

Maroon and Gold

VOLUME III.

ELON COLLEGE, N. C., APRIL 28, 1922

NUMBER 33

DR. COPE TO SPEAK AT ELON COMMENCEMENT

Well Known Writer on Religious Education to Deliver the Literary Address

It has been announced that Dr. Henry F. Cope will deliver the literary address at the Elon Commencement. Dr. Cope is well known to many of the students through his books, which have been used during the year by classes in religious education. His coming will be looked forward to with much interest.

Dr. Cope is well known by those interested in the Sunday school and religious education, and is the author of many books on those subjects. He is a man of wide reputation, and Elon enjoys a rare privilege in securing him for the literary address. He is at present serving as general secretary of the Religious Education Association, and is also editor of "Religious Education." His subject has not been announced, but he will doubtless bring to those who hear him a message of deep thought and progressive suggestion.

The Elon Commencement speaker was born in London, England, June 17, 1870. He was educated in the elemen-

(Continued on Page 3)

DRAMATIC CLUB MEETS WITH MISS LAWRENCE

Shakespearean Tragedy With a Little Modern Humor Makes Spicy Program for Girls

The Ophelia Dramatic Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Lawrence, with Misses Mary Graham Lawrence, Nannie D. Reitzel and Nannie Aldridge as hostesses for the evening. The parlors were decorated in pink roses and honeysuckle.

When the crowd had assembled, the roll was called and each girl responded to her name with a quotation from Shakespeare. It may be said that this was somewhat of a Shakespearean program, as Miss Hawk gave the "Potion Scene" from Romeo and Juliet and the "Mad Scene" from Hamlet. These were well read and realistically interpreted. The members of the club are always glad to have Miss Hawk read.

After much discussion the members decided to take quotations from Longfellow for answering the roll call at the next meeting.

Miss Agnes Whitt gave as the first number, "The Punishment of Robert." This is an amusing piece in which a father tried to punish his little son for a misdemeanor by standing in the corner himself until the child should feel sorry enough to say so. While the father stood patiently in the corner for the moral effect the son crept out and went to a neighbor's to play. Several hours later Robert's mother came in and thought that her husband was insane. Just when the man realized the failure of his method Robert appeared with a troop of his playmates to prove to them that he could make his father stand in the corner.

Miss Margaret Smith gave "A Patron of Art." This was also a humorous selection. Miss Smith impersonated a society woman at an art exhibit. This woman was anxious to appear as a patron of real art and she knew nothing about it. She overheard someone say that a certain picture had a good atmosphere and a wonderful col-

(Continued on page 2)

MAROON AND GOLD WINS ONE GAME FROM V. P. I.

Second Game Ends in Tie After Eleven Innings—Allston Makes Record Hit

Elon had little difficulty in overcoming a three-run lead and defeating V. P. I. here Thursday afternoon by a score of 6 to 4.

For the first five innings V. P. I. had things her way, securing five hits off Perry's delivery, which coupled with three errors, netted them three runs. In the sixth frame, however, Elon connected with Morton's twisters, and three three-base hits in succession by Flynn, Johnson and Clark sent Morton from the mound for the Virginians and netted Elon her first two runs.

From this inning, with Harvey pitching for the visitors, Elon held sway, securing two more runs in each of the seventh and eighth innings.

Allston of Elon came through with the longest hit of the season on the home grounds, his hit over left field going for a clean home run.

Perry, pitching for Elon, held the V. P. I. players to six hits, while Elon secured nine off the V. P. I. mounds-men, four of which went for three bases or more.

The box score:

ELON—	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Patton, ss.	4	0	1	0	3	0
Flynn, rf.	3	1	1	1	0	1
Johnson, 2b.	4	1	1	0	2	0
Clark, cf.	4	0	1	2	1	0
Marlette, 1b.	4	1	1	16	1	0
Newman, 3b.	3	0	1	1	4	1
Allston, lf.	4	1	2	0	0	1
Underwood, c.	4	1	1	5	3	0
Perry, p.	3	1	0	0	3	1
Kirkland, lf.	0	0	0	0	0	0
x-Cheek	1	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	6	9	25	17	4

x-Batted for Flynn in 7th.

V. P. I.—

AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Finks, 3b.	4	1	1	0	1	0
Carroll, lf.	4	2	1	2	0	0
Dean, 1b.	4	0	2	14	1	0
Slemp, c.	4	0	0	5	0	0
Morton, p.	4	1	2	0	3	0
Rutherford, ss.	3	0	0	1	1	1
Myrick, rf.	3	0	0	0	0	0
Wallace, cf.	4	0	0	4	0	0
Thomas, 2b.	3	0	0	1	1	0
Harvey, p.	1	0	0	0	0	0
Gettle, 2b.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	4	6	27	7	1

Score by innings: R. H. E.
V. P. I. 101 010 001—4 6 1
Elon 000 002 22x—6 9 4
(Continued on Page 3)

I. O. HAUSER TO SPEAK AT EDUCATIONAL RALLY

To Speak on the Sunday School as an Educational Factor—Rally April 30

Mr. I. O. Hauser is scheduled to speak before an educational rally of the Forsythe County district of the Methodist Protestant church next Sunday. The rally is being held largely in the interest of the new M. P. College at High Point, but it will include addresses on various phases of education which should be undertaken by the church.

The meeting will be held at Pleasant Hill church some miles north of Winston-Salem, and will include four circuits of that district. Mr. Hauser is well known for his deep thought and

(Continued on page 4)

SIX SPEAKERS CHOSEN FOR COMMENCEMENT

Misses Rich, Miller and Corbitt, Messrs. Self, Rainey and Clem Winners

The Senior contest for Commencement representatives closed last Monday morning. The contest had been going on for four days, and thirty-five Seniors had participated in the race for a place on the Commencement program.

At the chapel service on last Tuesday morning those who had been selected by the judges for a place on the program were announced. The students had already been making surmises as to who would represent the class, and when the announcement of the speakers was made, but little surprise was manifested.

Miss Eunice Rich, "Some Gordian Knots of Today;" Miss Mary Miller, "The 'Our Father';" Miss Margaret Corbitt, "Butterflies at Sea;" H. G. Self, "From Slavery to Democracy;" R. S. Rainey, "A Great Heart," and W. M. Clem, "More Than Conquerors"—these speakers were selected as representatives of the Senior class at the coming Commencement, and will speak

(Continued on page 4)

LENOIR LOSES TO ELON IN FIRST TENNIS MEET

Davidson Wins From Elon—The First Intercollegiate Matches of the Season

The varsity tennis team made its first trip of the season last Thursday. Captain Surratt led his racquet squad against the Lenoir team on Friday at Lenoir College.

On Saturday the team met the Davidson players in a contest at Davidson. This series of matches was the first of the season and offered Captain Surratt an opportunity to test the merit of his men.

Surratt and "Nat" Newman played the doubles against Carpenter and Rhyne of Lenoir. The sets were fast and hard fought, but Lenoir emerged with a score of 6-4, 7-5. After losing the doubles Elon came back strong in the singles and won all three matches. Surratt won from Carpenter, 6-0, 6-4, 6-0. Atkinson won from Smiley, 6-2, 6-2. Newman, after a hard fight, won over Rhyne, 5-7, 9-7, 9-7.

Saturday's match ended with a different tune for the Elon team. Davidson, having one of the best teams in the state, won from Maroon and Gold by a decided score in each set. The Elon team put up a good fight and the game was not won as easily as the score would indicate.

At Davidson Bradley and Ormond won the doubles from Atkinson and Newman, 6-2, 6-3. The singles: Cunningham from Surratt, 6-0, 6-3; Bradley from Newman, 6-0, 6-2; Ormond from Atkinson, 6-1, 6-2.

Both Lenoir and Davidson honored the visiting teams with receptions and the troupe reports a delightful trip to the domain of the Lutherans and Presbyterians.

The eating of sauerkraut tends to the prolongation of human life, according to some medical scientists.

The first five Presidents and the first five Vice Presidents of the United States had no middle names.

HELMS WINS ORATOR'S MEDAL IN CLIO CONTEST

Clem and Brady Awarded Second and Third Places—Seven Contestants

Following up the series of Senior orations recently delivered in the College Chapel, orators from the Clio hall made the walls of the auditorium ring again with eloquence when the annual oratorical contest of the Clio Literary Society was held last Monday evening.

Seven contestants were entered and speeches ranging from the sublime and beautiful to the witty and the comical characterized the contest.

Roy Helms, a member of the Junior class, speaking on the subject of "The New Day," distinguished himself as an orator of exceptional ability when he was awarded first place by a unanimous decision of the judges over six worthy opponents. Mr. W. M. Clem, speaking on the subject, "Man to Man," was awarded second honor, and Mr. E. C. Brady on "What the Flag Means" received third place.

In speaking on the subject entitled, "The New Day," Mr. Helms showed a depth of thought, a skill in phraseology and an eloquence in speech that held his audience intensely interested from beginning to end. In discussing the new day, Mr. Helms pointed out the many great changes that have taken place in the lives of the American people since the World war. He told of the rapid advancement of the United States from economic, social and moral standpoints over other nations and spoke of the foundation for world peace laid by the great American President who gave the very best of mind and body for the great cause of world brotherhood and friendship.

Mr. W. M. Clem, the winner of second honor, spoke on the subject, "Man to Man." While lacking in the grace and ease of style that characterized the winning speaker, yet he delivered an oration that was dynamic, eloquent and inspiring. His speech was one that would appeal to any audience of serious-minded, deep thinking men and women.

The winner of third place, Mr. E. C. Brady, gave a highly patriotic speech on "What the Flag Means." He pleaded for a keener appreciation and love for the Red, White and Blue, and emphasized the fact that the flag was not a piece of bunting without meaning but that every color and every thread in it is emblematic of something noble

(Continued on page 4)

DR. YOUNG SPEAKS IN COLLEGE AUDITORIUM

Delivers Address Under Auspices of Anti-Saloon League of America

Last Friday morning the student body and town people were privileged to hear a short lecture by Dr. George W. Young. "A World Crisis—the Duty of the Hour," was the subject of Dr. Young's lecture. The "Silver-Tongued Orator of Kentucky," as Dr. Young is known, made a strong appeal for self-government and law enforcement.

He said that the fundamental facts which determine a people's power of self-government are, first, the ability to make their own laws, and second, having made these laws, to enforce them. America is the first experiment in democracy that the world has had for 2,000 years. And now that we have

(Continued on Page 2)

R. O. SMITH WINS SECOND PLACE IN PEACE CONTEST

Speaking on "World Harmony" Elon Student Wins Place in State Contest

At the intercollegiate peace contest held in Burlington last Friday night, R. O. Smith carried off the second place for Elon. Mr. Smith spoke on "World Harmony."

The first place of the contest went to Wake Forest, and the third place to Trinity. The peace contest is an annual intercollegiate event, and has for its purpose the promotion of peace. Professor Blair, of Guilford College, who is at the head of this work in North Carolina, believes that it is a means to set college men to thinking along lines of peace. It succeeds in stimulating the people of the various cities in which the contest is held to think of peace, and in their thinking to make an effort toward its achievement.

Three prizes are awarded to the winners of the contest. Seventy-five dollars goes to the one winning first place, fifty dollars to the second, and twenty-five to the third. This makes the contest one of the interesting features

(Continued on page 4)

COLLEGE EDITORS GUESTS OF WAKE FOREST PAPERS

Miss Alice Lowe Chosen President—Bureau of Criticism Established

The North Carolina Collegiate Press Association was the guest of the Wake Forest Student and Old Gold and Black last Friday and Saturday. The staff of "Old Gold and Black" and that of "The Student" were untiring in their efforts to make it pleasant for the visiting representatives of the other college papers of the state.

Mr. O. J. Coffin of the "Raleigh Evening Times" spoke at the opening meeting of the association. He discussed practical journalism, and told what constituted news, and how to get it. He believes that college publications can be made a great power in the thought-shaping of the college students, and through them the thought and history of the state and nation. Mr. Coffin seemed very much interested in the work of the association, and his suggestions were those of a constructive thinker.

Following the address of Mr. Coffin the delegates were the guests of "The Wake Forest Student" at an informal reception. Refreshments were served and an opportunity for getting acquainted was afforded to those present.

It was at the morning session Saturday that the real work of the meeting was accomplished. Dr. W. L. Potat opened the morning session with an address on college journalism. He dealt with it as a powerful agency for good or bad, and warned the editors to be careful of the material published in their columns. He spoke especially of jokes and emphasized the various ways of leaving false impressions.

Dr. Potat was followed by E. L. Foke, a former editor of "Old Gold and Black," who is now connected with a New Jersey daily. He dealt largely with headlines and leaders, paying particular attention to what news is and how to recognize the news when it occurs. Mr. Foke took the

(Continued on page 2)