligible to graduation in June. Nine other transfer students will participate in the exercises who will finish their requirements in summer school. Along with these students will be eight technical students and fifty-six vocational students who will have completed their one year course in August.

Students who will be participating in the exercise may pick up their cap and gown in the college auditorium during the week of exams. These students should be at the college at 7:00 on June 4th for their group pictures. Graduates should report to the gym.

On June 3rd at 8:00 p. m. the freshmen will give the graduating class a dance. This dance will be sponsored by the SGA and will be open to members of the student body and their guests. The dance will be semi-formal. Entertainment will be provided by the Embers from Charlotte, N. C.

On Sunday night following graduation the wives of the faculty and administration along with the appointed steering committee will give the graduates and their parents a tea. The tea will be held in the Chadbourn Civic Center located behind the college library. All graduates who should attend this tea as it will be the last time they and the faculty will have an opportunity to socialize.

Summer Session Begins June 5

The following schedule has been released by the office of the Dean of Instruction for the summer school session. This schedule was drawn up early to make preparations for students to pre-register.

The college has planned a well-rounded schedule hoping to reach the interests of the high school graduates and meet the needs of the present students of SCC, Dr. King stressed that students wishing to enroll in summer school should meet with their advisors and pre-register. If there is enough interest in summer school, two sessions will be offered.

Courses to be offered in summer school are:

Business: Typewriting and Introduction of Business.

English: Reading Improvement, Developmental English,

Freshman English, and English Literature.

Education: Social Foundations
Mathematics: Developmental Math, Foundations of Math, and Algebra and Trigonometry.

Philosophy: Introduction to Philosophy

Psychology: Introduction to Psychology

Science: Biological--General Biology

Social Sciences: American History and Introduction to Sociology

First Follies Hailed Successful

The Drama Club presented their first "Strawberry Follies" April 29, 1967 in the Whiteville auditorium. Talent from Columbus County ranged from jazz combos to tap dancing.

Several students from SCC were included in the show. Linda Page sang a medley of songs. The SCC Drama Club presented a drama skit concerning war. This skit was written by Mr. Jim Erwin, club sponsor.

The college chorus also performed by singing three folk songs. Sherry Potter and Vickie Barnes provided between act entertainment with a go-go dance.

Tom Rothrock, director and emcee of the follies, stated, "The show was a great success. I wish more college talent could have been seen and more college students would have attended the show."

The money that was made from the follies will be used to buy equipment for the new college auditorium. With the purchase of lights, curtains and sound equipment, the drama club is in hopes of presenting a play next year.

Harper Publishes New Article

Mr. William Harper, instructor for the PMC Laboratory, has been notified that an article he wrote describing a quiz technique will appear in North Carolina Education, journal of the North Carolina Education Association. The article will appear in the May issue with the title being "You Don't Have to Ruin Your Eyes Grading Papers."

The article was written in the lighter vein and was intended primarily for high school teachers.
