

Badders Receives Doctorate

Fred T. Badders, Dean of Student Personnel Services here at Southeastern Community College has earned a Ph. D. in higher education from the Florida State University.

Badders did his thesis on Students' Rights and responsibilities contained in policy manuals of Governing Boards of selected higher education.

He stated that his main reason for working toward this goal was, "I feel one should be the best prepared in there chosen field as is possible."

A native of Atlanta, Georgia, he completed the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a major in Psychology at Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina. In 1964 he received the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary in Wake Forest, North Carolina during 1964-1965, he completed further graduate work at Southeastern Seminary majoring in Church History. During the Summer of 1966, he attended the NDEA Guidance and counseling Institute at Florida State University.

He has served as Director of Student Activities at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary from September, 1964 to August, 1965. From September, 1965 through August, 1968 he served at South Georgia college in Douglas, Georgia. While at South Georgia College, he was Graduate Assistant to Dr. Melvne D. Hardee in the Department of Higher Education at Florida State University.

In September, 1969, he began his present position as Dean of Student Personnel Services at Southeastern Community College.

Review by James L. Fogle

"Jesus-Rock"

Two new and over-lapping trends have started in rock music. One is the rock-opera. Starting with on-the-road productions, this trend has found its final achievement in "Hair" and "Tommy", the last by the rock group, THE WHO. Another trend-setter is also a musical, but really goes much beyond. "Jesus Christ-Superstar" is a musical telling of the last seven days of Christ on Earth and uses many well-known rock groups to tell the story. What is more important, however, is the subject matter. "Jesus Christ" marks the first successful attempt to blend Rock-and-Roll and Gospel music. Called "Jesus-Rock" these new songs contain a message for us young folk in a language we can understand. The music is not square but totally up-to-date modern music. Another "Jesus Rock" album is "U.S. Apple Corps" by a rock group of the same name. With such songs as "King Jesus" and "Down by the River" played in a contemporary way, one has to really listen to understand. If most of you are like this writer, you usually just listen to the beat and the sound a few times before you listen to the words. If you are this type, you will really be surprised when you do hear the words. If you would listen and not know what type of music it is, you would find out that this is good religious music and not something that preaches to you.

Witch-Hunt

MGM Records, just a small part of the over-all MGM industry, put their name on-the-lymb the first week in November as they dropped the contracts on eighteen group and single acts because, in the words of the President of MGM, "These people support the use, and advocate the use, of hard drugs in their songs".

Two of the most note-worthy people dropped were Eric Burton (formerly of the Animals and now with War) and Roy Orbison. Roy Orbison is usually associated with Country music while Eric Burton and War are riding high on their single, "Spill the Wine".

MGM stated in their press release that this was the start of an over-all clean-up of the industry to show they mean to comply with President Nixon's request to stop pushing drugs via the record media. Other record companies have called it the start of a political "witch-hunt" by MGM to solve a problem that doesn't really exist.

By Phylis Wood

THE AFFAIRS: By Morton WORLD PUBLISHING COMPANY, NEW YORK, NEW YORK—This is one of the few books on the market today that tells the true facts of the extra-martial affairs that are going on today. Using actual diaries and case histories, he tells the complete stories of their involvements. Some of them turned out to be more meaningful than the persons involved intended. Others became nothing more than physical attraction and sexual gratification. Some of the persons experienced very much guilt, others felt none.

Many people might be shocked when they realize that these affairs are prevalent on all levels of the social strata. This book puts into print what many persons secretly do, and many of the hidden wishes of others.

Carolina Motors
CHRYSLER, DODGE, PLYMOUTH
IMPERIAL & DODGE TRUCKS
701 - By Pass WHITEVILLE

SEARS
Where Convenient Shopping
Compliments The Spirit Of Giving

IMAGES magazine in Cooperation with
THE NORTH CAROLINA ARTS COUNCIL
announces
A FICTION AND POETRY CONTEST
FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

First Prize	Fiction	Poetry
Second Prize	$50.00	$50.00
	25.00	25.00

9. Address entries to:
Literary Contest IMAGES
University of North Carolina at Asheville
Asheville, N. C. 28801

One HOUR
"MARTINIZING"
CERTIFIES
THE MOST IN DRY CLEANING

A Gift For Every Name On Your Christmas
Shopping List
Gore's Quality Shop
Downtown Whiteville

SHOP FOR FASHION
JANTZEN
HOWARD WOLF
ACT III
VILLAGER
JOHN MEYER
TOOTIQUE
AND MANY OTHERS
Kramer's Ladies Store
WHITEVILLE

Heads Take Trip

The 44th annual meeting of the North Carolina Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions' Officers, held in Winston-Salem, November 3-5, was attended by Roland C. Norris, Registrar and Fred T. Badders, Dean of Student Personnel Services. Both are members of the administrative staff of Southeastern Community College.

The convention included a series of panel discussions, general sessions and special addresses by Terry Sanford, president of Duke University, and former governor of North Carolina, and Chancellor John Caldwell of North Carolina State University. Sanford's address centered around state support for private institutions. Caldwell, according to Norris, gave an "Excellent presentation" of "Students' Rights and Responsibilities—1970."

The convention was entertained on "Convention Fun Night" by groups and individual performers from the schools and colleges in and around Winston-Salem.

Eros to be presented by SBA
Dec. 18
Student Lounge

The dashing
Town shirt
GANT
Its long straight collar is fuller in front. And higher in back. Its color frame stripes on deep tone backgrounds are distinctively Gant. Tailored with infinite care from collar to cuffs in a superior polyester and-cotton broadcloth blend. Hugger body. $10.
KRAMER'S
MEN'S STORE
WHITEVILLE, N.C.