MEMBERS OF ELON CHURCH ATTEND GENERAL CONVENTION AT PIQUA, OHIO

Both School and Town Are Represented

Those members of the faculty and of the Elon church who are to attend the General Convention of the Christian Church at Piqua, Ohio, October 22 to 29 left for the convention Sunday. This convention is to be a memorable one, as the question at issue is the consolidation of the Christian and Congregational churches. Since the plan of consolidation has been unanimously adopted by the National Congregational Council, the prospect is that the General Convention will also adopt it.

Those representatives of the Elon church at the convention will be Dr. and Mrs. Harper, Prof. C. James Velie, Dr. W. M. Jay, Dr. J. O. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cannon, and Rev. A. W. Hurst.

Dr. Harper will appear on the program several times as Secretary of the Department of Christian Education. On Friday there is to be a great men's meeting held at which he will speak also. Prof. Velie will have charge of the convention music. Mrs. Harper will sing two or three numbers at the convention. Mr. Cannon is to have charge of the Elon exhibit and arrange for the banquet of the Elon alumni. Dr. Atkinson is to preach on Sunday night at the convention church. Rev. Mr. Hurst is the speaker for the young people's rally and banquet on Saturday night of the convention.

YOUNG PREACHERS CONDUCT SERVICES AT NEARBY CHURCHES

"A Christian's Life" was the subject discussed by the Ministerial Association Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service of the Providence Memorial Christian Church of Graham.

Walton E. Brill presided at this service, and the program was well carried out. The Scripture was taken from Romans Twelve.

The first speaker, B. Paul Rakestraw, gave a very interesting talk on "Christian Happiness." He stressed the idea that a Christian should be very happy. "Some people think that in order to be a Christian you have to give up happiness. Not so; Christ intends for you and me to be happy." Mr. Rakestraw endeavored to show that many painters and artists have had the wrong conception of Christ for ages. The pictures they have painted have done Him an injustice. A man who spoke such cheerful words as did Christ could never have been anything but happy.

"Christian Strength" was well covered by Mr. Numa Franks. He handled his subject with skill and pointed out why this "strength" was necessary for every Christian. He cited examples of men who had not taken their strength from Christ. "Their lives were failures." He also pointed out examples of lives who had taken their strength from the "Mighty Savior;" and in every case their lives had been much more fruitful to the world and to humanity than the ones who failed to accept this strength. This was Mr. Franks' first speech with the Ministerial Association. He promises to be a valuable addition to the Ministerial Association.

J. Howard Smith was the concluding speaker. His topic was "Christian Service." He clearly showed that "Service" was one of the great essentials of a Christian's life. He urged every one to try to make Christianity a reality rather than an ideal. "Many people support the church but never help those in trouble. What about you? Do you ever give a cup of water in the Master's Name? 'Faith, without works is dead.' Live your religion."

PAUL WAGGONER
"Hans"

Here is a picture of our fighting end. Last week in the High Point game he strutted his "Onions." Our team is boosted a great deal by the presence of "Hans" in the line-up. "Go, get Guilford."

ELONITES HEAR UNI- VERSITY GLEE CLUB

Last Sunday afternoon a merry party consisting of Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Ring, Viola Worsley, Jewell Presnell, Sue Raine, Paul Magee, Mrs. A. L. Hook, Mrs. Riheldaffer, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Velie motored to Chapel Hill to hear the first concert of the year given by the University Men's Glee Club. This concert was given at four o'clock in Memorial Hall.

The Glee Club consists of twenty-six young men, the accompanist, Mr. Nelson Kennedy, and the director, Harold Sheldon Dyer. Their program was excellent. The accompanist played two groups of solos, and a violinist also played three numbers. The entire concert was so enjoyable that the Elonites felt it quite worth the trip to Chapel Hill.

Y. M. C. A. SPONSORS OBSTACLE GOLF TOURNAMENT

Everything is in readiness for the instruction of this outdoor sport. As soon as you become acquainted with a few details of the game you will like it. Already there are several interested in engaging in this sport. Come on men, join them!

Any who wish to learn the game see E. F. Knight for equipment.

PSIPHELIANS IMITATE THE FACULTY

The Psiphelian Literary Society held its regular meeting in the society hall, Thursday evening, October 17, 1929, at 7:30 o'clock. The program rendered at this time was different from the preceding ones, in that it was in the form of a play. The characters in the play personified various members of the faculty. The characters were: Alma Faucette as Mrs. Corboy, Lilian Foust as Miss Savage Lannie McIntyre as Miss Raine, La Rue Brann as Miss Chandler, Martha Netherly as Mrs. Edwards and Ella Garrett as Mrs. Riheldaffer. The play was very well carried out and it was enjoyed by everyone present.

The judges decided that Miss Faucette was the best on the program.

Ireland will have bumper crops this year.

LOOK OUT 'LITTLE SIX' CHAMPIONSHIP!

The highly-touted Purple Panthers from High Point received a severe shock on Saturday, last, at the hands of the high-flying Fightin' Christians of Elon College. The shock was twofold, as it marked their first defeat by a Christian eleven and also shattered their hopes of grabbing the "Little Six" title for their second consecutive time. The game put our lads well on the road to the title held by the Pointers in 1929. Elon now has only Guilford and Lenoir-Rhyne to spill for a clean slate and the unquestioned right to fly the "Little Six" pennant from the flag pole (?) at the athletic field of this institution. And judging by comparative scores, the Quakers and the Bears have little chance of stopping the strong gridiron machine which Coach Walker has assembled.

But getting back to the old ball game, it was a gala affair with quite a bit of color attached to it. About half the Elon cheering section was full of students and other rooters who had made the journey to see their favorites trample the High Point hopefuls in the dust of their own ground. A much larger group of home folks in the Pointer bleachers were pulling with all their might to the very last in hopes of a triumph for the Purple Panther.

The score was 14-7—just the difference of one touchdown; but the score hardly indicates the superiority of the Christian team, as it was apparent from the outset that the visitors had the better aggregation of pigskin hustlers. The Purple kicked off to the Maroon, and the Purple never secured possession of the pigskin until the Maroon had shoved over a touchdown by the sheer (Continued on Page 3)

NOTICE! NOTICE! NOTICE!

The Clio Literary Society formally accepts with the greatest of pleasure the challenge to debate issued by the Philologist Literary Society.

MRS. HARPER ENTER- TAINS B. O. B.'S

Honoring Mme. Riheldaffer, The New Honorary Member.

On Friday evening, October 18, at 8:00 o'clock, Mrs. W. A. Harper entertained the B. O. B. Sorority at her home in honor of Mme. Grace Hall Riheldaffer, the new honorary member. As the guests entered they were presented with a Hallowe'en cap and horn by Mrs. George D. Colclough.

After a period of merry making and games, Miss Janette Stout, head of the Expression department, gave two readings entitled "Foolish Questions" and "I Don't." Mme. Riheldaffer sang "Lad O Mine," "Memories" and "If I Were the Wind." The first and third numbers are dedicated to Mme. Riheldaffer.

A delicious salad course was served. Hospitality were: Mme. Riheldaffer, Mrs. C. M. Cannon, Miss Janette Stout, Mrs. G. D. Colclough, Misses Virginia Brown, Ruth Alexander, Lois McFarland, Idell Jones, Kitty Johnson, Evelyn Yates, Nellie White, Sally Elder, and Estelle Kelley.

BIG TIME AHEAD

Halloween—well, it won't be long now. Lots o' funny faces. Haven't decided just what we'll do yet, but it'll be something even if we have to get the old lady's whiskers. Talk o' your spooks! Well there'll be plenty. And you can bet your last dime on that. Just a minute. Don't get your ticket for next week, and watch Maroon and Gold for further announcement.

HERBERT GOULD FEATURES OPENING NUMBER OF SEASON'S CONCERT COURSE

FOSTER HUGHES
"Foster"

Hughes is our old versatile guard. His playing this year has been exceptionally well. Here's hoping that he will play just as well in the remaining games. "Fight, Foster, fight."

PROFESSOR RAINE SPEAKS IN CHAPEL ON CULTURE

Miss Sue Raine clearly demonstrated by her chapel talk of last Friday morning that she is of a philosophic mind. Miss Raine gave a very personal appeal that college students should attempt to raise the standards of their appreciation. Many students, she said, go through a four year college course and do well in grades but miserably fail in learning to appreciate that which is good.

Culture is the act of improving or developing by education and discipline, a refining process, and it is in college that one has an opportunity to develop culture.

There's nothing wrong with good music or good literature merely because it fails to interest us. The trouble is in ourselves. We need to learn to think, to appreciate, to see the good in everything.

LIFE RECRUIT BAND TO PRESENT 'LAROLA'

Miss Estelle Williams Takes Leading Role.

On next Sunday night, the Life Recruit Band will present a one-act play entitled "Larola." In the play, there is portrayed in beautiful language, the question of Caste in India. The setting is a missionary's home in Palinaw, India. The missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doggett (Mr. E. E. Kipka and Miss Alma Lane Bruton) have one servant, Nanok (Elijah Jones) in the house. A Hindu girl, Marna (Ruth Bateson) has been influenced by them and she has become a Christian. To them she has also brought her friends, Lela (Cornelia Troxler) and Larola (Estelle Williams), so that they, too, could learn of the Christ. If these girls followed Christ they become as dead to their family and their caste. Larola tells of her choice between her husband and her caste, and how she suffered to become a Christian. There is another Hindu who has broken the caste and has become a Christian. He is Prof. Bender Sen (Mr. J. C. Gresham) who is a professor in one of the Hindu universities and who, at this time, was also the guest of Mr. Doggett.

Miss Jeanette Stout is coaching the play, and the pupils of the Art Department are designing the costumes.

Glasgow has a wave of auto fatalities. Colombia has ordered three gunboats to be built in Scotland.

TO APPEAR NOVEMBER 8TH

The first number of this year's concert course is to be presented in Whitley Auditorium, Friday night, November 8. Herbert Gould, celebrated bass-cantante, is to be the entertainer. He comes to Elon well recommended by both press and critic.

Herbert Gould was reared in Minnesota, and began his vocal training as a boy in school. He has had five years of extensive study, and has appeared on the concert stage many times. He has been connected with the Chicago Civic Opera Company and the Zoo Garden Opera Company. He is, this year, with the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company. He has appeared with some of the leading symphonies and orchestras. The leading newspapers of the country have lauded Mr. Gould greatly.

Elon is very fortunate in having secured such a talented and celebrated artist for the opening of the season's concert course.

CLIOS ELECT OFFICERS FOR COMING TERM

In order that the members of the student body may better understand the Clio Literary Society we wish to mention the officers that were elected on Tuesday night, October 22:

President, Delos Elder; vice-president, Robert Boyd; secretary, Robert Morris; censor, Jack Chandler; first critic, Daniel Boone; second critic, T. R. Benton.

The Clios also elected three debaters for the inter-society debate who they believe will ably represent the society. The three are: Roy Richardson, Ralph Johnson, and J. C. Gresham. The society has faith in these men and feels sure that they will prove worthy defenders of her honor.

PHILOLOGIANS HOLD STATE PROGRAM

The program that was rendered in the Philologist Literary Society last Wednesday night was one of especial interest. The central theme of the entire program was "North Carolina" or "My Home State."

The first speaker on the program was Mr. W. G. Lewis who discussed the subject, "What Tobacco Has Done For North Carolina." Mr. Lewis gave an excellent survey of the great value that tobacco has been and is to citizens of this State. He also emphasized the importance of proper attention in the growth of tobacco and told us something of the process of tobacco culture.

Following Mr. Lewis, Mr. W. L. Register spoke on "The Educational Opportunities of North Carolina." Mr. Register's talk showed a large amount of preparation and careful observation of conditions in North Carolina Education. He first discussed the problem of education in the rural sections of the State, showing the need of better schools and better prepared teachers. Then he took up the subject of higher education. Here he told of the large number of colleges located within the State and the service which they are rendering.

Mr. G. O. Mann discussed the subject, "Agriculture vs Industrialism." Mr. Mann pointed out quite clearly the tendency toward industry as contrasted with the great interest shown in agriculture a few years ago. This speaker mentioned some of the industrial centers of the State and explained why they had become such. All of this information was interesting and enlightening to all present.

The next speaker was Mr. F. A. Smith whose topic was "High Spots (Continued on Page 2)
