PHILOLOGIANS FINISH PROGRAM REGARDLESS OF DARKNESS

Tuesday evening, September 20, the Philologian Literary Society held its second regular meeting of the year and rendered its first formal program. Practically every member was present and interested, while every one who had been assigned a place on the program was present and, without exception, rendered his work exceptionally well.

McCauley, McNeil, Cox, and Watts appeared on the preliminary part with some very practical and valuable talks.

The debate, however, was the real feature. Seldom has such a high degree of interest been manifested in the first program of the year. Evidence of this fact is furnished by recalling that hardly had the debate begun when the lights went out, and the argument was completed in pitch darkness, but, contrary to expectations, seemingly without a break.

Messrs. Lawrence, French; Hook and York presented much effective argument on both sides of the question, "Resolved, That the Bible should be taught in the public schools."

PSYKALEONS MEET

The Psykaleon Literary Society had a very impressive meeting September 26, when the new officers were installed. The out-going president, Miss Elder, made a very fitting farewell address, and the new president, Miss Hannah Newman, made a speech which we feel sure will inspire the society to greater aspirations and deeper loyalties during the coming year.

The other officers were as follows: Alma Rountree, secretary; Velma Smith, supervisor. All of the new officers show such a determination to make the society mean more to the girls and to put some of the old spirit back into our organization, that we are looking forward to a very successful year. When we get back to our old home, which will soon be newly furnished, we are expecting much greater enthusiasm and deeper interest on the part of all the societies.

PSIPHELIAN LITERARY SOCIETY RENDERS FIRST PROGRAM OF THE YEAR

On Wednesday night, September 21, the Psiphelian Literary Society met and rendered its first program of the year.

All the members were present and a very interesting program consisting of humorous selections was given.

After a short business session the following program was rendered:

Humorous Dialogue—Caroline Powell and Nannie Graham.

Humorous Essay—Myrtle Isley.

Humorous Reading—Jewell Truitt.

Jokes—Minnie Johnston.

Solo—Ella Keyser.

The judges voted as best on the program, Caroline Powell and Nannie Graham, Jewell Truitt and Minnie Johnston.

The Psiphelian Society is one of the oldest organizations on the hill and has been noted through the past for its achievements. Unusual interest is being shown this year. Several of our old members who were out of school last year are back with us again. We welcome them heartily and are expecting a large number of new members.

The prospects seem bright for the most successful year in the history of the society.

The Clio Literary Society met in regular session on Tuesday night. It was the first time that they had been privileged to meet in their newly equipped hall. The attitude that they have toward it was expressed in that every member of the society was present.

A very interesting program was rendered. Mr. Frank Alexander gave a talk on his work in the Y. M. C. A. Summer School. Mr. Hudson spoke on youth. Mr. Hudson is a very jovial fellow and naturally handled this in a splendid way. Mr. Boone, who spent the summer selling shrubbery, spoke on landscape gardening. Mr. David Brown Harrell gave a talk on current events which he made very interesting by mentioning a good number of campus events. Mr. Eph Abel entertained the society for a few minutes with some very original humor. Mr. Harrell was given the honor of being the best on program. The entire program was very good and enjoyed by all who were present.

President Harper was present, and after the program added to the entertainment by telling a few jokes and making a short talk to the society members. Prof. Cotten was also present and spoke for a few minutes on the value of literary work.

Various committees were appointed to carry on the work that is to be done in the literary society this year. The Clios have a very bright future and are looking forward to much work at this time.

New members will be taken in November 1, 1927. Any who desire to will please see the Secretary or some other member of the literary society and get definite information concerning it, etc.
