JAKE BLAKE SAYS:

A bachelor is one who has received his education by proxy.

The new staff has recovered from its stage fright.

The prize optimist is the man who placed "Keep off the grass" signs at places on the campus where the grass has not made its appearance.

Several, in fact, quite a few, have sent in their two dollars, but there are many who have let that little matter slip their mind. Two "bones" will give you the news of your Alma Mater for another year. Send it in today!

DON'T POSTPONE

There are only about six more weeks of school this year. How many students are putting off their work, saying that it can be done tomorrow? Without doubt there are a great many who are doing this very thing. Why not start getting up that book report, paper, oration, or lab. work now and not have to labor so hard the last few days before exams? The work that is carefully planned out and written in best form possible will certainly get one a better grade than one written the night before it is due. Hurried preparation availeth nothing. It is hard to work when the great outdoors calls, but try the old proverb, "Do not put off until tomorrow." It will not be easy to follow, but when you have made it a habit, you will be thankful.

THE NEW CAMPUS

Our beautiful campus is really coming into being. For many months we have watched with anxious eyes the seemingly slow progress that was being made towards beautifying the campus. However, in the last few weeks great progress has been made, and one would hardly recognize the place. The entire campus has been plowed and leveled, grass sown and now that can be seen spreading a greenish tint over the earth. Shrubbery has arrived and been set out at different places on the campus and around the new buildings. The driveways are being completed as fast as possible. In a few days everything is supposed to be finished and then Elon will possess an entirely new campus. A place that will in a few months be a place of much beauty. We are proud of it, and especially the persons who have made it possible.

"SOM STU"

by
Som Stude

It seems that Senior-Sophomore day was quite a lively time on the Hill. Sophomores stepped out into a higher strata of society and Freshmen looked well that they stepped not on any forbidden soil. Some of the Seniors seemed to think that it was cowboy day, judging from their regalia. A good many wondered what the result would have been if "Sophs" Denton and Elder had put on overalls in addition to their farm shirts. That was no cause for wonder because they would merely have felt at home, like they looked.

Duke's Mixture proved a bit strong for our boys, but it certainly put them in good shape for taming the Wildcat. That was a great showing for the boys wasn't it? Of course it was hard to have to drop that game to Lenoir-Rhyne the next day, but still we couldn't afford to be downhearted about that. We will meet those friends again on the home lot and if history is a true recorder we distinctly remember having helped nip their state championship bud for them last year, on the same lot—without the new bleachers.

Speaking of bleachers, did you ever expect to see sure enough bleachers on Corner Field? You didn't. Well we did, but we expected to be watching our under studies, at least, from them the first time they were used.

Speaking of Senior-Sophomore day, what became of all of the Freshmen on that night. They all acted as if they expected the dormitories to burn. Now if they did, we don't appreciate their running off and not warning us about it. At any rate the buildings did not burn, nor did any other frightful affair take place, except of course it was All Fool's day. Maybe that accounts for the calm night we spent. There were other nights, though.

This month will finish up the work of the Boosters' Club of Elon College so far as the programs at high schools are concerned. They have three more high school engagements to fill, besides some activities at home after the high school dates are over.

The engagements scheduled away from home are as follows:

Tuesday, April 14th, Lexington High School, Lexington, N. C.

Tuesday, April 21st, Moncure High School, Moncure, N. C.

Wednesday, April 23rd, Reidsville High School, Reidsville, N. C.

For the past two weeks the Boosters' Club quartette and gym. team have been busy filling separate engagements. The quartette has sung at the opening exercises of the Burlington and High Point high schools, and has been splendidly received. The gym. team performed last week at the Burlington boys' "Go-to-College" social.

JAPANESE STUDENTS TURN THE OTHER CHEEK

On Riverside Drive, New York, near Columbia University, stands the International House where 1200 students from 69 countries live. Of these students 525 represent 53 countries. Living under one roof these students from all over the world participate in the most real sort of international education.

While some of the Japanese students, embittered and disheartened by the United States exclusion law withdrew from the house, others are turning the other cheek by staging three Japanese plays. With the proceeds of these plays they hope to establish a scholarship for an American student in a Japanese University.

Hostess: "Mr. Gordon, do have some more cream."

Mr. Gordon: "Well, if you insist, but just a mouthful."

Hostess: "Sara, bring in the churn."

ELON IS REPRESENTED WITH OTHER COLLEGES

On Friday of last week, F. L. Gibbs attended the "Go-to-College" social for boys at the Burlington High School as a representative of Elon College. There were three other colleges represented at this social, Guilford, who was represented in the person of Robert K. Marshall, Duke University, by S. W. Blake, Jr., and State College by Sam Wallis.

It is the plan of the Burlington High School to invite annually representatives from four colleges of the state to these socials. It has been the former plan to invite a representative from all the colleges, but this, it was found, took too much time.

The program of the evening, which was held in the High School auditorium, consisted of speeches from the college representatives and some stunts. The Burlington Hi boys staged a boxing contest, and F. K. Thomas, T. R. Ruston, and Julian Smith, three of the members of the Elon Boosters' Club Gym. Team, performed gym. stunts on the mats.

It is reported that a very enthusiastic reception was given at the school, for the college representatives, and a very evident interest in the High School boys for attendance at college this fall.

ELON FEATURE DEBATE ON COMPULSORY CHAPEL

the solo was enjoyed by all the members. Next an account of the Elon-Duke base ball game by Johnnie Lankford. Mr. Lankford stated that we lost by errors, not because Duke had the better team. He also gave a talk on the Lenoir and Davidson games. A. A. Greenwood then gave a talk on the "Resources of Halifax County, Virginia." He had an excellent speech. If we could only vouch for his veracity it is sure that we would all move to Halifax. Last, but not least, was the debate: Resolved that Chapel attendance should be compulsory at Elon College. Affirmative: Frank Alexander.

Mr. Alexander was alone, but he held up his side of the question and if his colleague had been there probably he would have won. He stated that the Alumni endorsed compulsory attendance, and that half our pleasure comes from chapel attendance. He also brought in our "Motto". First speaker on the negative, T. R. Ruston. He stated that compulsory attendance simply ruined our "Motto" and that "we should not be like driven cattle, but be a hero in the strife," that chapel attendance would be like Sunday school, and that forced religion was not real religion, that we could get better results by asking a friend to go to chapel rather than driving him. Next on the negative, F. D. Ballard. He defended the proposition that our country stands for "Democracy," and that there should not be a law compelling us to attend chapel, that we do not get any credit for chapel attendance, and that we love freedom in America. Without a doubt if the faculty could have heard this discussion they would not compel us to go. The debate was won by the negative. D. B. Harrell was voted best on entire program.
