

Maroon and Gold

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF ELON COLLEGE

Entered at the Post-Office at Elon College, N. C., as Second-Class Matter.

TWO DOLLARS PER COLLEGE YEAR

STAFF

Editorial Staff

Paul G. Hook, '28 Editor-in-Chief
 C. W. Kipka, '29 Managing Editor
 G. D. Colclough, '26 Alumni Editor

Business Staff

G. E. Ring, '29 Business Manager
 P. B. Sawyer, '29 Assistant Business Manager
 W. P. Lawrence, Jr., '29 Advertising Manager
 H. E. Shepherd, '29 Assistant Advertising Manager

Circulation Staff

C. P. Thompson, '29, Manager
 Jewell Truitt, '29 Cecil Cox, '29
 G. F. Womble, '29 T. B. Brown, '29

Reporters' Club

Frances Turner, '28, President
 Esther Brookshire, '28 David Shepherd, '29
 R. N. Moses, '30 Margaret Moffit, '28
 R. G. Davis, '29 Maurice Carrow, '31
 H. T. Efrd, '29 K. B. Hook, '31

J. W. Barney Faculty Advisor

ADVERTISING RATES UPON REQUEST

All articles for publication must be in the hands of the Managing Editor by 12:00 M. Monday. Articles received from an unknown source will not be published.

THE CONVENTION, A DECIDED SUCCESS

We were gratified to see the spirit with which the students, faculty and friends entered into the business of entertaining the delegates to the recent convention. We wish to congratulate you on your success. The program which was arranged for the visitors was very interesting as well as educational. It was well arranged and was carried out in excellent style. At no time during the convention did time hang on the visitors' hands. The question was, How shall I attend all that I am supposed to attend? Every one responded admirably in whatever capacity he was asked to serve. This convention, so far as we are concerned, was a decided success, and we predict that an annual convention of a similar nature would do much toward aiding the homes, the churches, the pastors and the college.

—E C—

DR. SOPER'S ADDRESS

Dr. Soper, Dean of the Divinity School, of Duke University, has been an outstanding figure in several national and international gatherings. He is not only prominent in religious conferences but is also a leader in educational and social conventions. Dr. Soper gave us a very interesting account of the Lusanne Conference held in Switzerland last summer. The subject of this conference was Faith and Order. One topic on which all the delegates agreed was, that Christ was present at the sacrament. The personal interest, and the way the delegates tried to understand each other, to get each other's viewpoint on important questions leads one to believe that eventually all will unite and there will be only one church, one Christ, one religion. The sooner this comes, the better it will be. We enjoyed Dr. Soper's address very much and hope he will return to our campus soon.

—E C—

OUR TEAM HAS RETURNED

Our team has returned from the northern trip, having been victors only twice out of seven chances on this trip. We had hoped that they would win many more than that; however, we must not be down hearted. Just remember that these boys had to ride practically all day and play at night. Naturally they were unable to give the best account of themselves on the floor. We call your special attention to the letter of Dr. Gilbert, Dean of Defiance College, which is printed in another column of this paper. We are more than glad to hear of the splendid impression that the boys made as true Southerners. The members of the team reported that they had an excellent time on the trip; and we feel sure they did, considering the warm reception they received at Defiance and other places.

—E C—

DR. NEWMAN'S LECTURES

Dr. Newman has been teaching at Elon College since it was founded in 1889. Having studied at Yale and Chicago he has had excellent training and is one of the most eminent Bible instructors in the South. Because of his ability, his experience and his training, he was more than capable of delivering the series of lectures that he gave during the recent convention. He accepted this as his part. Dr. Newman has always been willing to advocate that which will be conducive to the upbuilding of Elon, the college, in which he has taught during the greater part of his life. His lectures were uplifting, broad in their scope, and spiritual in their purpose. Illustrations, drawn from many fields, showed that the author had spent a life-time in study and observation.

THE KEMPUS KET

—Moncure—

Quite matchless are her dark brown
 iiii;

She talks with perfect e e e e e,
 But when I tell her she is y y y y y,
 She says I am a t t t t.

—Winchester!—

Maroon and Gold Subscriber to Circulation Manager: Did you get my check for my subscription?
 "Grandpa" Thompson: Yes, twice; once from you and once from the bank.

—Albemarle!—

Professor Martin was hearing little Mary Frances' prayers the other night. This was usually Mrs. Martin's task, but on that particular night the Professor had insisted that he be allowed to hear them.

Mary Frances had said, "God bless mamma, God bless grandpa, and God bless grandpa, God bless kitty, God make me a good little girl. Amen."

Prof. Martin: Aren't you going to ask God to make the sun shine to help daddy's rheumatism?

Little Mary Frances: (bowing her head quickly), Oh, God, make it hot for daddy!

—Waverly!—

Dr. Brannock: Mr. McAulay, name over some of the alcohols that you are familiar with.

Mr. McAulay: Scotch, Rye, Corn, and numbers of others that were not named.

—Suffolk!—

Prof. Martin (in the course of a lecture): I saw Paul Revere once—in a moving picture show.

"Bar Killer" Boone: Oh, yes; that was the "Birth of a Nation," wasn't it?

Asheboro!—

Martha Esther "Cute" Brookshire: They say a kiss speaks volumes.

Frank "Fatty" Alexander: Let's start a library.

—Steeds!—

Percy Hudson has condescended to be a lowly bootblack, having been compelled to shine "Shiek" Thomas' shoes each Sunday morning. There's a real son!

—Dunn!—

HIS WAY

The Lord Christ wanted a tongue one day

To speak a message of cheer
 To a heart that was weary and worn
 and sad,

And weighed with a mighty fear.
 He asked me for mine, but 'twas busy quite

With my own affairs from morn till night.

The Lord Jesus wanted a hand one day
 To do a loving deed;

He wanted two feet on an errand for him

To run with gladsome speed.
 But I had need of my own that day;

To his gentle beseeching I answered,
 "Nay!"

So all that day I used my tongue,
 My hands, and my feet as I chose;

I said some hasty, bitter words
 That hurt one heart, God knows.

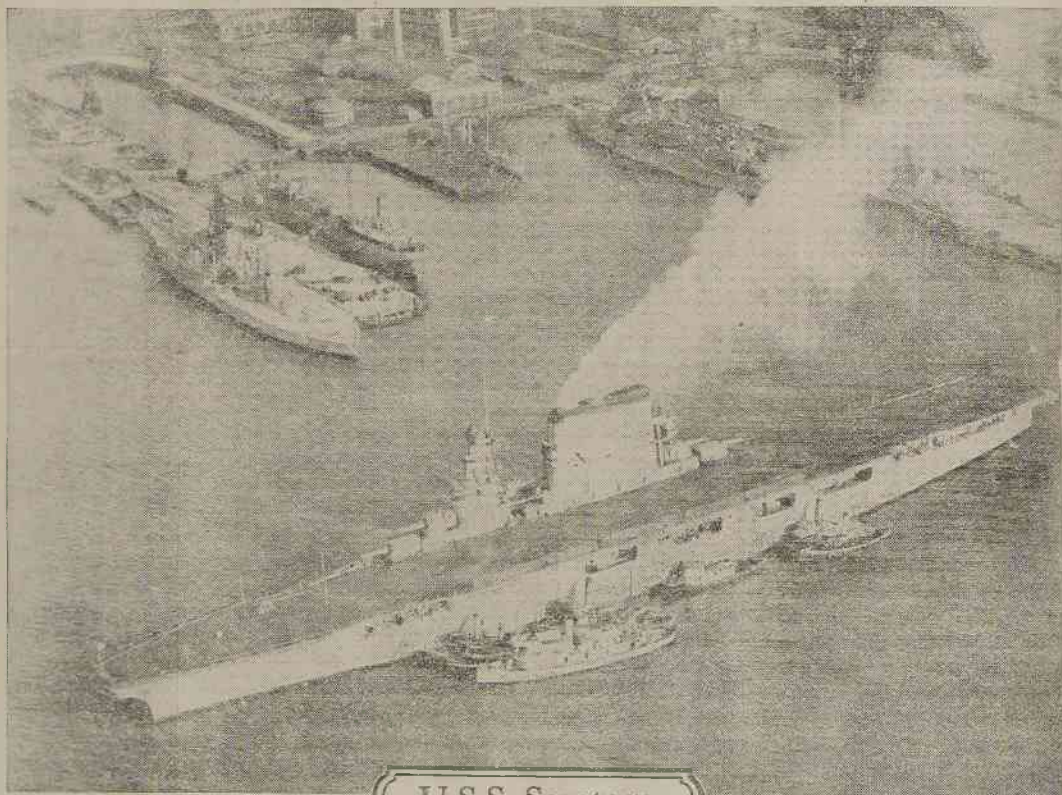

I busied my hands with worthless play,
 And my wilful feet went a crooked way.

And the dear Lord Christ—was his work undone

For lack of a willing heart?
 Only through men does he speak to men!

Dumb must he be apart!
 I do not know, but I wish today

I had let the Lord Christ have his way.
 —Alice L. Nichols.

U.S.S. Saratoga

A Marvel of National Defense

From this 2½-acre deck, Uncle Sam's battle planes can now leap into action—sure of a landing place on their return, though a thousand miles from shore.

This marvel of national defense was accomplished—and duplicated—when the airplane carrier, U.S.S. Saratoga, and her sister ship, U.S.S. Lexington, were completely electrified.

In each, four General Electric turbine-generators deliver, combined, 180,000 horsepower to the propellers—enough to drive the ship at 33 knots (39 miles an hour)—enough to furnish light and power for a city of half a million people.

The design and construction of the electric equipment for the U. S. S. Saratoga and the U.S.S. Lexington, to which college-trained men contributed in great measure, exemplify the part General Electric plays in promoting the welfare of the nation.

6-24DH

GENERAL ELECTRIC

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YORK