

ELON LOSES ANNUAL FOOTBALL CLASSIC TO GUILFORD COLLEGE

The Thanksgiving game between Elon and Guilford left no doubt in the minds of the spectators of who had the better team this year. It could be painfully seen that the Quakers outclassed the Elon team by their clever lateral and forward pass attack and swift running charges. Despite the lopsided score of twenty-five to six, the game was a battle to the finish. The cheering sections showed considerable spirit and good sportsmanship.

Both teams seemed to be quite evenly matched during the first quarter but in the beginning of the second quarter the "shimmy shaker Quakers" began to open up the fire-works and things looked bad for Elon. The trouble began when Guilford made two consecutive first downs. The "Oat" man Turner cut loose a long pass and lo-and-behold Rasley, Guilford end, completed the pass and made the touchdown. The extra point was missed. Elon almost retaliated when Newsome tore through the line for a twenty-five yard jaunt only to be downed by a secondary man. Guilford succeeded in getting another one across and at the half the score was thirteen to nothing in favor of Guilford.

In the third quarter feelings ran high and both teams fought their hardest. It was in this quarter that our noble freshman class president was ferociously assaulted, deah-deah, by a non-quaking Quaker. Guilford came out with another touchdown in that quarter and the score stood nineteen to nothing.

Both teams made touchdowns in the last quarter. Guilford scored first when they used a double lateral and a long pass from Turner to Jamison. Elon started another one of her last minute rallies and marched down the field making first downs after first until she got to the two yard line. Here she was held for downs; and Guilford kicked the ball to the center of the field. Elon was undaunted by this and again marched down the field, this time to a touchdown, Webb Newsome doing the honors.

The Elon team met defeat in traditional fashion, fighting to a man and clinging to a forlone hope till the whistle blew.

NATION-WIDE SEARCH FOR COLLEGE BEAUTY

In the face of the comment made by James Montgomery Flagg recently that there are no beautiful girls in college, College Humor Magazine is planning to launch a campaign to glorify the American college girl. In the December issue there is a double-page spread called "Hall of Beauty," representing every section of the country, and you and you and you are invited to cast a ballot for the college girl you consider lovely enough to grace a cover, by sending in her photograph. Nominees will be submitted to a board of judges consisting of Katharine Brush, Thomas W. Burroughs, art director of College Humor, Joe Lopker, former art director of the Notre Dame Juggler, and the editors of College Humor.

The girls who made the grade in black and white in the December issue and who may be chosen as cover subjects are Edna Mae Welch, of Illinois Wesleyan; Geraldine Gerding, of Washington State; Kate Jenkins, of Southern Methodist; Elizabeth Jones, of the University of Kentucky; Betty Rogers, of Rice Institute; Nell Cade, of the University of Alabama; Frances Stone, of the University of Arkansas, and Leila Davis of the University of New Mexico. The young lady who graces the cover of the current December issue is Emily Rowe, of Miami University.

VISITORS ON CAMPUS LAST WEEK

Charlotte Mathews, Marietta Moore, Mary Rawls Jones, Johnny Sharpe, Robert Boyd, Alma Rountree, Gladys Barrett, Ocie Culpepper, Ruth Harrell, Ruth Smith, Erma Jean Whitaker, Charlie Roberts, "Country" Rollings, Kensic Dofflemyer, Margaret Boland, Earl Nichols, Jimmy Stuart, Rodman Lilly, Helen Turner, Bo Bowman, Dick Caddell, Roy Richardson, Red Cameron, Herman Truitt, Ruth Johnson, Jack Stokes, James and Bob Lassiter.

Other Features in College Humor

"Hello Gob!" a delightful short story about a glamorous New York week-end, a sailor on shore leave and a college girl, by Clifford Orr . . . "Pierrot, Pierrette and Protheroe," by Lois Montross, in which Andy dons a mask and does his daily good deed for a lovely lady . . . "Surrender Sally," by Hilda Cole, a West Point story . . . "Cotton Cavalier," Tom Goodrich's campus prize novel, comes to a dramatic close . . . "77," the novel by George Dunscomb based on Red Grange's career, reaches new heights . . . "The Movie Mongoose," H. W. Hanemann's looks and leers at current cinema attractions . . . "Says You," readers' comments on the magazine, pro and con . . . Pat's "Collegiana," monthly news flashes from the campus panorama . . . "For Men Only," bright chatter on who's who in wardrobe and whatnot, by Russell Patterson . . . "Required Reading," a refreshing book section by Victor Weybright . . . "Radio and Record," a guide for those who are list'nin' . . . "Majoring in Fashion," by Frances Lee, covering new wrinkles and old on two important subjects, clothes and cosmetics. And THE VERY BEST COMEDY IN AMERICA, in cartoon, skit, joke and verse, featuring names like Ed Graham, Soglow, E. Simms Campbell, Abner Epstein, I. Klein, Jaro Fabry and others.

The Antioch Adventure

"Antioch College is an experiment—a fascinating research project, a glorious adventure in education, an expedition into the problems of today's youth," says Dorothy Ann Blank, in an article in the December College Humor, which concerns the college in Yellow Springs, Ohio, and its famous president. "The expedition is manned by Arthur E. Morgan, engineer, and is dedicated to the proposition that (1) although all men and women are created equal, there is no reason they must remain that way, and (2) that there IS life after college!

"A pair of students at Antioch fill a single position, one working while the other is studying. At the end of each five-week period, the two change places. While a student is 'on the job' he devotes himself solely to his work; when the work period is over, he returns to school refreshed, with new enthusiasm for studies and school activities. The program relieves monotony at both ends—though I should think an employer might be somewhat surprised on summoning his secretary to find that she is a red-head this week instead of a blond."

Mr. H. York and his sister, Pearl, spent the week-end with their brother, Mr. Mike York.

FAVORITE CHARACTER PARTY SPONSORED BY PI KAPPA TAU

NOVEMBER EIGHTEENTH

Whoops! but did we have fun! Played games n'everything!

Just imagine 15th century society maidens meeting on equal grounds with that of the 20th century flapper, and actually being congenial. Such was the case when Ruth Gamble as the "Strictly Modern Girl," rubbed elbows with Retta Newman and Fannie Peoples, the "Little Puritan Maidens."

Maybe Doris Milks, alias—Pocahuntas and Fannie Knox, alias Captain John Smith, both received the thrill of their young lives and probably an additional war whoop—as Martha Anderson, alias "the Cheer Leader" Rah! Rah! Rah! the team on to victory. I saw Pocahuntas nudge John as she received a perfectly lovely suggestion for their next Indian War Dance.

When Little Boy Blue blew his horn for refreshments Little Bo-Peep in her ecstasy over what she found in the dining room completely forgot that she had lost her sheep "and can't tell where to find them." All others present shared the same pleasure with her over the delicious refreshments found there in Mrs. J. W. Barney's dining room, where the famous characters were being mimicked by the members of the Pi Kappa Tau Sorority and their guests.

Those taking part in the jolly proceeding were: Annie Ruth Chandler, Marjorie Jones, Ruth Gamble, Martha Anderson, Fannie Knox, Fannie Peoples, Doris Milks, Elizabeth Stevens, Elmina Rhodes, Marjorie Jeameanou, Hazel Martin, Esther Cole, Elizabeth Barney, Helen Barney, Peggie Sechrist, Mrs. Barney, Mrs. Corboy, Retta Newman.

YE OL' THANKSGIVING DINNER GIVEN AT ELON

Thanksgiving Day would not be complete without the proverbial Thanksgiving dinner. At Elon College the day was brought to a fitting climax when a delicious formal dinner was served in the college dining hall.

The dining hall was made festive by a myriad of varicolored balloons hanging from above. The lights were transformed into flowers by paper coverings, and on either wall were Thanksgiving tapestries. The reception hall was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and candles.

The dinner was sponsored by the Philologist Literary Society. Mr. Carl Key, toastmaster, greeted the guests and made a short talk about the Society. Mr. Harold Ford toasted the old Philologists who were present. Mr. Ramsey Swain toasted the football team. Last, but not least, Dr. Smith presented his maroon and gold high hat which had been promised to the football man who made the first score for Elon. It went to Webb Newsome, Newsome's response was a pretty gesture of acknowledgment.

After dinner, coffee was served in the reception hall, with Miss Walker pouring coffee and some of the freshmen serving.

Results of Sophomore Election For 1932-33

President—William H. Horton, Ellington, N. Y.
Vice-President—Wilbur H. Tuck, Virgilina, Va.
Secretary—Miss Ruth Gamble, Franklinton, N. C.
Treasurer—Miss Louise Layton, Cornelius, N. C.

REV. POTTER DELIVERS THANKSGIVING ADDRESS IN WHITLEY AUDITORIUM

INITIAL PERFORMANCE OF THE PLAYMAKERS OF ELON COLLEGE

Tuesday evening, December 6, at 8 o'clock is the time set for the initial performance of Elon's newly organized dramatic club. This performance consists of the three-act play, "You and I," by Phillips Barry.

The cast as formally announced consists of Misses Leffie Jones, Marguerite Harris, and Naomi Steed, and Messrs. Delmont Griffin, James Rising, Martin Ritt, and Paul Taylor.

You and your friends are cordially invited to enjoy together this evening of entertainment in the College Auditorium.

ELON DEBATING TEAM ABOUT TO ORGANIZE

The attention of the Elon College student body was turned to debating yesterday, when Dean A. L. Hook announced to the weekly assembly that in about two weeks the debating try-outs will be conducted.

The query for debate this year is, "Resolved, that the United States should agree to the cancellation of the inter-allied war debts." Considerable interest has been manifested, and a large number of contestants are expected to enter the preliminaries.

SOCIAL

Miss Frances Chandler, accompanied by Miss Irene Corbett, spent the week-end at her home in Virgilina, Va.

Miss Gene Boyd and Mr. Luther Boyd spent the week-end at their home in Henderson, N. C.

Miss Margaret Chandler went to her home in Virgilina last week-end.

Mr. Walter Latham and Mr. "Baldy" Williams spent the week-end in their respective homes in Oxford. "Baldy" was accompanied to his home by Mr. Webb Newsome.

Mr. Robert Kimball and Mr. William Kimball spent the past week-end at their home.

Captain Paul Brawley spent a quiet week-end at home, milking the cows and feeding the chickens.

Mr. Bob Armacost spent the Thanksgiving holidays at his home in Norfolk.

Miss "Dot" Milks was accompanied to her home in Ashboro by Misses Esther Cole and Ruth Gamble.

Two of the three musketeers, namely George Chandler and Hinton Rountree, spent the past week-end in Virgilina, Va.

Mr. Abernethy was accompanied to his home by Mr. T. Caudill.

Mr. "Dapey" Wyncoff also caught the "home fever" and spent the week-end at his home.

Misses Katie Pierce and Virginia Jay dined with Mrs. H. F. Mitchell in Burlington last Saturday night.

Mr. Alfred Barrett, of Carolina, was the guest of his sister, Miss Mabel Barrett, from Wednesday till Saturday of last week.

Miss Rosa Lee Morrell was the guest of Mr. Paul Brawley for the Thanksgiving dinner last Thursday night.

Miss Priscilla Chase visited her sister, Miss Barbara Chase, last week.

Rev. Potter, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Burlington, gave the Thanksgiving address in the Whitley Auditorium last Wednesday morning. His topic was "A Grateful Heart—A Thankful Spirit."

Three hundred and twelve years ago the Pilgrim fathers landed on this country. In 1789 George Washington issued the first presidential national Thanksgiving proclamation.

The whole Bible, said Rev. Potter, is a book of praises and thanksgiving. Jesus always carried in His heart the spirit of gratitude and thankfulness. In order that we may have the spirit of the Master and follow in His footsteps we should be thankful for all the things we have. For what things should we give thanks?—blessings, past and present, and future for mercies, temporal and spiritual, for food and clothing and shelter; for God's protecting care; for the Bible; for the school; for the college privileges; for the ordinance of God's house; for the sacrament of the church; for the spiritual power and influence; and, above all, for Christ, the God, Father, Redeemer, and King. When we try to count God's blessings and mercies, it is an impossible task, just as much so as to try to count the numerous stars in the heavens.

In all of our thinking and praying, let us not forget to thank God first of all, for life, that we are living folks. Let us not forget to thank God for what we have left.

WHAT YOUR DOLLAR A MONTH WILL DO

The Dollar-A-Month Club is being organized with a view of securing 5,000 members as soon as possible to enable Elon College to do several things. First, if we secure these memberships, we shall balance our budget, for the President has greatly reduced the current expenses of the institution without reducing the efficiency of the service. Second, we shall be able to liquidate our most urgent obligations which disturb the minds of all friends of the College. Your dollar-a-month will enable the College to multiply friends of the College by making it possible for the largest number of persons to share in the educational interests of the Church. This opportunity is in the reach of almost all. About three cents a day to save Elon College is not much, and more than 5,000 persons can do this much, and more, if they will try. If you contribute ten cents a day, you can take three memberships. Your dollar-a-month will enable the College to prove that there are those who love the institution and inspire others to help liquidate all indebtedness in the course of time. It would inspire the workers here at the College to undertake even greater things for the educational interests of the Church. It would enable us to receive not only the moral support of the Congregationalists, but 5,000 members of the Christians in the Dollar-A-Month Club, paying $5,000 monthly, would inspire them to believe in our loyalty, our devotion, our self-sacrifice and our determination to the extent that they would rally to our assistance and help us remove the burden that we are carrying and set the College free to undertake greater things. This, in turn, would inspire General Educational agencies, and Foundations to contribute to an endowment, which would enable us to carry on without contracting further debt.

If you and each of you, five thousand strong, would unite with the Dollar-A-Month Club, our President

(Continued on Page 4)