One of the New Streets.

"Bllkzwp street!" cried the conductor.

The modest little man touched his elbow.

"Excuse me," he apologized, "but I'm a little hard of hearing, and I confess that I wasn't giving you my undivided attention as I should. Would it be too much to ask you to repeat the name of the street?"

"Bllwfkzwp street!" growled the conductor, with a savage glare.

"Oh, thank you so much," said the modest passenger, gratefully. "I wasn't quite sure whether you said Jllkzwpb street or Kwpzflbp street. I get off at Wilson street. Will you ring the bell, please?"

Smart Boy.

Teacher—"What kind of boys go to heaven, Johnnie?"

Johnnie—"Dead boys."
