

George Bullard
Steve Castura
Ernestine Johnson
"The Independent Endowed College" — Chancellor O. C. Carmichael of Vanderbilt, Tuesday, February 13, 1940, 10:30 to 11:30.

Seniors

Meeting in Society Hall
Dean Messick
Wesley Holland
Violet Hoffman
Mary Lou Hayes

Juniors

Meeting in Prof. Barney's classroom.

Prof. Dickinson
Moses Crutchfield
Howard Brown
Silvio Caruso

Sophomores

Meeting in Lecture Room
Dr. Sprague
Fred Gilliam
Edward Shaw
June Murphey

Freshmen, Section 2

Meeting in Little Chapel
Prof. Howell
Charles Taylor
Mildred Shook
Irvin Troxler

Freshmen, Section 1

Meeting in Main Auditorium
Dr. Gravett and Mrs. Johnson
Mike Holton
Jane Byrd
Jim Elder

"The Contribution of the Church-Related College to the Cause of Higher Education" — Dr. Gould Wickey — Wednesday, February 14, 1940, 11:30 to 12:30

Seniors

Meeting in Society Hall
Dr. Bowden
Duane Vore
Florine Ray
James Rogers

Juniors

Meeting in Prof. Barney's classroom.

Dr. French
Jimmy McDade
Wallace Kernodle
Mary Walker

Sophomores

Meeting in Lecture room
Prof. Hook
Kenneth Utt
Henry Wise
Ruth Martin

Freshmen, Section 2

Meeting in Little Chapel
Dean Oxford
Amos Phillips
Bryant Tripp
Lillian White

Freshmen, Section 1

Meeting in Main Auditorium
Prof. Barney
Jimmy Darden

Governor of North Carolina, was the principal speaker. On this day the original faculty was honored with special exercises in the chapel. At the noon hour, an elm tree was planted on the campus as a memorial to the original faculty.

The second period of celebration will be February 11 to 13. The topic for this period of celebration is "The Church School". The church school will be presented in contrast to and as a complement of the state and the privately endowed colleges. Speakers of wide reputation in the field of religion and education will appear on the program.

Sunday morning, February 11, at eleven o'clock President Few of Duke University will speak on "Religion and Education". Sunday evening at 7:30 President Graham of the University of North Carolina will bring greetings from the state schools. President Shelton Phelps of Winthrop College, Rock Hill, South Carolina, will speak on the topic "The State College as related to the Independent or Church Related College." Monday evening at 7:30, Chancellor O. C. Carmichael of Vanderbilt University will speak on "The Privately Endowed College and its Relation to the Church College." Tuesday evening at 7:30 Dr. Gould Wickey, Executive Secretary of the church-related colleges in the United States, will speak on "Contribution of the Church-Related College to the Cause of Higher Education."

Each day there will be a forum discussion led by the faculty and a committee selected from the students, lasting for one hour. The student body has been divided according to classes, and a member of the faculty will be present with each group. The topic for discussion each day will be the topic discussed by the visiting speaker the evening before. These committees representing the faculty and student body are asked to inform themselves on these topics in advance of the program. Attendance at the evening lectures and day forums will be required. This really is a golden opportunity for our students, and I am sure that we will have hearty cooperation on the part of all.

Rena Black
Nan Daughtry
Marjorie Copeland

Bits of paper and an exploded fire-cracker were found when the mat was torn from the wall. This led to the belief that a package of fire-crackers that had been shot off in the gym twenty minutes before the discovery of the fire was the cause. The damage was slight but the administration is continuing the investigation to clear up the matter.

BULLETIN

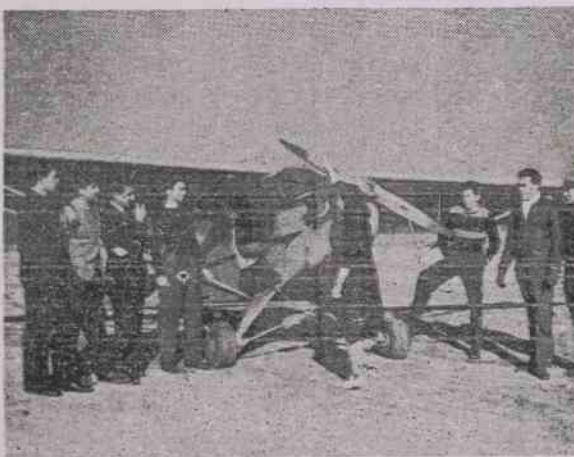

We are late because of the snow and closed roads.

How About A Leap Week

Appalachian State Teachers College is soon to observe "Leap Week". The last edition of their campus publication contained a proclamation which gave all the rules of the celebration, and rules they are.

The general idea is that all boys are forbidden the privilege of asking for dates, and the girls take it upon themselves this task. Next comes the old problem of who shall pay, but the Appalachian has taken care of that too. The girls are to pay for all drinks, gum, and show fares. We are not advocating male sufferage, but it sounds good to us. If you are interested in a celebration of this type see some member of the Maroon and Gold Staff. We already have partial consent of the administration, and it needs your support to survive.

CONTACT

Pictured here are the students of the aeronautics class. This photo was snapped at the Burlington airport, where the members of the class are taking flight instruction.

Lift to right are: Billy Wilkins, Sam Friedman, Earnest Koury, Royal Spence, Ellen Womble, hands on propeller, John Barney, E. A. Hunt and John Long.

but the diaze. Adequate precautions might have prevented such a tragedy.

New Yorker Suffers Appendix Inflammation

William Sullivan, freshman from Greenlawn, N. Y., was taken ill suddenly last week and was admitted to Alamance General Hospital where an examination revealed an advanced inflammation of the appendix. An operation was necessary.

The staff joins the student body in conveying its wish to Bill for a speedy and complete recovery, and hopes he'll be back with us shortly.

Sportsmanship Trophy

Pictured above is Dean Messick, past president of the North State conference. The beautiful trophy that he is holding is to be awarded to the team in the Conference which displays the best sportsmanship in athletic contests. In giving this trophy, Dean Messick hopes to promote better sportsmanship among the teams.

Editor's note: Come on, Christians: win this trophy.

Student Government Meeting Postponed

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the North Carolina Student Federation of Colleges and Universities, it was decided to hold the annual convention at Chapel Hill March 29 and 30.

The original plan was to have the convention in Greensboro with G. C. and Elon as co-hosts. The plan was changed in order to take advantage of the Institute of Government at U. N. C.

The topic or theme for discussion will be concerned with individual responsibilities in student government.

Elon and Greensboro are to be co-hosts for the convention in 1941.

bookings by "Jitter" Willard and "Pat" O'Goldblum). That is, unless they flunk out, heaven forbid. The music will be decidedly novel; the band has guaranteed to play in tune, and together — for a change.

The refreshments will be — we hope. A king's feast could scarcely be compared to it — if you're not too particular. And if you are, don't come. Novelty will be the keynote of the evening — as a matter of fact, it will be novel if it comes off at all.

There is, however, one fly in the ointment, one flaw in this veritable social Paradise. We ain't got enough dough. "Ain't it awful?" Freshmen, will you spoil this Utopian scheme? Will you break the Sophomores' heart by not making this their most enjoyable evening? Don't disrupt the night of which they have dreamed for weeks. As Confucius said, "Study hard, write your folks, eat your spinach, and — FRESHMEN, PAY YOUR DUES!"

Griffin Holland and Allen Askew Finish Academic Careers

At the end of the first semester each year Elon always had some students graduating along with those who drop out. This year there were only two seniors finishing. They were Allen Askew and Griffin Holland, both graduating with majors in the department of Business Administration.

Holland is from Shelby, N. C. When he left, his intention was to take a trip to California, and to return home where he has a job waiting for him. Mr. Holland is a transfer student from Shelby, N. C. He came here in 1937.

Askew is from Roduco, N. C. When questioned as to what he was going to do he replied that he was uncertain. He was hoping to get a job in this part of the state. Askew entered here in 1936. His graduation was due to his attending summer school last

MARY LOU HAYES TO HEAD PANVIO LITERARY SOCIETY

Mary Lou Hayes was elected president of the Panvio Literary Society for the next semester at a recent meeting. Evelyn Liller was made vice-president, which office includes the work of program chairman. Margaret Felton was elected secretary, and Hazel Dobbs was made treasurer.