

SPORTS

GRID PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

BACKS STRONGER AND MORE CAPABLE THAN LAST YEAR

James Abbutt Rated to Be One of the Very Best Kickers in South.

LINE IS FAST DEVELOPING

"Hash" Israel Replaces Captain Walsler at Center Position in Elon's Line.

By "BUGS" COLLYER

Not in the past two years has Elon been so well fortified with prospective material for every position on the team, although some difficulty has been encountered in filling the guard and halfback posts. But new recruits and reserves from last year have been clamoring to make up for the loss of Jimmy Hartsell and Jimmy Hartzell, two rugged guards, and Webb Newsome.

Jack Stallings, and Bill Jones, who stood out in the back positions.

The parade of backfield candidates has been led by James Abbutt, 185-pound fullback. Other starting half carriers from last year's championship eleven are Joe Caruso, 165 pounds, and Yale Goodes, 170, halfbacks, and Ames Shelton, 165-pound quarterback.

Others who have had backfield experience are Al Napoli, Joe Humphries, Charles Engles, Bob Strasser, Dan Farrar and Tom Goldfarb. All of these have seen action in the State and Washington and Lee games and have proven themselves capable of playing on the starting eleven.

With four men ranging around 190, Elon is well-fixed at tackle. Three lettermen, James Day, last year's 180-pound line star; Ben Hurst, 175 pounds, and Eddie Yungals, 190 pounds, are joined by Jack Fritz, an 185-pounder from the recruits.

The guard positions are held down by Al Maistro, 185-pound letter man, and Hap Taylor, 190 pounds, who played center last year. The guard list includes Harry James, Jack Gault and John Beaver.

Hal Bradley, John Tripsodi, Don Schlitter, all lettermen, are handling the end positions along with Art Lea. Captain Walsler and Archie Israel complete the team at center.

Checked by the manner in which the Elon Christians performed against the highly regarded Wolfpack of N. C. State, Christian followers regard the chances of another conference championship as very favorable.

When a football team has a good line, with at least one danger threat in the backfield, it is fairly well equipped to latch onto some victories.

Elon, it seems, has that. The Christian line gave the eyewitnesses a nice surprise at the capital, the other Saturday. With Walsler and Maistro leading the parade into the State backfield, the Christian line really did well. Mr. Abbutt was the backfield threat.

If the Christian line continues to show what it gave a sample of against the Wolfpack, it will be added testimony, that you don't have to have a lot of beef in the midriff to play good football. The Elon guards and center are light fellows, but active.

The Elonians look to be in for a good season, and little wonder their friends see the possibility of a victory over the unpredictable George Washington Colonials at Washington Friday night.

CAPTAIN RUDY WALSER

COMMON BOYS LET'S GO

HE HAS BEEN A SPARKPLUG ON THE TEAM, ALWAYS FULL OF CHATTER

A'HEM

WALSER IS CAPTAIN OF THE FOOTBALL TEAM

RUDY WALSER

HOLD IT

HE WAS CHOSEN ALL-CONFERENCE CENTER FOR THE PAST 2 YEARS AND WILL PROBABLY MAKE IT THIS YEAR AGAIN

WASHINGTON & LEE WINS OVER ELON

Generals Gain Overwhelming Victory in Clash With Christians, Winning 27 to 0.

SHELTON, ABBITT SHINE

Washington, Va., Sept. 26. Led by Wilson Sanchez, letter fullback, Washington and Lee defeated Elon by the lopsided score of 27 to 0, in the Christians' second inter-collegiate game of the season.

James Abbutt, fullback, and Ames Shelton, quarterback, were the chief gridiron heroes for the Christians. Abbutt gained some good points, despite the Generals' striving through to rush him.

A blocked punt and a blocked field goal were the way to the Generals' first touchdown. Paddy Owens and Captain Berryman Ekes, squeezed Abbutt's kick. This punt frequently broke through to score the Elon backs for losses.

Roberts, recovered on the three-yard line, and Sanchez plunged three yards for the tally.

Elon made the bid to score in the third period, with Abbutt and Carus making first downs to the Generals' backfield line, but Washington and Lee was strong enough to hold the Christians and Carson kicked out from behind his own goal. The Christians never threatened after that.

Schlitter, Hurst and Maistro were out standing for the Christian line, while Abbutt and Shelton stood out in the backfield. Sample, Carson and Dunlap were the stars for the Generals.

RAMBLING

with FRANK DONOVAN

As the successor of Red Crowlish I will endeavor to give you "Ramblings" in the field of sport for this vicinity. So bear with me.

When Hal Bradley pressed his foot against the platoon at Raleigh Field, Saturday afternoon, the bid was good. Elon's 1936 football schedule is quite a number of Elon students made the trip to the game, which proves that the entire student body has plenty of confidence in his year's organization.

Eddie R. Hinski, State's left halfback, provided the fans with plenty of thrills with his running ability, but Jimmie Abbutt's kicking was the real feature of the game. One of his punts, made while he was running away from a couple of State tacklers, traveled beyond the midfield stripe. "Hash" Israel, a freshman, was substituted at fullback on the defense, and he made a tackle on his first play. Perhaps shutting players around soon in a game would be a good idea. Good for them!

Hurst and Abbutt were the only players to stay in the game the entire day. The announcer must have heard Al Maistro play his guitar, because he called him "Maistro" throughout the game. When Elon football players are the most "Maistro".

The numbers on the players' jerseys didn't correspond to those listed in the program, which made it difficult to see who was who. It was much too hot for football; this was a State's advantage, for they had the greater amount of reserve power. Evidence of this was seen in the first quarter, when Elon threatened State's goal line. Hank Anderson sent in an entire fresh team to hold back Elon's tired, perspiring six-minute men.

All in all, Elon played a much better game than was expected, and that's what counts. You don't have to win a game to gain a victory.

SPORTS NOTES: Pete Nakkolas, the Duke pitcher who beat Elon last spring, went right up to the big leagues with Connie Mack's Athletics. He didn't last long, however, for all he had was a screwy delivery, but no screw ball. His new throwing them for a Brooklyn semi-pro outfit. . . . Artie "Puddle Foot" Greenwald, Elon's No. 2 tennis man, lost by default to Michigan U's No. 1 man in a tournament this summer.

For Digestion's Sake... Smoke Camels

THE FIRST DAYS of the semester are usually crowded. But Camels help a lot. Camels give you a welcome "lift" in energy—stimulate digestion—bring a sense of well-being. And they never jangle your nerves.

With Camels, mealtime is more pleasant—digestion is stimulated—alkalinity increased

IN our busy lives, mealtime is apt to catch us at a disadvantage. We're often under nervous tension and physical strain. As a result, the free flow of digestive fluids is slowed down. How quickly Camels change this. For when you enjoy Camels the digestive fluids are gently and naturally restored to fuller flow. Alkalinity is increased. Time and again, physiological laboratories have checked this welcome effect of smoking Camels.

Camels are mild—you can enjoy them any time. They never jangle your nerves or tire your taste. Camels set you right!

Copyright, 1936, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

PLUCKY DARE-DEVIL. Miss Uva Kimmy (left), America's outstanding girl parachute jumper with 48 jumps to her credit, says: "I smoke Camels for digestion's sake. They encourage digestion in a pleasant way."

"THERE'S NOTHING like a Camel to set you right," says Bill Ferguson (below), crack salesman. "Camels give me an extra sense of well-being and contentment. I always smoke them as an aid to digestion."

CULINARY MASTER-PIECES by the chef of Washington's famous Hotel Shoreham. Here the joy of living is the keynote of the cosmopolitan patronage. Rare dishes gathered from world markets delight the taste. And Camels dot the tables of the diners. Robert—maitre d'hotel—observes: "People demand the finest in foods and they also demand the finest in cigarettes. Camels are the outstanding favorite."

Sport Briefs

Webb Newsome, former Elon grid-iron and diamond star, has turned pedagogic. . . . Jim Hutchins is the only member of last year's Carolina backfield to return. . . . Football was in the air Saturday. A number of those who attended the game at Raleigh in the afternoon went to the Duke-Davidson game at Greensboro the same night. Mike Briggs and Paul Cheek, two former Elon baseball captains, played with Asheville in the inter-city league this summer. . . . "Possum" Kames played against an old high school teammate Saturday, Herb Kirchner, State guard. . . . "Wimpy" Fowler says he made twenty-one fifty a week playing ball this summer—twenty-one meals and fifty cents.

HOLLYWOOD RADIO TREAT! Camel Cigarettes bring you a FULL HOUR'S ENTERTAINMENT! Two great orchestras and glamorous Hollywood Guest Stars. Tuesday—9:30 pm E.S.T., 8:30 pm C.S.T., 7:30 pm M.S.T., 6:30 pm P.S.T. WABC-Columbia Network.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS!

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.