

CHRISTIANS VANQUISH BEARS IN THEIR FINAL TILT

SEASON ENDED IN BLAZE OF GLORY.

YEAR MOST SUCCESSFUL ONE FOR ELON.

Many Elonites Witness Game.

Ring down the 1929 football curtain in a blaze of glory, the Elon football team vanquished the strong Lenoir-Rhyne team of Hickory, North Carolina, in a fiercely-contested battle. The game was played in Hickory on Turkey Day, the day when all good folks celebrate and give thanks that they will not have to witness any more games of football in weather so cold as that (?).

The referee's whistle started the game at 2:30; so that every one would have plenty of time to get his share of turkey before it got cold after the game. Jones of Lenoir-Rhyne kicked off to Kelly to open the game. Kelly returned to the 30 yard marker from whence Elon galloped right on up the field to the Bears' 15-yard marker. Here the Lenoir line held, and the ball went over. The ball went up and down the field several times until the Bears found an opening and a Lenoir back toted the ball down to the Elon 3-yard line. Here the forward wall of the Elonites held solidly for three downs, but the ball finally was pushed over the goal line for the first six points of the fray. The extra point was booted squarely between the uprights for the seventh point. Elon continued to out-play and out-gain the Bear eleven throughout the first half, but the breaks of the game were against the Christians, and time and again their scoring hopes were thwarted when a score seemed almost inevitable. The beautiful punting of Jones, Rhyner fullback, was largely responsible for Elon's failure to score in the opening period. Just before the half ended two passes in a row from Pete Williams, the West Point, Georgia, boy, to Paul Waggoner, a Birmingham product, penetrated the Lenoir aerial defense to put the oval on the 3-yard marker. With a touchdown within her grasp, the Elon hopes were blighted by the referee's whistle ending the half, with the score standing Elon 0, Lenoir-Rhyne 7.

The tale of the third quarter was pretty much a replica of the happening in the first half. The Christians gained more ground than the Bears, but did not have the necessary punch to push the pigskin over the desired marker for a touchdown. The fourth quarter, however, was a very different story. Hardly had the last stanza of play started before a neat flip of the oval from Zac Walker, fleet-footed Elon quarterback, to Country Rollins, lanky left end, was completed for 50 yards and a touchdown. The Elon forward wall held like stone as Zac toted the pigskin over the cross bars for the point necessary to tie the score up in the well-known proverbial knot. Elon took the kick-off straight back up the field, with Pete Williams hammering

GREAT DEBATE FRIDAY NIGHT

Psiphelians and Psykaleons to Exchange Words.

Little boys settle disputes with their fists: Indians settled their arguments with tomahawks and knives; countries settle disagreements with guns, swords, poison gas, etc.; but—the different societies settle any question between them by a battle of words. Some times words cut deeper even than the sharpest sword. In this manner the Psiphelians and the Psykaleons, or at least their representative, will settle the question that "The volumes and methods of installment buying are economically sound." There is a lot of argument for both sides of the discussion; therefore, a rather "warm" debate is expected. Whether it will be "hair-raising" or "hair-pulling" is yet to be seen.

The girls debating are: For the Psiphelians: Cornelia Troxler, Alta Dick, and Martha Nethery. For the Psykaleons: Frances Ring, Anna Virginia Britt and Adna Lane Bruton.

'MESSIAH' IS FEATURE OF SUNDAY'S PROGRAM

Prof. Velie Supervises; Is Annual Occurrence.

Next Sunday night, December 8th, the "Messiah" will be presented by the local choral club. Under the supervision of Prof. C. James Velie, the club has improved quite a bit from last year. The "Messiah" is given every year; but as it is impossible to sing all the chorus in the cantata, new ones are added each time it is given.

The "Messiah" is a story of the coming of Christ, and is always given at the glorious season of the year, Christmas time! It is Handel's most successful and best-known oratorio. He composed it in the year 1741 in twenty-four days, from August the 22nd to September the 14th. It was first performed at a concert given for charitable purposes at Dublin, Ireland, on April the 13th, 1742, Handel, himself, conducting the performance.

CLIO FRESHMEN GIVE EXCELLENT PROGRAM

Fine Spirit Prevails.

Moffitt Best On Program.

The Clios met in the society hall at the usual time last Tuesday evening; and after the routine business had been transacted, the following program was rendered:

"Swimming"—Charles Gaddy.
Some Advantages of Travel"—Gus Womble.
"Why Sports Are in a College Career"—John McIntosh.
"Why Not Go by Air"—Paul Browley.
"Advantages of Public Speaking"—E. L. Moffitt, Jr.

Mr. E. L. Moffitt, Jr., was declared the best on the program by the judges. Charles Gaddy received honorable mention.

The members of the program were all freshmen; and it seems from the criticism and discussion of the critic that the Clios were fortunate in getting so many promising speakers and willing workers for the betterment of the society.

DR. ATKINSON DELIVERS SECOND LECTURE

Bases It On Book of Daniel.

Students who braved the down pour of ice-cold raindrops, and succeeded in securing a seat for the chapel service Monday were more than repaid for their efforts. Especially is this true of a few young men.

Dr. Atkinson in a forceful way, and very vivid manner portrayed the book of Daniel as a Great Missionary book. He declared that Daniel was a man of strong character. "First Daniel let the claim of God dominate his life. A stranger in a strange land, a captive in the house of bondage, he proposed in his heart that he would never turn from the God of his fathers. Yes, and he took care in doing this, letting this be the foundation of his character.

"Secondly, he put the claim of those about him second to the claim of God. He made sacrifices that he might keep his body and mind strong so as better to serve his King.

"Thirdly, he placed himself in the service of his own people. He revealed God to them as a God who wanted to love and keep them. And so, the appeal comes to us today asking that we, like Daniel, join in the program of righteousness, striving to make the world a better place in which to live."

A runaway horse jumped into an auto in Chicago and seriously injured Mrs. R. C. Mason and her daughter.

COLLEGE PASTOR SPEAKS ON THANKSGIVING

Gives Thanksgiving Alphabet.

Did you ever make out a Thanksgiving alphabet? Dr. E. B. Allen, a Congregational minister of Oak Park, Ill., has made a Thanksgiving alphabet and challenges all of us to do the same. It appears to me that such an exercise every year would be of real value; and if we are really growing, each succeeding year should show growth in our appreciation of life's spiritual values. This is Dr. Allen's alphabet:

- A appetite, apples, aliens, America.
- B birds, bees, books, brooks, beauty, brotherhood, Bible.
- C children, choirs, church, corn, crops, cranberries.
- D democracy, duties, dawns, doughnuts.
- E education, eyesight, everything.
- F friends, fun, faith, flowers, freedom, father.
- G God.
- H hope, home, humor.
- I imagination, immortality.
- J Jesus.
- K kith and kin, knitting, knocks.
- L life, love, light, law, labor, Lincoln.
- M mother, music.
- N night, needs, nature.
- O opportunity, oranges, organs.
- P progress, play, prayer, peace, Prohibition, "punkins."
- Q quests, questions.
- R rest, right, ribbons, Red Cross.
- S sleep, strength, sorrow, sacrifice, sunsets.
- T truth, turkey, tomorrow.
- U Utopias.
- V victories.
- W work, wife, worship, wags, wages.

MISSION SECRETARY OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH LECTURES; DR. ATKINSON GIVES ADDRESS ON 'AN ADVENTURE IN ROMANCE'

Annual Feature of College Program.

Rev. J. O. Atkinson, D. D., began his series of sermons at the Elon Community Church Sunday morning. He needs no introduction, because he is known throughout all the Southern Christian Churches as one of the ablest Gospel bearers of the time. Dr. Atkinson read for the scripture lesson Sunday morning, the first chapter of the Book of Ruth, which is a romance, or love story.

Dr. Atkinson's subject was: "Missions, An Adventure in Romance." Missions means the activity of Almighty God in teaching mankind that this may be a friendly world; and also an adventure of love through God. The most outstanding feature in the Book of Ruth is God. God's name is used twenty-two times. God leads here and manifests His power there. He brought famine to Israel, which drove Naomi, her husband, and two sons to the desolate land of "Moab, where her husband and sons died. God's outstanding personality in the problem between Naomi and Ruth. The most prominent thing in this romance is the personality of God revealed when Ruth said, "Treat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people and thy God my God: where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: the Lord do so to me, and more also if I ought but death part thee and me."

Missions are not instituted in a commission, but are instituted through God. The dynamic of missions is God, and

PHILOLOGIANS PRESENT VARIED PROGRAM AS CLIMAX TO THURSDAY'S EVENTS

TWO PROGRAMS WILL BE GIVEN SUNDAY

Young Ministers Give Last Programs Before Exams.

This Sunday will find the Elon College Ministerial Association very active. The club has two services to conduct. Thus far this year the club has given about fifteen programs at different places. Many other programs have been arranged to be given immediately after the Christmas holidays.

This Sunday will find the organization conducting services at the Friendship Christian Church near Burlington, and at the Cary Christian Church just outside of Raleigh.

Messrs. Henry C. Hilliard and J. Howard Smith will speak at the Cary church. Professor Ensminger, of the faculty, will preside and introduce the speakers. The topic of the program will be "The Challenge of Christianity."

"Brighten Your Corner" will be the theme of the service at the Friendship church. B. Paul Rakestraw will have charge of the program. Four speakers have been obtained to speak on the topic as stated above.

DR. AMICK OFF CAMPUS THIS WEEK

The Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is holding its annual convention at Lexington, Kentucky, this year. Dr. Amick is attending the convention as a representative of Elon College. He is to return Saturday, and will give us a report of the meeting in chapel.

Humor, Music, Debate, and Oratory Have Places in Entertainment.

Thanksgiving has come and gone, but memories of it linger in the hearts of Elon students and of alumni and visitors who were on the hill. In our quiet moments our thoughts revert to the Philologistian annual entertainment which was the climax to the happenings of the day.

Mr. C. Carl Dollar gave a short, impressive welcome address to those present, on behalf of the society. He said the program had been planned to entertain and not so much to show off literary skill. The next number, which was an organ solo, "Jubilate Deo" by Silver, was played by a new member, Mr. Paul R. Magee. It was one of the most enjoyable features. Mr. E. F. Knight gave an oration on Thanksgiving, which was very inspiring, especially with his force of delivery.

Mr. K. B. Hook, Mr. Roy D. Coulter, affirmative, and Mr. H. N. Truitt and Mr. W. G. Lewis, negative, debated the question: Resolved, That Fiction is of Greater Educational Value Than Poetry. Every one was expecting a serious discussion, but when the speakers began to make ridiculous remarks and to throw out sarcasm and wit it was seen that a humorous debate was their intention. The audience was kept in an uproar from beginning to end. The affirmative won according to Judges H. C. Hilliard, H. T. Williams, and E. H. Thompson.

Next a sketch was presented in which two more of the new members took parts. In this comedy, Mr. Charlie Talbert as Auntie, Mr. Norman Cameron as Neighbor Pry Eyes, and Mr. W. Lester Register as Marthy, were the stellar characters.

The Philologists certainly succeeded in entertaining the audience.

PROFESSORS' AUTO RADIATORS FREEZE

We are surprised and shocked that certain profs on the campus should be so negligent or thoughtless as to sit calmly in their warm homes and give no attention whatever to their worthy "ole busses." 'Tis true, we admit, these machines are getting old; and perhaps that is why they received such ungrateful treatment. But we must remember, dear profs, the aged should be given the best of care. Of course, we all know that the thermometer took a rather sudden drop last week, but it does not seem at all fitting and proper for a prof to be guilty of such negligence. In the future, profs, let's see to it that we drain the water in our radiators—that is unless we are going to buy a new bus.

SECOND STUDENT RECITAL IS GIVEN

Best This Year.

On Wednesday afternoon, November 27th, at 4:30 o'clock, the second Student Recital was given. Those that took part seemed quite a bit more at ease than in the first one. Each piece that was played, each song that was sung, and the reading was well rendered and all were thoroughly enjoyed by those who were there. These recitals are not just for the pupils in the music or expression departments but they are for all who are interested.

Those in the recital Wednesday were: Edith Brannock, Nancy Caddell, Dorothy Miller, Margaret Hines, Ruth Bateson, Cornelia Troxler, Fletcher Moore, Leffie Jones, Virginia Jay, Elizabeth Barney, Ella Keyser Garrett, and Wallace King.

Beaty-Dick

The following announcement has been received on the campus:

Mrs. Iline Ward Dick announces the marriage of her daughter, Lucy Virginia, to Mr. William Thomas Beaty on Wednesday, November the twenty-seventh nineteen hundred and twenty-nine McLeansville, North Carolina
