D. W. SHEPHERD, PRESIDENT OF Y. M. C. A., CALLS MEETING

The last bout was a real match. It was between Elwood Smith (160 lbs.) and Frosh Brook (206 lbs.) In the first round Smith gave Brooks a blow to the ribs which cut his wind. The second round each gave several hard blows to jaw, head and ribs. The third round was featured by Brooks hard swing to Smith's side which gave Brooks the decision and the match.

The meeting was brought to a climax by Blaylock playing a few very interesting selections on his guitar and French harp, which thrilled the audience. The audience cheered and demanded an encore.

The last number was the "Little Brown Jug," this selection was accompanied by Lester Register giving us the latest steps in the "Charleston," Blackbottom and Buckwing, all at the same time.

The meeting was a success in creating interest and enthusiasm among the young men.

He has done a most constructive piece of work in this capacity, having constructed the high school Leadership Training Course and the Graduate Leadership Training Course as well as having perfected the Standard Course. He has also built up for the International Council a system of Summer Conferences and Camps. These eminently qualify him for the position of leadership which he is to assume in Columbia with the beginning of the new year.
