

THE ELON COLLEGE WEEKLY

Vol V. New Series.

Greensboro, N. C., Friday, May 16, 1913.
and Elon College, N. C.

No. 12

Notes and Personals.

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF HOME PEOPLE AND THEIR FRIENDS.

—Miss Josie Pritchard of Chapel Hill was the guest of Miss Eula Long Saturday and Sunday.

—Miss Powell, Field Secretary of Y. W. C. A., was a pleasant visitor at West Dormitory Monday.

—Mrs. Harry Lee Cross of Suffolk, Va., is spending a few days with her sister, Miss Mary Williams, at West Dormitory.

—Mrs. Genio Cardwell, of North Wilkesboro, was the guest of her sister, Miss Ethel Clements, Tuesday and Wednesday.

—Mrs. O. B. Barnes, of Greensboro, N. C., spent a few days this week with Mrs. G. I. Watson.

—Miss Myrtle Winstead, of Semora, N. C., is spending a few days at West Dormitory with her friend, Miss Lorie May Taylor.

—Miss Geneva Crews of Chapel Hill spent a few days this week on the Hill, as the guest of Mrs. Joe Farmer.

—Misses Fannie Brothers and Minnie Riedel visited friends in Burlington on Tuesday.

—Miss Elizabeth Pace, of Greensboro, spent Tuesday and Wednesday at West Dormitory as a pleasant visitor of Miss Linda Barnes.

—Miss Estie Stephenson of Greensboro is being entertained in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. U. Newman.

—Mrs. J. O. Atkinson entertained at dinner Sunday Misses Mary Lou Pitt, Linda Barnes and Ethel Clements and Mr. R. A. Campbell. The young ladies and gentleman report a most enjoyable occasion, sumptuous spread and pleasant visit none of which will seem odd to those who know Mrs. Atkinson and her charming daughters.

—Mrs. N. M. Macleary and daughter, of Suffolk, Va., are spending the while with daughter and sister, Miss Myrtle, of the college.

—Miss Nellie Fleming was glad to welcome her mother and brother Jennings from High Point for a few days during the week past.

—Mrs. J. P. Barrett of Dayton, Ohio, is with her daughter, Miss Ethel, at West Dormitory. Mrs. Barrett will remain until after commencement when she and Miss Ethel will visit relatives and friends in Eastern Virginia.

—Misses Clorie Henly and Annabelle Harris, of Greensboro, were week-end visitors in the home of Mrs. W. L. Smith recently.

—Mrs. Alma Wilson has left the village for points in Massachusetts where she will spend the summer. She will be joined after commencement by her daughter, Miss Florence who is now occupied here as directress of the music department.

—Baptist Witness, Fla.: "The church does not exist for her own sake; she is simply a working organization to create the Christian life in individuals and the Kingdom of God in human society."

SPRING RECITALS.

MUSIC AND EXPRESSION DEPARTMENTS REPRESENTED IN EXCELLENT PROGRAMS.

Poetry and song have been furnished in abundance to Elon College audiences recently. On Saturday evening, May 10th, those who are to receive Certificates in Music the coming commencement appeared and all did well. Tuesday, the two candidates for diplomas in the music department appeared and both Miss Pritchette and Mr. Barnes did credit to themselves and the department which they represented. Wednesday evening was given over to the Expression Department in order that students who are to receive certificates in that work might have opportunity to appear in public. So with it all we have had recently three most excellent and enjoyable evenings.

CERTIFICATE RECITAL. MUSIC.

Miss Florence Wilson, Director of Music at Elon College, upon Saturday evening presented in a recital six young ladies, candidates for Certificates.

Miss Annie Bagwell, of Durham, N. C.; Miss Pearle Fogleman, Burlington, N. C.; Miss Hattie Belle Smith, Elon College; Miss Minnie Riedel, Holland, Virginia; Miss Ethel Barrett, Dayton, Ohio.

The program was well selected and the piano numbers showed unusually good technique for pupils of this grade. The Chopin, Rachmaninoff, Prudent and Liszt numbers deserved special mention. Miss Bagwell was good in the operatic selections and Miss Fogleman in the song cycle. Miss Wilson's effective accompanying is always an enjoyable feature of these recitals. Following is the program:

Barnes—Scherzo
Godard—Pan, piano solo, Miss Smith
Rachmaninoff—Polichinelle, piano solo, Miss Riedel
MacDowell—Thy Beaming Eyes, The Swan Bent Low, To a Wild Rose
Lang—An Irish Mother's Lullaby, soprano solo, Miss Bagwell
Godard—Berceuse "Jocelyn"
Bartlett—Prelude in C Minor, piano solo, (The approaching storm), Miss Mason
Verdi—Volta la Terrea Fronte alle Stella, Saper Vorresta
Donizetti—Par che mi Dica Ancora, soprano Aria, Miss Fogleman
Wagner-Bendel—Prize Song, "Die Meistersinger," piano solo, Miss Barrett
Chopin—Valse Op. 64 No. 1, Valse Op. 18, piano solo, Miss Smith
Thomas—Dost Thou Know, "Mignon"
St. Saens—My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice—"Samson and Delilah", soprano solo, Miss Bagwell
Barnes—Les Santarelles
Mason—Spring Dawn, piano solo, Miss Riedel
Prudent—Reveil des Fees, piano solo, Miss Mason
Ashford—"Love's Dial," The Dawn, It is Spring, One Perfect Day, My Thought of You, soprano solo, Miss Fogleman

Liszt—Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 2, piano solo, Miss Barrett

The diploma recital will occur Tuesday evening in which Mr. Barnes is soloist and Miss Pritchette is pianist.

GRADUATION RECITAL. MUSIC.

Tuesday evening, Mr. Orlando Barnes, of Greensboro, N. C., baritone, and Miss Maibelle Pritchette, of Altamahaw, N. C., gave to their audience a short but good program. Mr. Barnes who has a rich heavy voice naturally showed marked improvement since his last public appearance here. Having broken into semi-professional company in his home city, he will thus be enabled to get the necessary practice. With proper effort and exertion Mr. Barnes ought with the instruction he has had make a singer of no mean reputation. His best appeal for the evening lay in "Chocorua's Reverie" by Leavitt. Miss Pritchette who is a hard worker and faithful in her practice gave excellent account of herself. She opened well with "The Lark" by Glinka-Balakirew and closed with "The Star" by Hoffman. and though several numbers were excellent with an evident evenness, it is probably to this last that she owes her chief success of the occasion.

Both pianist and vocalist did well and show evidence of careful training.

Mr. Barnes was aided very materially in making his impression by the sympathetic and effective accompanying of Miss Wilson.

Program:

Glinka-Balakirew—The Lark
Wagner—O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star, "Tannhauser"
Chaminade—O'er the Fresh Green Fields
Freer—The Old Boatman
MacDowell—Barcarolle
Friml—Reveil du Printemps
Leavitt—Chocorua's Reverie, and Curse Pronounced by the Dying Chief of the Sokosis Indians upon the White Man
Hoffman—Valse-Caprice Op. 9

CERTIFICATE RECITAL. EXPRESSION.

On Wednesday evening the scene was changed somewhat from music and song to poetry and prose. Miss Clements, through her pupils, gave evidence of good work. The program contained much that was heavy and all was worth while, thus showing that the art was not necessarily confined to negro stories, "Bridget" escapes, and childish whimperings. The whole program was of a high order and well presented. Miss Frazier, while a little restless in her first number, ere long settled down to good work and especially did she well in her second appearance. Miss Fleming was plainly at her best in the scene from Romeo and Juliet while

Miss Williams may lay the strength of her appeal to her first number.

All did well for which the department and Miss Clements might well feel proud.

The program:

Iscariot (Mather), Miss Frazier
Potion scene from Romeo and Juliet (Shakespeare), Miss Fleming
Act IV., Scene II., Leah (Daly), Miss Williams
The Sisters (Whittier), Miss Frazier
The Golden Milestone (Longfellow)
The Honey Suckle (Arthur Macy), Miss Williams
Monologue—In Grandma's Chest (Elsie McCollum), Miss Fleming
Pantomime—The Telegram, Misses Frazier, Fleming and Williams

WEDDING AT ELON.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home at the Rev. L. I. Cox, Elon College, N. C., on Wednesday night, May 14, when Miss Myrtle Cates became the bride of Mr. Less W. Cates; the attendants were Miss Myrtle Perry and Mr. Will Mann, and Miss Mary Perry, and Mr. Ray Moser. These young people came from Graham, N. C., on carriage, reaching the home of the wedding scene at 7:30 o'clock, they were first escorted into the study of Mr. Cox, and from there they marched into the beautiful parlor where the ceremony was performed by this writer.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Cates, and is one of Alamance's most prosperous young men. The bride is the beautiful and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Cates.

Immediately after the happy couple left for Graham where they were greeted by a host of friends and showers of congratulations. These young people start upon life's journey together under favorable circumstances, and we wish for them a career of peace, joy, and supreme happiness.

J. F. Morgan.

ONE ON THE EDITOR.

While the farewell speeches and good-nights were being said, after a most splendid evening spent with the seniors at the home of Pres. and Mrs. Harper, one of the young men desired to make a good impression on the mother of one of Elon's charming young ladies. He thought the best way to do this would be to say something very cute: so wished her "a merry Christmas." The lady, who is none other than Mrs. J. O. Atkinson and is very quick at repartee, said "April Fool."

If you have any desire to know more about this just ask Mr. R. A. Campbell.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

Our publication year is drawing to a close and we are anxious to have on hand sufficient money to pay off all indebtedness the first week in June. If you are due us for your subscription, send it along. Thanks.

Bus. Manager.