

'Y' AND SENATE CABINETS GUESTS OF YOUNG WOMEN

Dean Savage is Guest of Honor—Informal Evening Proves a Most Delightful One.

The reception hall of West Dormitory was a scene of much merriment and joy last Thursday evening, when the cabinets of Y. W. C. A. and of the Student Council were hostesses to the cabinets of the Y. M. C. A. and the Student Senate. The guest of honor was Miss Louise Savage, dean of women.

The room was prettily decorated with fall flowers. Piano music was furnished by Miss Frankye Marshall while the hostesses, together with their guests, assembled. Miss Della Cotten sang, in a most pleasing manner, "Toy Shop Heroes," and, as an encore, "My Laddie." Miss Mary Lee Foster accompanied her on the piano. Banana and pimento sandwiches, with punch, were served by the social committee of Y. W. C. A.

During the evening old-fashioned games were played. These tended greatly to increase the home-like atmosphere of the party, and, of course, added much to the fun. The party was purely an informal one, and those in charge succeeded in making it a pleasurable and highly enjoyable one.

Those present were: Misses Louise Savage, Frankye Marshall, Essie Cotten, Della Cotten, Sarah Carter, Kate Strader, Mary Lee Foster, Jennie Gunter, Margaret Joe Ballentine, Ruth Crawford, Mamie Sockwell, Marjorie Burton, Ruby Rowland, Alice Weber, Victoria Adams, Bessie Martin, Nettie Harris, Myrtle Somers, Margaret Terry, Lucy Austin, Annie Mac Lackey, Lillian Harrell; and Messrs. Frank Allston, Milton Wicker, S. H. Abell, Mark McAdams, John Smith, P. D. Rudd, W. L. McLeod, A. L. Combs, J. R. Bennett, C. W. Hook, M. L. Patrick, J. R. Barker, W. T. Scott, R. H. Gunn, Clyde Gordon, M. G. Stanley, J. D. Barber, C. H. Thomas, and E. E. Smotherly.

PSIPHILIANS PRESENT EXCELLENT PROGRAM

Thanksgiving Spirit Pervades Meeting; Many Interesting Numbers on Program—Miss Dunn Mentioned.

The Thanksgiving program rendered by the Phipps Society was one especially interesting. Thanksgiving was discussed from several angles. Miss Nannie Sue Dunn was given special mention on the historical and religious phase of the subject. Miss Lawrence, in her humorous reading, brought the real spirit of Thanksgiving among our neighbors. Miss Homewood's story of our pilgrim fathers, gave every one a feeling both of reverence and patriotism.

The program was as follows: "Why we have Thanksgiving," Nannie Sue Dunn.

Reading on Thanksgiving, Mary Graham Lawrence.

Story of Plymouth Colony, Louise Homewood.

Thanksgiving Story, Louise Caston.
Thanksgiving Pageant, Sallie Mae Oliver, Ola King Cowing, and Grace Brewer.

Miss Margaret Corbett had as her guests for the week-end Misses Hattie Cross and Jennie Conley from Greensboro College, Greensboro, N. C.

Miss Margaret Young, of Durham, N. C., spent last Wednesday here with her sister, Miss Foye Young.

Miss Annie Simpson spent the week-end at her home in Greensboro, N. C.

Dr. Wicker Delivers Illustrated Lecture

GIVEN IN NEW SOCIETY HALL

Moving Pictures Used to Show Great Work of Masonic Order—Lecture Entertaining and Helpful.

A very delightful treat was enjoyed Monday evening when Rev. W. C. Wicker very interestingly entertained the students with an illustrated lecture. Moving pictures were used to make clear a subject which was very beneficial to the students.

The value to society of men who strive to achieve through honest endeavor and general agreeableness was emphasized.

In the picture the man who accomplished hard tasks with cheerfulness was advanced very rapidly, whereas his friend who believed the world owed him a living without any sacrifice or extra effort on his part, finally became a worthless, trouble-maker and menace to society.

The man, who had a different attitude, was admitted to the masonic fraternity because of his excellent character, but his friend was refused.

Throughout the picture emphasis was laid on the high standards of the masonic order. Rev. Mr. Wicker is now engaged in Masonic work and his lectures are very much appreciated by the students for their entertainment as well as for their instructive quality. Entertainment which is very necessary to every one is made to secure a double purpose if it is instructive as well as entertaining.

CHRISTMAS SEALS A HEALTH BAROMETER

In looking over the health activities of the various counties and cities of North Carolina, it is interesting to find that the communities that are the most vigorous in fighting disease and promoting health within their boundaries are the ones that have the larger sales of Christmas seals. These little health stamps seem to have more than a fund raising value. They carry the Christmas spirit; they educate for health; they inspire to action.

The interest of the people in an active health program seems to be shown by the number of seals they buy. The larger the seal sale in a county, the more vigorous is the tuberculosis campaign that follows—not entirely because more funds are available, but because public interest has been aroused through a campaign that has reached every home.

It might fairly be said that the community that does not sell its quota of Christmas seals is below par in the scale of community health. It has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. The Christmas seal barometer indicates the health ahead and this is confirmed by the mortality and morbidity statistics which cannot be disputed.

Mrs. R. M. Rothgeb, our local chairman, tells us the seal sale will begin here on Thanksgiving day. Plans have been perfected for a large sale in our town and community, and we believe the people are going to purchase more Tuberculosis Christmas seals this year than ever before.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner and family, Miss Julia Griffith of Reidsville, N. C., spent Sunday afternoon here with Miss Frances Turner.

Miss Eulah Lincoln has as her guest Miss Lillian Adams, of Winston-Salem, N. C.

Misses Louise Homewood, Thelma May, and Fannie Glen Elder spent the week-end at their respective homes in Burlington, N. C.

Misses Myrtle Vickers and Eula Lincoln spent the week-end with Miss Lou Heritage at her home in Graham, N. C.

THANKSGIVING IS THE THEME OF Y. W. SUNDAY

Misses Cotten and Turner Are Leaders; Many Helpful Things Mentioned; Many Take Part.

The Y. W. C. A. held a very interesting Thanksgiving service on Sunday evening in the new Society Hall. Misses Frances Turner and Essie Cotten were leaders. Following the usual song service, Miss Mamie Sockwell read a Thanksgiving prayer.

Miss Della Cotten then sang very sweetly, "Only a Little Way."

After the song the meeting was thrown open for discussion of the subject, "Giving Thanks." Many of the girls took part, each girl mentioning at least one thing she had to be thankful for.

Some of the things mentioned were: The opportunity to get an education, the new buildings, Y. M. C. A., the Bible, health, Christian training, peace, music, the pilgrim fathers, those at home who are making it possible for us to come to school, talent, the humorous in life, love, friends, a free country, and a chance to express our thanks.

Miss Mary Graham Lawrence stated that we can be thankful in a negative as well as a positive way. While being thankful for our many blessings, we can be thankful for the griefs unshared, the tears unshed.

It was also brought out that giving thanks should be as much a part of religion as asking favours, and that we have so many blessings that we should never forget to express our gratitude.

Miss Turner read a Thanksgiving poem by Edgar A. Guest and Miss Cotten read one by Frances Morton.

CLIO SOCIETY GIVES AN INTERESTING PROGRAM

F. A. Rawles Reads Poem—A. L. Combs, G. R. Miller and W. M. Sexton Mentioned by Judges.

The Clio Literary Society had a very interesting program at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening.

F. A. Rawles presented as a reading Edgar A. Guest's poem, "Things Work Out." Mr. Rawles gave this poem with much feeling.

L. V. Watson presented some lively and up-to-the-minute current events which proved most interesting and instructive.

W. M. Sexton, on "What Thanksgiving Means," brought some interesting facts, highly conducive to a fuller significance of the real meaning of Thanksgiving.

W. L. McLeod contributed some information of worth relative to football activities in this and adjoining states in his topic "Football Dope For Thanksgiving."

The query, "That the peaceful annexation of Canada to the United States would be for the best interest of each," was argued well by both sides. D. W. Jones, Miller, and Dunn held up the affirmative, while Combs, Richardson, and Davis elevated the negative.

The judges decided in favor of the negative. A. L. Combs won the distinction of being the best speaker on the negative; G. R. Miller, on the affirmative; and W. M. Sexton won the oratorical honors of the evening.

Miss Doris McLean returned to school Monday, after having been at the bedside of her mother, who has been very sick at her home in Gibsonville since last Thursday.

F. C. Rainey left today to spend Thanksgiving with his people at his home in Littleton, N. C.

Miss Atkinson Weds Russell T. Bradford

CEREMONY AT DRIVER, VIRGINIA

Elon Young Woman Becomes Bride of Norfolk Attorney—Lovely Home Ceremony.

A beautiful marriage was solemnized Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when Miss Jennie Willis Atkinson became the bride of Russell Taliaferro Bradford, of Norfolk, Va.

The marriage took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Willis J. Lee, of Driver, Va., Miss Atkinson having been making her home with her aunt for the past two years.

The magnificent home, "Town Point," was a scene of beauty, an improvised altar banked with palms, ferns and twined with southern smilax with hundreds of white chrysanthemums and many white candles in stately candelabra cast a soft radiance over the background of white and green, where amid this scene of beauty the happy couple plighted their troth.

The music for the occasion was rendered by Mrs. V. G. Eberwine, pianist, and Miss Nina Oliver, violinist, "Schubert's Serenade," and "Love's Greeting" were played before the ceremony, the bridal party entered to the wedding march from Lohengrin, the "Venetian Love Song" was softly played during the beautiful ring ceremony, of the Christian church, which was spoken by the bride's father, Rev. Dr. J. O. Atkinson, of Elon College, Mendelssohn's was used after the ceremony.

William H. Jones and Oscar Atkinson, Jr., brother of the bride, were ushers. Miss Virginia Lee Tourtelotte, of Providence, R. I., and life-long friend of the bride, was brides-maid. The bride entered with her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Mary D. Atkinson. She was attractively dressed in a stone gray traveling suit, with trimmings of gray wolf, with hat and gloves to match. Her flowers were a shower corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Charles B. Godwin, Jr.

After the ceremony an informal reception was tendered the bridal party and guests, by Mrs. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Bradford left for a bridal trip north. They will be at home to their many friends at "Town Point," Driver, Va.

Mrs. Bradford is the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Atkinson, and is a talented and accomplished young lady, a graduate of Elon College, and also attended the Boston Conservatory of Music. She was reared at Elon College.

Mr. Bradford practices law at Norfolk. He, too, is a graduate of Elon College, the courtship having begun when they were college class-mates, being members of the same graduating class. He is also a graduate of the University of Virginia.

MISS KATE STRADER IS FOOTBALL SPONSOR

The 1923 foot ball team has chosen Miss Kate Strader, of Greensboro, N. C., as its sponsor.

The sponsor section of the Phipps is always a feature and it is an honor to any one to grace one of its pages.

Miss Strader has been honored by being chosen sponsor of the best football team Elon has ever produced, and the team is no less honored by having as its sponsor a young woman of such fine qualities.

Miss Strader is a popular member of the Junior Class and has done her part in encouraging the team this year in many ways.

THE FRENCH DISCUSSED BY PSYKALEONS LAST TUESDAY

Program Deals Entirely With French People—Misses Howell and Foster and Mrs. Cannon Mentioned.

The Psykaleon Literary Society gave a program Tuesday night that dealt entirely with the French people. The program brought out many interesting things concerning the French people that were helpful to the members of the society.

Many comparisons were made between the French and American people. Although France is an old nation and far behind the United States in many respects, there are many things that the people of America may yet learn from France.

The subjects discussed were as follows: "The Social Instinct of the French People"—Foye Young.

"Morality and Intelligence of the French"—Bessie Hudson.

"Sense and Sentiment Among the French"—Myrtle Somers.

"Manners in France"—Rose Howell.

"Art Instinct of the French"—Mary Lee Foster.

"The Provincial Spirit in France"—Violet McCullen.

"Democracy in France"—Frances Hook.

"New York After Paris"—Mrs. C. M. Cannon.

Misses Howell and Foster, and Mrs. Cannon received special mention for good work on the program.

FRESHMEN GIVE STUNT ON LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Present Negro Court Scene—Provokes Much Laughter—Social Hour Enjoyed by Students.

The Freshman class gave a stunt in the girls' gymnasium on Friday evening. This class was not organized when the other classes gave their stunts, so theirs was postponed until after organization.

The stunt took the form of a negro court scene. Several cases were tried. The first negro, who was tried, was accused of stealing Mrs. Lizzie's chickens, and the verdict of the jury was that he was either guilty or not guilty. A second negro was tried for fighting. The third case was a divorce case, the humor of which was increased by the prosecuting attorney, who was a woman.

The witnesses must have been descendants of Ananias, judging from the way they could lie. The members of the jury listened faithfully to the testimony when they were not asleep. The judge made a humorous presiding officer.

Social privileges were extended to all students during the stunt and afterward until the proctor jingled the little bell. Then every one retired from the gym, carrying the memory of several hearty laughs.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO HOLD BAZAAR SATURDAY

The young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Elon Christian church, will hold its annual bazaar on Saturday, December 8th, from 1:00 to 7:30 p. m., in the old Y. C. C. Hall. All kinds of fancy work and home-made pies, cakes, candy, sandwiches, and chocolate will be sale.

Come and buy your Christmas presents and get a good feed. You will enjoy of a cup of chocolate and a slice of good ol' chocolate cake while you converse with your friends.
