Mr. W. E. Harward, who attended Elon in 1920-21, is at the present time connected with the sales department of the Buick Motor Co., Washington Branch, Washington, D. C. He is working the section around the south west part of Virginia and West Virginia. Mr. Harward spent several years with the Fuller Brush Co. as sales manager, and since leaving that Company has been in the sales department of the Buick Motor Co. The letter in the column will speak for itself as to what Mr. Harward has to say.

Rev. H. Lee Scott, '23, is at the present time pastor of the Waynesboro Baptist Church. Rev. Mr. Scott is liking his work fine. Mrs. Scott has been sick for the last week or two with a cold, but is much better according to reports. Rev. Mr. Scott lacks only two semester hours of having his masters degree from the University of Virginia, in the field of history and philosophy.

Dr. E. M. Betts, '19, is teaching in the department of botany at the University of Virginia. Dr. Betts received his Ph.D. from the University of Virginia last June, and since then has been connected with that institution. After graduating at Elon, Dr. Betts taught music here for several years. After leaving here he entered the University of Virginia, where he has been ever since.

Dr. C. P. McNally, '20, who received his Ph.D. from the University of Virginia last June, is teaching in the University of Kentucky, Bowling Green, Ky. Dr. McNally took his degree in chemistry and is now teaching in that field.

Miss Nettie Harris, '25, is teaching in the Kinley H. S., Kinley, N. C.

Miss Helen Haynes, who attended Elon from 1920-22, is at the present time teaching at Faiburn, Georgia.

Prof. P. G. Gunter, '09, is associate professor of English at the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. Prof. Gunter, assisted by Profs. Cofer and Spahr, prepared a pamphlet, "Sophomore English," which is being used in the Sophomore class of that institution. Prof. Gunter has been in the teaching profession since leaving Elon.

Dr. J. E. Rawls, Suffolk, Va., who is local surgeon for the Seaboard Railroad Co., was in Florida last week. Dr. Rawls carried two of his children, J. E., Jr., and Charles, with him. He is back and has resumed his practice at this time.

Miss Victoria Adams, '24, is much improved according to reports. We are sure that all the Alumni will be pleased to know this, as they are very much interested in Miss Adams and the work she is doing in Porto Rico. Miss Adams would be pleased to hear from any of her acquaintances. It is a very difficult task to work so far away from home among strangers who even speak a different language.

Dear Mr. Hook:
Thanks very much for your note concerning the Maroon and Gold. I am sure I will enjoy the paper and enclosed a check for same.

Best wishes to you in your "history course."
Sincerely yours,
Lena Russell.
Sengrove, N. C.

Dear Editor:
I enjoy reading the "Maroon and Gold" so much, and always look forward to getting each copy.

Here's wishing you the best of success throughout the rest of the year.
Sincerely
Foy Matlock.

616 Glade St., Winston-Salem, N. C.

A great honor has come to F. L. Gibbs, '25 and to Elon as he is a graduate of this institution. Mr. Gibbs has been selected by members of the Union Theological Seminary to represent the seminary at the Detroit convention. We wish to congratulate Mr. Gibbs and Elon for having this honor bestowed on them.

Dear Paul:

The Maroon and Gold means so much to me that I hate very much to miss it, and look forward to its arrival each week with much pleasure.

Give my kindest regards to all Elonites and congratulations for the completion of the recent football season of which I am so proud. I always search the papers for anything about Elon and rejoice with you in your success.

Sincerely yours,
Arline Lindsay.

Salisbury, N. C.

Dear Colelough:

I have been married for a little over five years. W. E., Jr., is two and a half years old, and we think he is a fine little fellow.

Since leaving school I have not been privileged to come in contact very much with the students I knew at Elon but have kept in touch with some of Elon's activities through the columns of the Christian Sun.

I am sure that Elon is going ahead rapidly with the fine new buildings and equipment.

I am employed as a factory representative for the Buick Motor Company and travel out of the Washington Branch. However, for over two years I have been on this territory in southwest Virginia and part of West Virginia; so we make our residence in Roanoke.

Am getting along very well with my work. I have followed sales work since leaving Elon, spending about three years with the Fuller Brush Company as Branch Manager; and for almost three years now, I have been with the Buick people.

I have not been receiving the Maroon and Gold, but will be glad to become a subscriber. Am enclosing check for $2.00, for which I would like to have my name placed on the subscriber's list.

Am sorry that I am unable to give you an interesting article for the Maroon and Gold at this time but will try to do better at some later date.

Would like for you to remember me to all the members of the faculty or staff at Elon whom I knew when I was there in school.

Mrs. Harward and I will both look forward to receiving the Maroon and Gold.

With every good wish for Elon's success in all her undertakings, I am
Very truly yours,

W. E. Harward.

Roanoke, Va., Box 1085.

S-O-C-I-A-L

Elon College, December 6: Miss Ann Watson was the charming hostess to the Nevele Club yesterday afternoon from four to six in the large reception hall at the West Dormitory. The hall was beautifully decorated with holly, Christmas candles, and mistletoe.

The guests were received at the entrance by Miss Emily Johnston and the hostess. Those pouring tea were Mrs. Frances J. Ring and Mrs. Thomas Chandler. Those serving sandwiches and cakes were Misses Nell Smiley and Lila Newman.

The guests were most delightfully greeted and entertained and pronounced this one of the most beautifully appointed receptions of the season.

Last Saturday's cold, dull, dreary afternoon was changed into one of much pleasure to the Beta Omicron Beta girls and their guests, because it was the day of a theater party at the new Carolina Theater in Greensboro. The girls were transported to the city in private cars, and enjoyed the ride together in the rain. A clever comedy and Keith's vaudeville program furnished the entertainment for the afternoon. Members of the party were served "drug store refreshments" after the theater program.

Even though the weather was bad and tended to spoil the afternoon, the girls forgot the outside; and that which might have been unpleasant was crowded out by fun and merriment.

Misses Johnnie Sharpe, Erma Love, Virginia Harden, Rachael Johnston, Ola Pitchford, Katherine Harper, Marge Moore, Kitty Johnston, Ruth Ruston, Moya Fite, Genie Grubb and Dean Louise Savage were the guests from the college; Miss Essie Cotton, B. O. B. ex-collegio, from Burlington; and Miss Florence Fisher and Mrs. W. A. Harper, honorary members, were those sharing this party with the eleven active members of Beta Omicron Beta Sorority.

Pi Kappa Tau Entertain at a Puritan Party

The Pi Kappa Tau Sorority delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Mabel Alexander Tuesday evening, November 29th, at a Puritan party.

John Alden, Priscilla, and Minnehaha met the guests at the door and ushered them into a Puritan parlor. Priscilla's spinning wheel was ready for use, placed at the side of the hearth, and the logs burned merrily to pop the corn for John's and Priscilla's friends. The guns were placed conveniently near on the mantle, for use in case Minnehaha should prove traitor and warn her tribe of the defenseless guests.

The Puritans forgot the privations and hardships of their daily life and joined merrily in the games prepared by Miss Ollie Stadler, impersonating John Alden, and Miss Lucy Boone, a sweet demure Priscilla.

DELEGATES FROM ELON FOR DETROIT CONFERENCE ARE VERY OPTIMISTIC

he is coming across with the goods, and you have no need to worry. So in choosing him for a delegate, we feel sure that he will bring something worth while back to the campus and we should not be disappointed. Frank has the following honors to his credit, and, as in the case of the other two, he has done many things which have gone unmentioned. Clio; A. T. D.; Clio Marshal, '23-'24; Varsity Football, '23-'24; Varsity Basketball, '23-'24; Manager of Class Basketball, '26-'27; Vice-President of Y. M. C. A. '26-'27; President of Y. M. C. A. '27-'28; Vice-President of Senior Class.
