CLIO PROGRAM IS MADE UP OF VARYING TOPICS

growth and development of a child into manhood is a process to which evolution was likened.

Mr. W. L. McLeod then entertained the society with a number of clever jokes and poems presented in an interesting manner.

A Study of Earthquakes was the topic treated of by Mr. D. W. Jones. The importance of a thorough knowledge of earthquake phenomena to all engineers and architects was stressed.

The next number was a solo on the Hawaiian steel guitar by Mr. P. B. Sawyer. Mr. Sawyer's solo was greatly enjoyed.

China's National Ideals was the subject of Mr. W. Williams' talk. Mr. Williams told of the present conditions in China and the need of a strong centralized government to bring about better conditions for the welfare of the Orient.

The concluding number of the program was a talk on Hondini. Mr. Synkler Dowdy described some of Hondini's characteristics as a scientist, business man, and scholar, as well as magician, and told of some of the facts which Hondini performed.

Mr. Synkler Dowdy was named by the judges as the best speaker on the program and the critic reported that the program as a whole was very good.

WASHINGTON PLANS
OFFICIAL FESTIVAL

A new movement is being sponsored by the Commissioners of the District of Columbia for the purpose of making Washington a leading musical center of the United States. In a statement by Cuno H. Rudolph chairman of the board, announcement is made of an intention to appoint a committee of 200 representative citizens to prepare a music festival to be held in Washington next May which shall compare favorably with any yet given elsewhere.

It is hoped to make the May Festival a permanent institution; and it is even suggested that from these experiments in a new realm for the municipal government, a National Conservatory of Music may be developed. Washington is full of musical talent, and the first festival might naturally be given by local musicians, although Mr. Rudolph states that eventually the musical talent of the country will be drawn upon to fill the programs.

In February, 1924, President Hopkins of Dartmouth invited a committee of undergraduates to study existing educational systems and make recommendations for the renovation of the Dartmouth Curriculum. The results were embodied in the penetrating, revolutionary Dartmouth Undergraduate Report which is appearing in serial form in The New Student magazine section.

And now the Dartmouth idea of student participation in education is being followed at the University of Syracuse. Chancellor Flint recently invited Senior and Junior men to make an extended survey of education at Syracuse. The survey will be thorough going and will extend over a long period of time.—The New Student.
