BOOSTERS' CLUB MAKES BIG HIT WITH PROGRAMS THROUGH EASTERN VIRGINIA

McNeill, Texas; Gordon Crymes, South Carolina; P. B. Sawyer, Virginia; Lindsay Johnson, Pennsylvania; T. R. Ruston, Delaware, and James L. Moore, Malcolm McLeod, Burnett Johnson, E. E. Kipka, Milton Wicker, M. G. Stanley, Perry Smith, Howard Hughes, Forrest Qualls, Edwin McPherson, F. L. Gibbs, and C. M. Cannon, North Carolina.

The Boosters' Club has one more engagement before the Christmas holidays, that being at Stokesdale on Friday of this week.

The members of the club left the college on Monday morning at 7:25 bound for South Norfolk. Three cars chartered from the taxi stand at Burlington were the means of travel throughout the week. Each car was decorated in the college colors and carried the Boosters' Club sign. The journey into Virginia was made by way of Littleton, Thelma, and Emporia. Stops were made on the way down at Henderson, Emporia (where the boys had dinner), and Suffolk, arriving at South Norfolk at 5:00 p. m. Rev. O. D. Poythress placed the boys in the homes there, and for the program that night the auditorium, which was rather small, was filled to overflowing. The boys remained at South Norfolk that night and conducted chapel services and gave a short program to the high school students the next morning.

From 10:00 until 3:00 the boys looked over the city of Norfolk and vicinity, leaving at 3:30 for Suffolk. At Suffolk Rev. H. S. Harcastle looked after the arrangements for entertainment. One thousand people saw the program that night.

An item of especial interest to the boys was a trip through the Planters Nut and Chocolate Company at Suffolk the next morning, special permission being granted for this tour of inspection upon the request of Mr. Harcastle. The boys never again expect to see so many peanuts and peanut candy at one place as they saw that morning.

Next a trip was made over to Cypress Chapel, about eight miles distant. Professor G. C. Mann, an Elon alumnus, there had dinner served the boys by the Domestic Science Department of his High School. Of the many enjoyable dinners the Boosters declared this to be one of the most pleasing. A program was given there at 2:00 and about 4:00 the Club moved on over to Holland where Gordon Holland, a former student of Elon, placed the boys in the homes for supper.

This was on Wednesday, and it was pouring rain all day. About 275 people braved the storm to hear the program at Holland that night. Chapel services were conducted by the boys next morning there and a short program given to all the school pupils at 9:00.

Franklin was reached by 10:30 that morning, and 10 minutes later a short advanced program was given to the high school students as an advertising feature. The boys had the afternoon free and took advantage of the lull in giving programs to get around the town a bit. That night an audience of 700 assembled to hear the program. Rev. F. C. Lester was in charge of the boys while they were at Franklin.

The following day, Friday, was the busiest of all. At 11:00 an hour program was given at Courtland, at 2:30 an hour and fifteen minutes program was given at Wakefield, and at 8:00 an hour and forty-five minutes program was given at Dendron. Rev. W. B. Fuller looked after entertainment that night for the fellows at Dendron.

On Saturday morning the boys moved over to Waverly and spent the day there, giving their final program that night to a packed house. Rev. H. E. Truitt arranged entertainment for the men in the Waverly homes.

Getting away from Waverly at 9:00 o'clock Sunday morning, the boys returned to Elon by way of Petersburg and Clarksville.

DELTA UPSILON KAPPA GIRLS ENJOY PARTIES

ham Rowland, Rosebud Kimball, Ruth Kimball, Julia Clem, Hannah Newman and Gwendolyn Patton.

Delta Upsilon Kappa entertained the old sisters returned to the Hill and a few other guests Saturday evening with a party. One of the girl's rooms was transformed into a wood scene. There were pine trees around the room while the floor was entirely covered with autumn leaves. From a window in the corner of the room the full moon shone down on the gay party. Music and readings made the evening very enjoyable.

Delicious refreshments consisted of pimento salad, with pimento cheese, raisin and nut sandwiches. A large decorated basket overflowing with oranges, apples, raisins and nuts was passed around. In addition to club members and alumnae sisters those present were: Misses Florence White-lock, Belle Wicker, Mary Ethel Strader, Birdie Rowland, and Marion Nalle.

BETTER CLASS PICTURES SCHEDULED FOR FUTURE

Their's clever adaptation, the picturized version of Harry Leon Wilson's story, 'Oh, Doctor!' has been turned into a wonderfully funny comedy, which caused many an ejaculation of delight in the Picadilly yesterday afternoon."

The leading parts are played by Reginald Denny, and Mary Astor, of whom the Times says respectively, "Reginald Denny, with longish hair and a pair of tortoise-shell spectacles, is excellent as Rufus Billips, Jr., the young hypochondriac. In the more hilarious sections of this story he restrains himself just sufficiently, and makes the added Chapter of this production just as laughable and as stirring as parts of Harold Lloyd's 'Safety Last.'" The role of Dolores Hicks calls for a pretty, as well as an efficient player, and nobody could have filled it better than does Mary Astor, who has never looked as charming as she does in a nurse's costume in this comedy."

Other players include Otis Harlan, William V. Mong, Tom Ricketts, Lucille Ward, Mike Donlin, Clarence Geldert, Blanche Rayson, George Kuwa, Martha Mattox and Helen Lynch.

A farmer once carried some products to Raleigh and sold them. He said, "I will surprise my wife." He went to the nearest store and bought a suit of clothes, a hat, a pair of shoes and put them under the seat. On his way home he stopped at the river and took off his old clothes, threw them in the river and told them good-bye. He looked under the seat to get his new clothes, they were gone. He got in the buggy and said, "Get up Maude, we'll go surprise her anyhow."
