Noel C. St. John led the round table discussion of the subject: "The First Big Question," by Miss Eula Lincoln.

This question is whether or not one should try to serve others. Great political, industrial, educational, and social questions will be met. Concentrated knowledge is always better than concentrated ignorance; there is no such thing as a misfit in the service of God. The fact was emphasized throughout the program that service is the keynote of Y. W. C. A. service. Serve God, and you will live your life under Him.

Service Is Keynote of Y. W. C. A. Meeting

Meeting led by Misses Beckwell and Senior. Topic for discussion was: "What Shall I Do?"

The Y. W. C. A. program on Sunday afternoon was unusually successful. It was held in the reception hall of West Dormitory, with Misses Miss Beckwell and Alice Smith as leaders. The topic discussed was: "What Shall I Do?"

The first number on the program was a discussion of the subject, "The First Big Question," by Miss Rosa L. Lynch. This question is whether one should take a stand for or against God, and the answer determines how the other issues of life will be met. Following this, "The Second Big Question" was discussed by Miss Ruth Guinness. This question is: "What be the Serio God?," and in difficult to answer since one has to choose from a large number of colleges. A solitaire is the secret recipe for unappetizing. A discussion on the subject, "A Hart of the Modern," was given by Miss Rose Full bloom. The hard problem is the choice of a life's work. There is no much to learn about any subject that specialization often begins too early, and par

Senior Class said.

Many were the kind things said of Miss Jennie Gunter, who broke up after each girl had resolved for list. Miss Jennie Gunter led the group in a round table discussion of the subject, "The First Big Question," by Miss Eula Lincoln. This question is whether or not one should try to serve others. Great political, industrial, educational, and social questions will be met. Concentrated knowledge is always better than concentrated ignorance; there is no such thing as a misfit in the service of God. The fact was emphasized throughout the program that service is the keynote of Y. W. C. A. service. Serve God, and you will live your life under Him.

Service Is Keynote of Y. W. C. A. Meeting

Meeting led by Misses Beckwell and Senior. Topic for discussion was: "What Shall I Do?"

The Y. W. C. A. program on Sunday afternoon was unusually successful. It was held in the reception hall of West Dormitory, with Misses Miss Beckwell and Alice Smith as leaders. The topic discussed was: "What Shall I Do?"

The first number on the program was a discussion of the subject, "The First Big Question," by Miss Rosa L. Lynch. This question is whether one should take a stand for or against God, and the answer determines how the other issues of life will be met. Following this, "The Second Big Question" was discussed by Miss Ruth Guinness. This question is: "What be the Serio God?," and in difficult to answer since one has to choose from a large number of colleges. A solitaire is the secret recipe for unappetizing. A discussion on the subject, "A Hart of the Modern," was given by Miss Rose Full bloom. The hard problem is the choice of a life's work. There is no much to learn about any subject that specialization often begins too early, and par

Senior Class said.

Many were the kind things said of Miss Jennie Gunter, who broke up after each girl had resolved for list. Miss Jennie Gunter led the group in a round table discussion of the subject, "The First Big Question," by Miss Eula Lincoln. This question is whether or not one should try to serve others. Great political, industrial, educational, and social questions will be met. Concentrated knowledge is always better than concentrated ignorance; there is no such thing as a misfit in the service of God. The fact was emphasized throughout the program that service is the keynote of Y. W. C. A. service. Serve God, and you will live your life under Him.