RACE PROBLEMS CLASS VISITS SEDALIA SUNDAY

Faculty and Students of Colored School
Welcome Elon Students to Institution.

The class in Race Problems, taught by Dean A. L. Hook, had a very enjoyable and profitable experience last Sunday morning. Dean Hook certainly can arouse interest in his class as was proven by the enthusiasm shown when he suggested this experience, a visit to the school for the colored race of this section. It is located at Sedalia.

When the party arrived the students there were concluding their Sunday school program. Mrs. Charlotte H. Brown graciously received the visitors and conducted them to the auditorium where the Sunday school was in session. Upon the request of Mrs. Brown, who is principal of the school, the students kindly responded with some of their spirituals. "Follow the Gleam" was one selection and needless to say, it was indeed beautiful. Also some selections were rendered by a male quartette and every one marveled at the mellow blending of the harmonious voices. No sweeter, richer melody has ever been discovered than that innate in the voice of the Negro. The melodious quality in it surpasses that of any other race.

After the Sunday school was over, Prof. Scott and Mrs. Brown conducted the visiting class through the new commodious main building for the purpose of observing the everyday conditions of their school life. It is a beautiful building and everywhere throughout the place, it was spotlessly clean. These young people seem to take pride, and it is well-founded, in taking excellent care of their school buildings.

This school has been handicapped by a fire which destroyed one dormitory early this winter. But Mrs. Brown and her helpers are doing a wonderful work for their race. A visit to such a school is inspirational and such kind and courteous treatment makes a visitor desire to go again.

DR. HELFENSTEIN TELLS OF HOME MISSION WORK

Y. W. Meeting Featured by Story of Personal Experiences in South Dakota.

A World Fellowship meeting of Y. W. C. A. was held last Sunday evening, with Miss Nonnie Bailey as leader. World Fellowship meetings are held only three or four times each year, and they are always a source of great interest and inspiration to those who are present at and take active part in the meeting. The meeting last Sunday evening was not an exception.

The meeting was opened with songs, "He Leadeth Me" and "Faith of Our Fathers," after which there was a chain of beautiful and earnest sentence prayers, with Miss Bailey leading and Miss Gunter closing the prayer. After Miss Bailey had made a short talk on the evening's topic, Dr. Helfenstein was presented as speaker for the evening.

Dr. Helfenstein spoke of the opportunity for home mission work in some of the states of the Middle West, and of the home mission work which she herself had done in a certain part of South Dakota. Dr. Helfenstein had gone there twelve years ago to take up a claim. Finding no church in the community, she and a friend of hers who was a minister decided to give the people of the neighborhood the advantage of a church. They were to hold preaching services twice each month and Sunday school every Sunday, the friend having charge of the preaching services and Dr. Helfenstein conducting the Sunday school. The plan was a success. The attendance at church and Sunday school was large, considering the scattered population. Whenever a picnic or a Christmas tree was given large crowds attended. The people showed that they were willing and eager to enter into the work of the Master if only they had someone to guide and direct them.

Dr. Helfenstein closed her talk by telling of the needs of the people in such districts of some one to lead in the religious work, and requesting that no one who may sometime spend months or years in places of that kind fail to make use of the great opportunity which will be his or hers.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Miss Mamie Sockwell.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET

ies told by Dr. W. A. Harper, T. C. Amick, E. B. Corboy, N. F. Brannock, A. L. Hook, J. V. Dabbs, and L. J. Bray. For the Boy Scouts, Dan Wicker, Phalti Lawrence, and Henry Peel told of the history, work, and benefits derived from the organization.

Former Scoutmaster Hornaday made an address, which was followed by one from the present Scoutmaster, R. S. Rainey, who has lately taken over the direction of the Elon troop. At this time a cake made by Mrs. J. D. Oldham and presented to the boys on their birthday occasion was cut. On the top of this cake were the initials "J. D." in honor of the memory of J. D. Oldham, Jr., a former member of the scout troop, who has passed to his reward.

The banquet closed by the repeating of the scout law and oath in unison followed by the scout yell.

CONCERT BY MIROVITCH IS LAST LYCEUM NUMBER

this number, and well they might be, for one rarely hears it done so well.

The program closed with the brilliant "Rhapsody No. 11," by Liszt. Some marvelous effects were produced in this number. Mr. Mirovitch's knowledge and use of the pedal is wide. He understands it thoroughly and always uses it to heighten the effect.
