The RAM'S HORN is published bi-monthly by students of Southeastern Community College. The content of this publication does not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of the Board of Trustees or the College Administration.

To The Students:

I would like to take this opportunity to extend to you a most hearty welcome from the Student Government Association of Southeastern Community College. Your having enrolled at S. C. C. shows that you have taken the first step in reaching the higher goals that you have set for yourself. Occasionally, there will be pitfalls on the educational road ahead. Having perceived these problems in the past, the Student Government Association and the faculty have taken measures to help alleviate many of these inevitable "pitfalls" that we will encounter. The most important thing for each of us is that we take advantage of the resources we have at our disposal. The faculty and the Student Government Association work together to solve individual and group concerns; as a member of the S.G.A., I encourage each of you to seek help, when needed. You will find assistance readily at hand.

Your main objective should be to do your utmost in everything you undertake; but you must realize that you have an allegiance to your school. The pride you use in your voice when telling of your accomplishments and your school's accomplishments should be earned by you, not borrowed from others.

I offer my support and best wishes for the forthcoming year.

Sincerely,

Albert E. Haddock

Southeastern Community College Fine Arts Committee presents The Emme Kemp Trio, Tuesday, September 24, at 8:15 p.m.

Emme Kemp is one of those persons who can "pianistically" or "vocally" doodle with a purpose. She can wander from phrase to phrase, making the finest kind of musical sense, adding embellishments never dreamed of by a composer. Or she can deliver any kind of composition in a moment - made to order for you, and bearing her unmistakable musical mark. This is a masterful display of musical, poetic wit at its best.

A kaleidoscope of color and sound is about the fastest way to describe Emme Kemp. She is vivid to look at, to watch work, and to listen to. Her many styles and moods of singing and playing are all integrally part of a superb pattern of accomplished, stunning artistry. Teenagers are particularly responsive to her practical affection and understanding.

Backed by a guitarist and a pianist, who are outstanding artists on their own, Miss Kemp brings to Southeastern her own distinctive style of music for the third time. Such student acclaim speaks for Miss Kemp and her music, which regardless of vein is driving, cool, rhythmic, tuneful and always individualistic.

Miss Kemp will conduct a music workshop, open to the public free of charge from 2 - 3 p.m. on the day of the concert.
