

Basketball Team Is 'Leaving Things Up'

Starting with a record of 1-1 on the grid, the basketball team is leaving things up in the air...

Next on the agenda for the basketball team is a game with the Virginia Cavaliers...

The Naval Academy team from Newport News, put up the toughest battle of the Virginia opponents...

It took an extra five minutes period for the Canvassed to subdue the "Johnnies" of St. John's of Annapolis, Md.

Captain Hal Bradley led the team in scoring on this trip, with 16 field goals and 5 foul shots for a total of 37 points.

Things we'd like to see:

Wes Holland stopping at the 'Brewery' Billiard Parlor in Kinston, on his way over to the 'Hill'...

Murphy, Talchin-ky, Arnie Israel, Ben Lilien, G. Lombard, Arnie Anshelevitz, and Arnie Greenwald, do the Big Apple to 'Bei Mite Best Du schen'.

Joe Hilgreen getting up one morning looking as if he had a full night's sleep.

Some "who done it's" in the Elia movies.

Al Mastro, rubbing vanishing cream on his nose illustrating the height of optimism.

Things we'd like to hear: Caillany telling the desk clerk at the Washington Y. M. C. A. that he was one of the Christians.

Maxine Sullivan every evening. Art Lea and Willie Hinkle discussing some beach experiences.

The news that the faculty has decided not to give exams this year.

What New Year's Resolutions Did You Make?

G. C. MITCHELL, Sophomore: "I resolve to do my best to get in Prof. Stewart's eight o'clock classes on time."

VERNON BRAXTON, Senior: "Resolved to pass 'Math' and 'sleep more.'"

J. McGALLIARD, Senior: "That the moral order of the universe may advance as much as possible. I resolve to give my wholehearted support."

C. T. PRITCHETT, Senior: "No make-no break, is my policy."

GEORGE COLCLOUGH: "To stop smoking and get more pretty girls for Elon in 1938-39."

VIRGINIA CONYES, Senior: "Resolved, not to make any more resolutions 'cause I break them anyway."

MELVIN JAMES, Junior: "Resolved, to have more different kinds of pills for the infirmary."

SOULE CHANDLER, Senior: "Resolved to do all I can, when I can, and where I can."

AL MASTRO, Senior: "Resolved to abide by the rules, conventions, formalities which govern society at large, and to make a formal study of Joe Golembek's treatise on 'Etiquette for Men', particularly Chap. 9, sect. 8 A, which accurately explains the proper method of eating 'Mantellini's Spaghetti unbound'—which does away with the use of the awkward shears previously in use."

PLUTO PARIS, Junior: "Not to do any worse than I have done so far—that gives me plenty of rope."

Wrestling Prospects Still Uncertain

Shortage of material for the future of the wrestling team seems to be Coach Power's main headache. There are several good prospects besides last year's buyovers, Jimm Wilburn and Azzie Thomas.

Coach Power has been stressing strenuous exercise and simple fundamentals to the newcomers. He recently told a representative of the Maroon and Gold that several matches would be announced pending the outcome of the team's training.

After such a successful first attempt last year, along with Coach Power, the Maroon and Gold is urging the "grapplers" to "bear down". Lets try and beat last year's record.

CHARLIE HAMRICK, "To make an effort to study more and make a better scholastic record than last year. To be more thoughtful of fellow students. To live a righteous life during this year."

ISAIAH SEARS, Senior, "I resolve this year to think through my problems as intelligently as I can, to appreciate people around me, and to make the most of my opportunities."

LESLIE MANCHESTER, Senior: "I resolve to try to get more out of my opportunities at Elon."

TOM PERRY, Junior: "I don't believe in them."

Library News

In "Getting Adjusted to Life" (see the December "Forum") in previous issues of the Maroon and Gold, we have been operating a filling station in his home town.

The greater values of life, the reality of life—they are to be found through the experience of toil and hardship and pain through living with their peers and being obliged to consider their needs, through the discipline and education that such relations with other people involve.

"When education ceases, death begins. And education is not stopping down for a sweet evening with a box of bonbons. Education is a matter of discipline, vigorous and long continued and often stern.

"And that is something not easy to accept. But it must be accepted. Nay, more; it must be welcomed. Coming with potency to ruin life, the richness of life must be drawn from that which threatens to destroy life."

Is he right, or is he right?

Many have wondered what becomes of Rhode Scholars. "Do they become leaders in American life or fall in obscurity?" This month's "Scribner's" surveys the results of the "Rhode" amazing experiment of modern times.

"No member of the cabinet has ever been a Rhode Scholar. No member of the Senate has been a Rhode Scholar." But, the author admits, the House of Representatives can boast of one, R. C. Clason of Massachusetts (and ain't nobody ever heard of him?). You will like the article.

Intramural Contests In Basketball Go On

As soon as the boys had returned to the campus after the Christmas vacation, intramural basketball games commenced and continued as if they had never been interrupted. There are twelve teams taking part in the games, and each team must play every other team on the schedule before the finals are played.

Practically every student on these teams has played basketball in high school, and many have been out for the varsity squads. Most of the games are played fast, and are exceptionally good ball games for intramural sports.

Coach Tom Power is supervisor of the college intramural sports program, but while Coach Power is busy with varsity wrestling Hal Watts is directing the intramural basketball games and acting as referee in most of the games.

Sigma Phi Beta and Iota Tau Kappa fraternities and East Dormitory seem to have the best teams so far, but there are other teams who have not played as many games, so it is as yet hard to predict who will win the campus championship.

The standings of the teams at this writing are as follows:

	Won	Lost
Sigma Phi Beta	3	0
Iota Tau Kappa	3	0
East Dormitory	3	0
House of David	1	0
Faculty	1	0
North 3rd Floor	1	1
North 1st Floor	1	2
Kappa Psi Nu	1	2
Day Students	2	1
Alpha Pi Delta	1	2

STILL "TOPS"... after 31 Years As a Tobacco Auctioneer

Veteran Jim Edwards tells why tobacco experts prefer Luckies 2 to 1...

"I recently sold 489,000 pounds of tobacco in one 6 1/2 hour day," says Mr. J. N. Edwards of Farmville, North Carolina.

"There was a buyer, naturally, for every one of those 489,000 pounds... But there was as much difference between the best grades and the inferior, as between a pretty girl and a homely one.

"At auction after auction, I've seen Lucky Strike go after the prettiest lots of tobacco. It's no wonder Luckies taste so good. I've smoked them since 1917.

"And another thing... even after yelling out tobacco bids all during a seven hour day, Luckies are still just as easy as ever on my throat."

Only Lucky Strike offers you the finest tobacco plus the throat-protection of the exclusive process "It's Toasted". This process takes out certain irritants found in all tobacco—even the finest.

Men who know tobacco from A to Z—experts like Mr. Edwards—are surely good judges of cigarettes... Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.
