

THE ELON COLLEGE WEEKLY

Vol. IV. New Series.

Greensboro, N. C., Friday, March 7, 1913
and Elon College, N. C.

No. 3

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

LOCALS AND PERSONALS ...

Mr. H. A. Glouss, student at Trinity College, Durham, visited his sister, Miss Anna, at Ladies' Hall Sunday and Monday last.

Miss Myrtie Cox, of Columbia, S. C., is spending the while with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. L. I. Cox, of the village.

Messrs. V. P. Heatwole and R. A. Campbell returned from Washington, D. C., Thursday morning and report a very pleasant trip.

Visitors in Greensboro Thursday last were Misses Virgie Beale and Pearle Tuck. They witnessed the presentation of "The Spring Maid" during the evening.

Messrs. R. S. Doak, R. A. Campbell, W. H. Griffin and Armaduke Woodward enjoyed this charming play also.

During the past ten days the College deep well has created some inconvenience. Standing idle as it did for about four days our modern conveniences were made to look small, but by hauling water for the boilers and practicing economy, heat and lights were furnished. Four days' and nights' heroic effort by chief engineer Dameron and his assistants, Anderson, Riddle, A. O., and Moore, affairs were brought to a head, the difficulty located and remedied in a comparatively short while. Repairs had to be made on the pump.

PRAYER CYCLE FOR MARCH, 1913.

Peace Institute.—That every member in our Association may surrender herself wholly for the service of Jesus Christ.

State Normal.—For the Missionary Pageant of March 7, and that we may be enabled to follow up the Missionary interest.

Statesville Female College.—That the members of our Association may take more interest in the work, and that the new cabinet may be guided in its work.

Elon College.—That we may have larger attendance and more spirituality in a greater awakening to the Y. M. C. A.

Guilford College.—That the members of our new cabinet may get a great vision of the work for next year.

Trinity College.—That our Association may take a deeper interest in Missions and that the Mission classes just started may get the most possible good out of the courses.

University.—That we may get the right men as officers for next year, and for the Mission classes to start this month.

FLOWERS FOR THE BAND.

Director of Band,
Elon College, N. C.

Dear Sir:—

The — Auction Co. are expecting to have a series of sales this spring. I have referred them to you and told them that there was more music in six pieces of your band than any other band I knew of that contains ten pieces. Am going to make these sales for these people and hope they can make a deal with you. You will find them O. K. in every particular.

Yours truly,

(Signed).

(From one who knows).

ELON DEFEATS CAROLINA.

In the best played game of the season, on the local floor, Elon defeated Carolina by a score of 23-19. This was a very pleasant surprise since the score of the first game was 41-11 in Carolina's favor.

The whole Elon team put up a fight from start to finish. The particular stars in the game for Elon were Johnson and Newman, although Atkinson, Bradford, Vaughan and Rand put up such a defense in the last half that Carolina was not able to cage the ball with any regularity. For Carolina Homewood, Long and Tillett put up a game fight, and did all they could to bring victory to their team.

The following is the lineup and score by individuals:

Elon		Carolina
Bradford-Newman	F	Long-Ransom
Johnson	F	Tillett
Atkinson	C	Carrington
Vaughan-Bradford	G	Homewood
Rand	G	Redman-Chambers

Score: Elon: field goals: Johnson 5, Newman 2, Bradford 2; foul goals: Newman 4, Atkinson 1; total 23.

Carolina: field goals: Tillett 2, Long 3, Carrington 2, Chambers 1; foul goals: Long 4; total 19.

JUST FOR FUN.

Any one interested in matrimony will please see Mr. E. A. Roe, "Agent."

Mr. Rainey announces his candidacy for a date on the next first Sunday.

Miss Myrtie Lawrence says a letter from Charlotte makes recitation work light.

Mr. Norfleet told Prof. Amick that Scipio was wounded in the battle of Gettysburg.

Prefers a Big Ton.

Consumer—I want a ton of coal.

Dealer—Yes sir. What size?

Customer—Well, if it's not asking too much, I'd like to have a 2,000 pound ton.

Good Cause.

"Will you donate something to a good cause?" said the caller, as he laid a paper on the business man's desk.

"What is it?" asked the business man.

"One of the tenants in this building killed a book agent this morning," replied the caller, "and we are taking up a subscription to reward him."

"Put me down for $10,000," replied the business man.

High Cost of Living.

Madam—Were you downtown today, Mary?

Maid—Yes, mum; an' things cost so, mum. I spent $7, mum, an' only got a hat, a pair of shoes, an' some long gloves.

—Judge.

Serious Matter.

Griggs—I saw the doctor's carriage at your door yesterday. Anything serious?

Briggs—I should say so! He wanted to collect his bill.—Boston Evening Transcript.

ONE ON THE EDITOR.

Seldom indeed do we find cooperation in modern life better illustrated than in the case of Mr. Heatwole and our absent Editor, Prof. Campbell. The Professor, it will be remembered, started for Boston during the Christmas holidays but his toes were frostbitten in New York City and he returned to Elon without having accomplished his purpose. A few days ago, inspired by the achievements of one Amos Rippey, he made up his mind to try again and telling the folks here he was going to the inauguration, got ready to go (to Boston.)

Being somewhat excited, the Professor, in trying to reach the window blind by standing on the wash stand, upset the latter with all appurtenances thereto including several gallons of water and, as water was at a premium about that time, the righteous indignation of his roommate, L. Hitchinson, caused his departure to be rather precipitate.

Mr. Heatwole, thinking R. A. was going to Washington had to go along, of course.

The first thing they did in Washington was to buy return tickets to Elon College, and a good thing it was for soon after their return they were seen in Dr. Ware's Drug Emporium drinking milk shake from two straws. This represented Victor's last nickel, the Professor having spent his for corn plaster, which he shared with his companion like a scholar and a gentleman.

If Mr. Heatwole had not gone to Washington, Prof. Campbell might have gone to Boston sure enough; furthermore he wouldn't have got the milkshake.

Prof. Campbell had not gone to Washington, Mr. Heatwole would have returned a married man, furthermore he wouldn't have got the corn plaster.

Hurrah for Cooperation in Modern Life! Wonder whp the ladies don't like it?

Committee.

IF.

If you happen to be dull in your studies you are called a "bone head," if you are extra bright and lead your class you are called a smart Alex., if you hang around the drug store and postoffice you are called a dead beat, if you have so much to do that you haven't the time to stop and chat with every fellow whom you meet, they say you have the "big head," if you talk to the girls on first Sunday, you are a sport: if you do not, you are not "popular." If all those who are dull in their books had had the chance of those who are bright, if those who kill time had more to do, if those who are busy had a few of those who talk to help share their burdens and responsibilities, if the world had less fault finders and more duty seekers, if every man pushed his own business with the same interest he has in his neighbor's affairs, there would be more to do and more people to do it.

Student.

PHIPSICLI.

All the material has been sent to the printers. The first issue of a College Annual for Elon College will come from the press May first. As every one knows an annual costs much to publish it. The price of the PHIPSICLI is $2.50 and I am looking forward to the patrons of Elon to give us their assistance by subscribing for a copy. You need the publication and we need your support. Look for the Editor's note in the Weekly next week.

Business Manager.

NOTE.

The Editor spent the greater part of the week in Washington (and Boston) and the Business Manager is responsible for a part of this issue. However the Editor returned in time to give the last copy its proper touch and add his usual "class" in the make up of the paper.

C. B. R.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

Brother ministerial students, you missed a good meeting tonight, what is your excuse for not attending? Do you think God will accept your excuse?

Rev. J. F. Morgan gave us a spirited, but short talk that was enjoyed by all. He used as his subject: "Jesus and the Church moves on to help a soul in need," taken from the nineteenth verse of the ninth chapter according to St. Matthew.

He began by showing how readily Jesus and his disciples were to help the ruler's daughter and also, while on the way there, to help the woman with the disease she had been suffering with for years. The man that was borne by four and let down through the house-top was another illustration of how Jesus and his disciples, the church, moved on to help the needy.

He closed his remarks by showing that the nations need more workers in the church.

The need for more Reapers to gather the ripe harvest. Mr. Hooker is leader for next meeting.

C. S.

—Reports come that two Welsh ministers, Stephen Jeffries and John Griffiths, are leading in a new Welsh revival, which is said to have as remarkable manifestations as the one led by Evan Roberts ten years ago.

A DAILY PAPER ought to be one of your most gladly welcomed guests. For $5.00 you can get one of the best daily papers in North Carolina—The Raleigh Times, Raleigh, N. C.