Senators Elected

The Freshman Senatorial Election was held on September 20. Eight new senators were installed the following day to the S.G.A. Four from the College Parallel Program, two from Vocational, and two from the Technical program. They are as follows:

College Parallel
Mary Carteret
Rocky Collier
James Walker, Jr.
Densil Worthington
Vocational
Mary K. Boyette
Jennie Vereen

In order for a student to become a senator he must be taking at least 13 hours and be in good academic and social standing. Many of their duties are to serve as a representative voice through which student opinion may be expressed, investigate student problems, make recommendations, and enact appropriate legislation. He also has the power to act upon the receipt of all petitions from students and organizations. Aiding in the election of S.G.A. officials is also a duty of the senator.

Let's give these senators our support.

A Means of Survival

When Nikita Krushchev promised to bury us, he meant figuratively as he later explained, that the communistic economic system would outlast the capitalistic system. We, however, are literally burying ourselves in our own trash. Thus, we have one of the reasons for Operation Recycle: To keep from burying ourselves. The other being that if we do not, we face the possibility of depleting our natural resources.

America, as it now stands, is dumping a fantastic amount of waste products virtually anywhere there is a place to stash another can. The normal state of affairs for an affluent society such as ours you say? Maybe. But does that make it right? Never. Because trash is going to kill us outright if it does not choke us to death first. Each year we discard 46 billion cans, 48 billion bottles, 100 million tires, and 6 million cars. The cost for picking up this trash is approximately 7.2 billion dollars, and the cost is increasing at the rate of 20 per cent yearly. That in itself is ample reason to recycle. Even if the present method of trash disposal were not outrageous in price, we would have to come up with an alternate method in order to keep from totally depleting our natural resources.

We all know that metal can be melted down and recast to produce something useful.

Were you aware that the cellulose in wastepaper can be broken down into sugar to make industrial alcohol, citric acid, and butanol? The processing of 250 tons of trash (which contains approximately 60 per cent paper) in this method would profit $500,000.00 annually.

An Operation Recycle is now in effect in Columbus County, Recyclable products include paper, cardboard (corrugated), bottles (green and clear), and aluminum. Chadbourn recycle center is located in Jackson Dept. Store and is opened on Tuesdays. The Whiteville center will be located behind the Ford Co. on the 701 bypass when a building is constructed.

RAMS HORN MEMORANDUM

TO: STUDENT BODY OF S.C.C.
FROM: ARMANDO de
LEON III
SUBJECT: YEARBOOKS

As editor of the new yearbook, I feel that many of the questions should be cleared up concerning last year's annual.

The 1971-72 yearbook was a large undertaking for a school that had not previously printed an annual. For a moment, pause and consider what goes into making a yearbook. First, a publishing company must be selected. Then the staff must decide how many yearbooks to buy (in other words, how far to stick our necks out). Ads must be sold to help pay the publishing expenses. So much for the NORMAL aspects of putting together an annual. Because S.C.C. is a nonresident college, the problem is compounded. It is extremely difficult to assemble thirty commuters together week after week, month after month to assemble a publication, a problem not so different than that of the drama club, the sports dept., or any other group that tries to meet after the normal school hours. Our problem, however, is more pronounced, because our product comes out only once a year; therefore, our members do not see the result of their labor UNTIL the end of one calendar year.

As could be expected, the staff of last year's yearbook dwindled until a very small nucleus was left with the large ordeal of putting the annual together. This staff, by and large, had no support from the student body. It is small wonder that the annual is late, but what is even more amazing is that the annual is going to come out at all. On that note, good news. The publishing company assures us that the final copies will be sent within two to three weeks, no later than the Thanksgiving holidays.

So much for the epitaph. Now for the moment you've all been waiting for, a few words about this year's annual. The forth-coming yearbook will include graphic services, overlays, reverses, overprints, special halftones, screens, COLOR (can you dig that?), a sixteen page color toned technique, miles and miles of black and white pictures guaranteed to make your heart beat faster, and our own special innovation. No longer will you be required to come dressed in your suit to sit down before the camera amidst glaring lights to have your ever-loving self imprinted for eternity in the graphic arts. (Lick down your hair kid, it's for posterity). NO! We are trucking round taking pictures of you mortal types in your ever-natural. More work for us, but a better annual for all.

Therefore, we the staff are looking forward to putting this masterpiece before you ON TIME. We are always open to student comments, questions, or criticism.
