

The Maroon And Gold

Give Your College Paper Your Earnest and Loyal Support

VOL. NINE

ELON COLLEGE, N. C., SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1936.

NUMBER EIGHTEEN

PUBLISHED EACH WEEK BY STUDENT BODY OF ELON COLLEGE

Annual Banquet Is Held By Sigma Phi Beta Frat

Group Meets With Festive Observance

Impressive And Entertaining Program Is Carried Out Amid Appropriate Setting Here

The annual banquet of the Sigma Phi Beta Fraternity was held in the Y. M. C. A. building on Saturday, March seventh. The banquet hall was festive, with ivy covered trellises forming a background, for the scene. The tables were arranged in the shape of the Greek letter, Sigma, and were adorned with streamers of the fraternity colors, black and yellow. An array of yellow candles gave illumination to the festivity and a centerpiece of yellow nasturtiums graced the speaker's table.

Corsages of yellow roses tied with black ribbon serving as favors were at the place of each guest. The programs were yellow folders printed in black.

The A. and T. orchestra furnished music for the occasion. "The Sweetheart of Sigma Phi" was the first rendition and other tunes, both new and old were applauded between part of the program.

The menu was most attractive as well as appetizing, and carried out further the color schemes of black and yellow.

Luther Boyd acted as toastmaster, and extended to all a most gracious welcome. Miss Esther Hoppensteadt responded to the welcome. Other toasts were as follows:

To the Girls—John Cameron.
To the Boys—Beulah Bradley.
To the New Brothers—Hatcher Story.

Response—John Collyer.
To the Old Brothers—Bill Cooper.

Response—E. L. Moffit, Jr.

The last feature of the program was most unique and entertaining. W. W. Kimball, acting as Major Boves presented his amateurs in person. The first number was a string duo by Charlie Holmes and Al Maestro. L. E. Smith, Jr., a shepherd from Glenn Raven, rendered a vocal selection entitled "The call of the last Sheep" "Shag" Lilley in his indescribable manner entertained the guests in a manner that gained him great applause and won him the prize awarded for the contest.

Some of the Alumni who attended the banquet were:

Robert Boyd and H. E. White of Henderson, Tom Hughes of Farmville, N. C., Japleth Rawls of Suffolk, Hunter Herrington and Sam Remsey of Norfolk, Wilkes Lowe, Hinton Rountree, Charlie Evans of Charlottesville, Thomas Britt of Suffolk.

The banquet closed with the spirited song and yell by the brothers of Sigma Phi Beta.

Miss Margaret Corbitt spent the past week end at her home in Shelby.

CAMPAIGN OPEN FOR UNIFORMS

The Elon College Band is starting a campaign for uniforms. This is an ambitious undertaking, and strenuous efforts are being made to achieve the goal. The members of the Band have all been working consistently and hopefully on this project, and are giving unsparingly of their time and energy in order to equip the organization with uniforms and to give it a more solid footing. However, it is an impossibility for a mere handful of students to do all this work alone. Help is needed.

The Band is an organization that in some measure or other affects almost every student on the campus. Its participation in the athletic events alone would stamp it as an integral part of college life. The school spirit that it fosters is definitely constructive and beneficial. It also exerts a cultural influence in the realm of ex-

(Continued On Last Page.)

Music Contest Is Here Today

State Federation Of Music Clubs Is Holding Junior Contest At Elon

The North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs will hold the annual State Junior music contest at Elon today with the Elon music club playing host to the contestants here.

In the contest here the winners of the six district contests that were held throughout the state this week will meet in the finals of the state tests, with the contestants being listed in the age limit of from six to eighteen. The contest will bring a large number of the state's most outstanding young musicians to the campus and will also bring some of the highly outstanding music leaders of the state here. Among the outstanding music leaders in the state who will be here today are Mrs. J. S. Gorrell, the state president of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs, of Raleigh; Mrs. Grady Ross, the state counselor, of Charlotte; and many other outstanding leaders.

The contest will be under the direction of Mrs. H. N. McAllister, of Lumberton, a former member of the Elon college music faculty. All events are open to the public.

Alumni Notes

L. A. Burton, Class of '27 is now at Mount Holly, N. C.

Mrs. S. C. Mann, formerly Miss Margaret Bruton, is now making her home at Ocala, Fla.

Professor C. M. Miller, Class of '21, is now making his home at 348 Fairview Road, Biltmore Station, Asheville, N. C.

Mrs. S. N. Chandler, formerly Miss Helen Turner, Class of '32, is teaching in the Hatteras High school.

ELON PLAYERS WILL PRESENT TWO COMEDIES

Local Dramatics Organization To Give Two One-Act Plays Next Thursday

On Thursday March 19, in the Whitley auditorium, the Elon College Players will present two one-act plays, "Joint Owners in Spain" and "Finders-Keepers."

"Joint Owners in Spain," is a comedy by Alice Brown. It is a story of strife in an old ladies' home. Two of the old ladies, Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Dyer, are so cantankerous that they cannot get along with any of the other ladies. In an attempt to solve the problem, Mrs. Mitchell, the matron, places them in the same room. The manner in which they attempted to iron out their difficulties results in an interesting situation. The part of Mrs. Blair will be portrayed by Beatrice Wilkins, that of Miss Dyer by Margaret Earp, and that of Mrs. Mitchell by Frances Goodwin. Hazel Farmer will play the part of Mrs. Fullerton, another of the old ladies in the home.

George Kelly's play, "Finders-Keepers," is a modern realistic comedy. It has been called "a cynical little slice of life." It depicts a critical situation between two people—a man and his wife. Mr. Allred will be played by Leon Newman, and Janie Franks will take the part of Mrs. Hampton, a neighbor, will be portrayed by Virginia Conyes.

Between the plays, the physical education department will present some tap dancing routines.

The plays are being presented under the direction of Miss Floyd Childs, head of the department of expression at Elon College, and will be the annual spring presentation of the Elon Players.

EDYTHE ERNST MOST POPULAR

Miss Edythe Ernst, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and an outstanding member of the Junior class at Elon college won first place honors in the popularity contest held here during the past week and sponsored by the Elon college band. Samuel McIver Watson, of Sanford, and a member of the senior class this year, won the honors for the men's division of the men's contest.

Miss Ernst is one of the most member of the graduating class here this year. Both of the two winners are popular figures on the campus and their selections were well deserved.

outstanding members of the Junior class at Elon. She has attained a fine and highly accredited record during her two and one half years as a student on the local campus in academic achievements as well as extra-curricular activities.

Sam Watson has also attained a high record at Elon and he is a

"Trade with Maroon and Gold Advertisers."

Rev. Scott Is Elected Group Pastor At Large

W. T. SCOTT

Will Serve For Florida And Georgia

Prominent Elon Alumnus Given High Honor; Member Of Class Of '24

The Board of Directors of the Home Boards of the Congregational Christian churches, meeting at Evanston last week, elected Rev. William T. Scott of Winston-Salem, as Pastor-At-Large for the Southeast to succeed Rev. Milo J. Sweet, who retires April 1st. As the Congregational churches in the Southern Convention, Mr. Scott's special responsibility will be in Georgia and assisting in the work of Florida, and it is expected that in the early summer he will move to Jacksonville, where he will make his headquarters.

It is felt that Mr. Scott is admirably equipped by his background, education and experience for this work. He was born in North Carolina, educated at Elon College and Yale divinity School, taking some summer courses also at Union Theological Seminary. During his Junior and Senior years at Elon he was student pastor for rural churches. He was also a leader in many campus activities especially winning three orator's medals and being college debater. He was ordained to the ministry in 1923 by the North Carolina and Virginia Christian Conference. In 1924-25 he was director of Religious Education for the Christian Temple, Norfolk, Va., where Dr. Leon E. Smith was the pastor. During his years as a theological student he spent three summers in Student Summer Service work in Oklahoma under the Extension Boards. In 1928 he became pastor of Walnut Hills Christian church, Dayton, Ohio. Later he became pastor at the United church, Salisbury, which he served while organizing the United church at Winston-Salem. Since 1932 he has given his full time to the new enterprise which has made marked progress. There is now there, a growing church with a fine building-site and an attractive parish house and chapel. Mr. and Mrs. Scott are greatly beloved by the Winston-Salem church people and they have also been active in Winston-Salem life. He is a member of the Lion's Club.

Mr. Scott has been active in working out the merger of the Congregational and Christian bodies in the Southern Convention, is Past-moderator of the Congregational Conference of the Carolinas, and was re-elected president of the North Carolina and Virginia Conference of Congregational Christian churches last fall. He is also President of the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Convention of the Conference. He has been active in Summer Conferences at Elon and Blue Ridge. For the past three years Mr. Scott has been a member of the Survey Committee of the Commission on Missions, which is one of the most important committees of the Commission. This has

(Continued On Last Page.)

Piano Recital Is Given Here

Lucille and Lois Crowder Delight Elon Audience With Duo-Piano Concert

Delighting a good audience, Lucille and Louise Crowder rendered a fine piano recital here Thursday day night in a duo-concert on the Elon college lyceum course entertainment program.

Mr. and Mrs. Crowder showed themselves to be very well trained in the field of piano music and gave a fine performance before the local audience in the program Memorial auditorium here. Their Thursday evening in the Whitley program included several outstanding selections from well-known composers and which are some of the foremost works of of duo-piano literature.

Lucille and Louise Crowder appeared before the Elon audience in the past and their work is high proclaimed here. Their program here this week proved one of the best in which they have appeared here.

The duo-piano concert was the sixth number of this season's lyceum course and the final number of the program is scheduled to be held April 23 when Miss Dicie Howell, well known and outstanding soprano from New York City will appear in recital here.

JIM HARRIS HAS PNEUMONIA AT HOME

The many friends of Jim Harris will be grieved to know that he is ill with pneumonia. Jim had a bad case of flu and as he was recovering decided to go home for the week-end. After getting home he was examined by a doctor and found to have pneumonia.

The latest reports are that Jim is rapidly improving, but it is doubtful he will recover in time to return to college this spring. This is the second student within the last few weeks to be forced out of school because of illness. Donald Hamilton, president of the Freshmen, class underwent an operation that took so much of his time from classes he decided to give it up for the spring.