Dailey, Hurley Combine For Tennis Tourney

The final standings were: first, Daily and Hurley; second, Foley and Smith; third, Brown and Ward; fourth, Parker and Pollard.

First and Second place teams will receive trophies supplied by the intramurals department at SCC.

Larry Dailey and Robert Hurley combined at the Chadbourn Tennis Court for the winning combination in a doubles tournament sponsored by Southeastern's Athletic Department.

Daily and Hurley won two other matches to gain a berth in the finals. Their competitors were John Pollard and David Parker.

They played a winning set of six but at five games apiece it was necessary to go to seven games before the victory was successfully completed. The final score was seven games to five.

In a run-off play for second place Harry Foley and Stu Smith defeated Larry Brown and Red Ward in a best three out of five series.

Girls' P. E. Classes Study Bowling

Sophomore coeds are receiving bowling instructions as part of their physical education program this quarter. Students meet at the 701 Bowling Lanes instead of at the college twice weekly and receive professional instructions from Billy Harrelson, owner and operator of 701 Bowling Lanes.

Through the use of slides, records, and bowling equipment, Mr. Harrelson has instructed the girls to the proper technique, form, rules, and regulations of the bowling sport. Sandra Nobles, SCC physical education instructor, also supervised the trips to the bowling lanes.

Building E To Become A Reality In April, 1969

By present indications, SCC will be eligible in November to file for federal funds to match existing college funds for the construction of a new multi-purpose building on campus.

The school should receive the federal funds, which will provide for 40% total cost of the new building, by March 15, 1969. It will be approximately thirty days thereafter before the contracts can be signed and the construction of the building begun.

The new addition to campus will house five general purpose classrooms, a program instruction center, several faculty offices, physical education facilities with locker rooms for men and women, a student lounge, three lecture rooms, and a vending machine area with eating facilities.

The reason for the delay in construction is lack of federal funds at this time. The school already has enough funds to start construction, but without federal assistance, the building would not have many of the facilities now planned.

Rams Defeated 5-1 Against Methodist

Substitutes made the difference in Saturday's game of March 30 against Methodist College in Southeastern's first spring soccer game which ended in a 1-5 score.

Methodist College supported a team with many members and this seemed to be the deciding factor in the game. Their team consisted of at least 30 members.

Southeastern, on the other hand, was very undermanned with a hot 80 plus degree day did not help matters for the Rams.

Running was the name of the game. Methodist, who have been practicing for two months, tried to run the Rams to death. The Rams fought back, though, and were running with the best of the Methodist crew.

The Rams had practiced six times before the game and it eventually showed near the end of the game. Without substitutes starting players were beginning to tire and half time was deeply appreciated by all concerned.

The first period was the most disastrous period for the Rams. Methodist put three goals in and all were freak shots. All of them were bounced off the knees of Rams and shots that went stray and the goalie was blocked out.

Two other goals were made by Methodist in the second and fourth periods. The Ram defense shut out Methodist during the third and fifth periods.

The Rams improved over last year by at least scoring in their first game. On a long pass by Harry Foley to Red Ward and then a shot pass by a fullback to Robert Hurley resulted in a one on one situation and Hurley jamming it in the goal on the left side.

Starting players were: Rowland Phillips, goalie; David Heath, Randy Meares, fullbacks; Micky Reynolds, Frank Burch, and John Pfaff, halfbacks; Tom Rothrock, Robert Hurley, Harry Foley, Red Ward, and Robert Fuller were the forwards. Reserves were Jimmy Hammonds, Henry Edmonds, Bob Andrews, and George Zezefellis.

Ram's Eye View

Congratulations to Robert Hurley for scoring the Soccer team's only goal against Methodist College, March 30.

Tennis is being highlighted at Southeastern. A tournament is scheduled soon and interested persons should contact Coach Nance. The tournament will feature doubles and singles matches.

Larry Miller, Mike Lewis, Skip Harlicka, and Frank Standard, all Atlantic Coast Conference basketball stars, certainly gave the area some great basketball previews. Nearly all of these boys expect to play professional basketball in the future.

You should have seen the celebration after the soccer game March 30 against Methodist college. They celebrated just scoring.

Ram's Eye View wishes to thank the Southeastern Community College Boosters Club for bringing such fine basketball to the college. The club sponsored the college all-stars game at the Chadbourn gym.

The final score of the Methodist College versus Southeastern was 5-1 in soccer.

Being a very avid fan of car racing and a very avid Ford fan, I am quite pleased with this racing season so far. Ford prepared products have been dominating the racing scene. For the pros and cons of Fords or any other racing product, please write or send your comments to The Ram's Horn or Red Ward.

It sure was hot at the Methodist game. With very few substitutes it was hard on the SCC players. Ram's Eye View commends all the players and especially all that played the entire game.

With so few substitutes it has become evident that enough students are not supporting the soccer team. Why not try out?

Congratulations to Harry Foley and Mickey Reynolds on being elected co-captains of the soccer team. They were elected by the team.

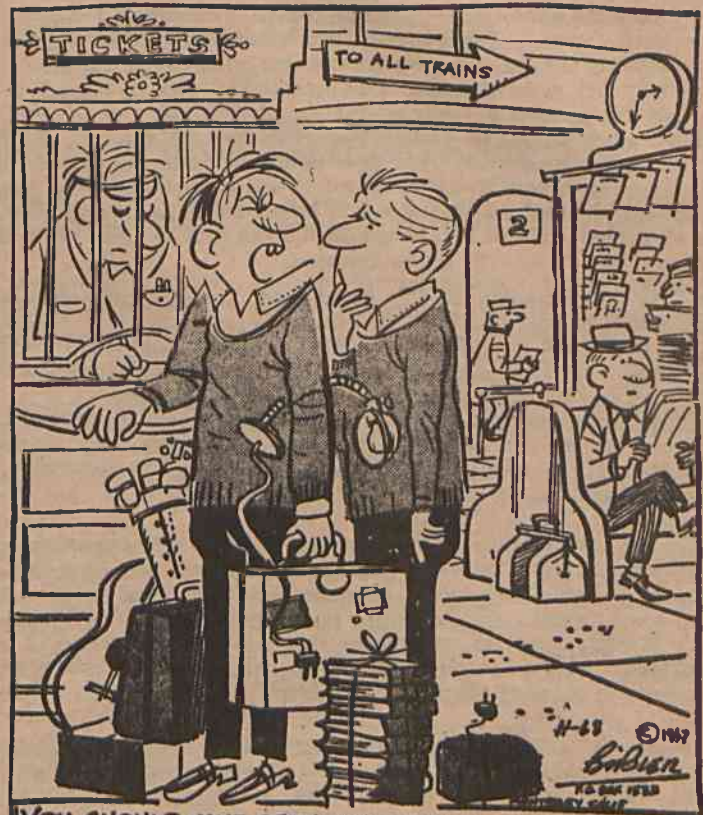

Co-captain Harry Foley demonstrates the correct technique of throw-ins in soccer. Coach Bill Turner (in sun glasses) instructs the team on the fundamentals as Foley demonstrates.

Team competition in fundamentals aid soccer players to mature talents necessary to play the fast and enduring game of soccer. Robert Fuller displays the technique of trap and dribbling.
