

A-L-U-M-N-I N-O-T-E-S

Some time ago an appeal was made through this column to the Alumni for news. Several have been so considerate as to write articles, but the greater part have allowed the opportunity to pass. Already one-third of the school year is gone. Have you sent a message through this column to your fellow Alumni?

You must remember that it is just as interesting for your class-mates and friends to read a few words from you, as for you to read a few words from them. Remember that there are hundreds of former Elon students that have thought of you often and wondered just where you were and what you were doing. Please them by writing a letter or article for publication.

Let us urge that you take advantage of this opportunity. Do your friends the favor of hearing from you through this column. There should not be an issue without a half dozen letters from interested Alumni.

Make it a point to write something for your paper, will you?

Mr. C. W. Gordon, class of '26, was visiting on the campus last week-end. Mr. Gordon is connected with the Standard Hosiery Mills, Burlington, N. C.

Coach G. A. Kirkland, class of '26, of Oxford, N. C., attended the Guilford-Elon game and spent the week-end on Elon campus. Coach Kirkland has developed a good football team at Oxford, having won from Hillsboro, Chapel Hill, and several other high schools of the state that have good football teams.

Prof. Britt Green, class of '27, was visiting his parents at Elon during the week-end. Prof. Green is connected with the Woodlief high school, Woodlief, N. C.

Miss Alma Smith, class of '26, who is teaching English at Hillsboro high school, visited her sister, Miss Velma Smith, of the Sophomore class, during the week-end.

Miss Lilly Horne, class of '26, secretary of the Alumni Association, and at the present time teaching in the Burlington high school, was visiting on the campus during the week-end.

Miss Ruth Horne, class of '27, who is connected with the Reidsville school system, was visiting on the hill a short time last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Terrell, class of '25, are teaching in Lincoln county. Mr. and Mrs. Terrell were here for a short time last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bruton were here for a short time October 29. Mr. Bruton is teaching English in the New London high school, New London, N. C.

Dr. W. H. Boone, who is president of the Elon Alumni Association, was on the hill last Friday night. Dr. Boone was here attending the executive meeting of the Alumni Association.

Mrs. R. J. Kernodle of Durham, who is also a member of the executive committee, was here Friday night. Mrs. Kernodle attended the Hallowe'en party that was given in the gymnasium Friday night.

Miss Gertrude Brown, '18, is now living at 318, 12th St. West Palm Beach, Fla. Miss Brown was reared in the town of Elon and received her education here.

Prof. M. G. Stanley, class of '27, attended the Elon-Guilford game and came back to Elon to spend the week-end. Prof. Stanley is principal of the Flat Rock high school near Mt. Airy, N. C.

Prof. M. M. Johnson, '26, was on the hill Sunday.

Coach J. A. Walker, class of '27, who is coaching the Lillington high school, was on the hill for a short time last week-end. Coach Walker does not have a football team at his school but has a strong basketball and baseball team.

Miss Margaret Corbitt, class of '25, who is teaching in the Flat Rock high school, was here for the week-end.

Mr. Perry Smith, who attended Elon in 1924-25-26, and is now a senior at State College, was on the hill Sunday.

Mr. G. L. Williams, class of '25, was visiting his brother, Wesley, of the Sophomore class this week-end. Mr.

Williams attended the University of North Carolina one year, studying dramatics, after graduating from here. Mr. Williams is at the present time in Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Arlene Lindsey, class of '26, was visiting here during the week-end. Miss Lindsey is teaching in the Salisbury high school, Salisbury, N. C.

Prof. D. O. Sanders, class of '27, who is connected with the Winston-Salem high school, was here for the week-end.

Miss Mabel Wright, who attended Elon 1922-23-24, was visiting here last week-end.

Prof. F. J. Alston, of the Zeb-Vance high school, Kittrell, N. C., was on the hill during the week-end.

FROSH CLASS ELECT OFFICERS

(Continued from Page 1)

dent and not voting for an athlete, as was seemingly the case with Fowler as a candidate. A Burlington member of the class assumed the pose of an orator and loudly declaimed that neither was the class holding a beauty contest and voting for looks, as would be the case with Mr. Carrow. Miss Clara ("Johnnie") Sharpe followed by stumping for Carrow, she pointing out that the class president must be able to speak well and must be a leader. Miss Kitty Johnson followed and also spoke for Carrow. Following these were speeches by Mr. Hook and Mr. Gunn for Fowler. Freshman Johnson took the floor once more, and, stumping for Fowler, said that evidently Fowler was the men's candidate and Carrow was the girls'. Various and numerous speeches were made for all three candidates, so many in fact that our columns lack space to print all of them. A motion to close the discussion and to ballot on the candidates was entertained from the chair, which was duly seconded and carried. The results showed that "Jim" Fowler was to assume the helm of the new boat, "The Class of '31."

Spirited competition was shown in the election of the vice-president of the Class. The candidates were: James Walton, "Hans" Waggoner, and Miss Moore. After the ballots were counted, it was found that Mr. Walton was to be the second in command.

After a heated race the office of secretary was declared to be won by Miss Moore. At the meeting held on Wednesday Miss Katherine Harper was elected treasurer and "Uncle Ned" Brannock, sponsor of the class.

Our idea of the high lights can be summed up by saying that the best man won every time. Yet we are wondering how "Jim" Fowler got his pull with the boys; how "Jim" Walton got his influence over "Concord;" and where Maurice Carrow found his feminine support.

INITIAL CONCERT OF THE ARTISTS COURSE SUCCESS

(Continued from Page 1)

co-operation in enabling such a splendid program to be presented.

George D. Miner, Basso and Director, with the aid of Miss Florence Richardson, Violinist, arranged one of the most interesting concerts ever given at Elon College. The numbers were varied in such a way as to be appreciated by all. Every number was enjoyed, but "The Volga Boat Song, Ave Maria, and Mighty Lak" a Rose deserve special mention. The applause for these three numbers was especially marked.

The two operatic selections, Rigoletto and "Faust," rendered in costume, were carried out admirably; yet in no sense was it given in seriousness, which goes to show how near tragedy (the sublime) is related to comedy.

Special note should be taken of Miss Florence Richardson's ability as a violinist. She was a concert, almost, within herself, and her offerings were enthusiastically applauded.

EXCHANGE

"The Houghton Star," Houghton, N. Y.—"Carry On."

"The Critograph," Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va.—"Student Opinions" very good. "live vitally."

"The Hampden Sidney Tiger," Hampden Sidney, Va.—"The Spirit of Delaware" shows the spirit of Hampden Sidney.

"The Hi-Po," High Point College, High Point, N. C.—"The Workshop" interesting. Local artists applaud.

"Queens Blues," Queens College, Charlotte, N. C.—"America Is Money Mad."

"The Polytechnic Reporter," Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, Brooklyn, N. Y.—Fencing Club. "Kartoons."

"The Collegian," Greensboro College, Greensboro, N. C.—To have Open Forum. "abolishing gossip."

"The Yellow Jacket," Randolph Macon College, Ashland, Va.—T. K. A. Convention. Campus Slants.

"The College Heights Herald," Western State Teachers College, Bowling Green, Ky. "Whither?"—Enrollment of 3,400 Student Teachers Reported.

"The Beacon," Newport News High School, Newport News, Va.—Spooky Hallowe'en Issue. We'll bet that it was fun making movies.

MEREDITH-STATE HOSTS TO MEETING OF N. C. C. P. A.

College Journalists Hear Address by Noted Newspapermen.

The fourteenth semi-annual meeting of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association was held at Raleigh with Meredith and State joint hosts. The meeting opened Thursday night by a dinner given to the annual and newspaper groups at the Sir Walter Hotel and Methodist church, respectively. Following this, the guests attended a theater party at the State Theatre.

In his opening address, our capable president, Mr. Hester, editor of the Duke Chronicle, asked the assembly to live up to the standard that the general public expected of us. This was an exceedingly able address.

The reports from the various publications showed that a great deal of progress has been made since our last meeting.

Other features of the convention were addresses by W. T. Bost, Raleigh correspondent of the Greensboro Daily News; J. C. Baskerville, manager of the Raleigh Bureau of the North Carolina Association of Evening Newspapers; Dr. E. C. Brooks, president of State College, and the showing of associated press moving pictures. The keynote of Dr. Brooks' speech was, "Good will should be the touchstone that will guide the newspaper man in approximating the truth in his work."

Mr. Jonathan Daniels, Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer, gave an interesting and instructive address. He says the editor

Alamance Laundry & Dry Cleaners

"WE DO IT BETTER"

Phones 560 561

DR. FRANK E. GILLIAM

Dental Surgeon BURLINGTON, N. C.

Phone: Office 992.

J. BEVERLY DE SHAZO, M. D.
Skin Specialist
Offices and Laboratory, Penney Building, Main Street
Wednesdays and Sundays by Appointment
BURLINGTON, N. C.

BOSTON TAILORING CO.

Reliable Dry Cleaners FIRST CLASS WORK

Call 608-W

BURLINGTON, N. C.

Beau Geste

—With—

RONALD COLEMAN
A Mystery Story of the

FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION

ALICE JOYCE
NEIL HAMILTON
NOAH BEERY
NORMAN TRAVIS
MARY BRIAN

Carolina Theatre

BURLINGTON, N. C.

NEXT MONDAY AND TUESDAY

should make his paper so attractive that all the students should want to read it.

A luncheon for the delegates was given at the Yarborough hotel. A banquet was also given at the same hotel. A tour of Raleigh was made by the visitors. All delegates were invited to their fraternity dances given at Frank Thompson Gymnasium.

Meredith and State are due our heartiest thanks and congratulations for giving us such an instructive and enjoyable meeting.

Elon's delegates were: C. H. Slaughter, editor of Phippsiel; J. P. McNeil, business manager; Paul G. Hook, editor of Maroon and Gold; and C. W. Kipka, managing editor; G. E. Ring, business manager, attended one session.

Young Men's Styles

—In—

Shoes, Hats, Shirts, Neckwear, Suits, Topcoats.

CATERERS

—to—

COLLEGE MEN

H. F. Huffines

Gibsonville, N. C.

RADIO
HARDWARE
SPORTING GOODS
Odell's

GREENSBORO, N. C.
"The Carolinas' Greatest Hardware House"

Students and Members OF THE FACULTY

We invite you to visit our store where you will find groceries and meats.

A complete line of fraternity and sorority needs.

Relish, Olives, Peanut Butter, Cheese, Hams, Grape Fruit, Oranges, Lemons, Etc.

The U-Save-It Store

Main Street. Burlington, N. C.

You Need Not Worry

About your luncheon that you are to serve at any fraternity or sorority social, come to our place and let us help you plan.

We have an assortment of dainty eats that are wholesome and that will leave with you a desire to visit our store again. We guarantee service.

"But it at Hosea's"

H. D. Lambeth
General Merchandise

Nancy Jane

Home-Made Candy For Sale By

J. S. WHITE DRUG COMPANY

For Special Orders, Call

Imogen S. Terrell, 147-W—Louise Holt, 141
Burlington, N. C.