

$853.75 Pledged To Students' All Or Nothing Club

Campaign Chairman In Hope Goal Will Be Reached Soon

Kenneth Utt, executive chairman of the STUDENTS ALL OR NOTHING CAMPAIGN, announced last night that to date $853.75 had been pledged toward the goal of $1,000. 257 students have contributed to this fund so far.

This campaign was launched two weeks ago by a group of student chairmen interested in seeing the individuals here take a part in the present drive for funds, that is being undertaken by our administration.

When the executive committee of the college inaugurated the All or Nothing Campaign several weeks ago, the purpose of the campaign was to raise the additional $105,000 remaining on our indebtedness.

Original plans called for the entire amount to be raised by last night in time to have the results announced in the Maroon and Gold, but unfortunately it was impossible to secure the entire amount by this time. No date has been set as to when the $1,000 goal must be reached, but if contributions continue to come in at the same pace they have in the past few days, the goal should certainly be reached by the middle of next week.

Several of the students met and discussed ways in which they could best help in this campaign. It was decided to try to raise $1,000 in student pledges to be applied to the total amount pledged. It was also decided to put the student campaign on the same basis as the original administration plan, and the club was then discussed, and it was decreed that the campaign would be entirely supervised and carried out by the students.

As the goal of $1,000 is being neared, it will be necessary not to forget the other goal that these students also hope to attain. That goal is to have every individual registered at the college to contribute at least a small amount to the cause. This is not much to ask is it? Parody us for editorializing, just a minute, but we would like to ask your continued interest and cooperation in the campaign, and we would like to express our sincere appreciation for all that you have accomplished so far.

Keep it up fellow students and we'll really win in a big way.

MEN'S LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS PICNIC AT KIVETTE'S CABIN

The Dr. Johnson's Literary Society held its first outing of the year at Kivette's Cabin Wednesday afternoon. The members of the Society and their dates left the College in the late afternoon on a hay-ride which ended at the cabin. Games were played and weiners were roasted over a large campfire.

NEW RECORDING MACHINE HAS BEEN INSTALLED HERE

The college has bought a new recording machine for the use of any student interested in making a record. The machine will be kept in the music building and will be under the supervision of Robert Pitts. An initial fee of one dollar is being charged for maintenance of the machine, the only additional cost will be for the records used and these will be sold at cost. Any student or club that would like to make a record should see Mr. Pitts and make an appointment.

The Trapp Family

In case you noticed that there is a difference in the kinds of type used in this issue of The Maroon and Gold, it is due to the fact that part of it was set on our own Linotype machine and the rest was set in Yanceyville.

The Cooperative Concert series is to be opened this season with "The Trapp Family Singers" on Wednesday evening, October 22 at 8:30 o'clock in Whitley Auditorium.

The group is composed of the wife, the five daughters, and the two sons of an aristocratic Austrian family. Each member of the family has perfect pitch and they sing a capella, without need of accompaniment.

During the past four years, the Trapps have made successful concert tours in England, France, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Holland, and Italy. This season will be their third in this country, where from coast to coast, they have made friends and rekindled enthusiasm for the magnificent music they sing.

The program of the coming concert offers variety and interest for every listener. It consists of the early chorals, madrigals, well-loved songs by the classic and romantic composers sung in several different languages. The second half of the program is devoted to rollicking folk-songs which they sing in picturesque native costumes. They give yodels and mountain calls which have never been written down but which belong to the Trapp family by tradition and inheritance and bring us to quote Baroness von Trapp, that "although the name of Austria is dead, its culture and its art must continue to live."

Albert Spaulding, a violinist of great fame, is to be presented February 15 in the second of the programs.

The last concert of the series will be given on April 5 by Lansing Hatfield, one of North Carolina's great singers.

Student admission will be by pass books. Please remember that they are non-transferrable.

S. C. A. Cabinet Holds Regular Meeting

At their regular business meeting last Thursday night, the Student Christian Association welcomed Jeanne Hook, recently elected President of the Freshman Cabinet, as the Freshman Representative to the Senior Cabinet. Jeanne seems to be aware of the responsibility she holds and is fully capable of leading the Freshmen in their projects for the coming year.

Joe Tom Stephens, Mary Deane Brown, and Ivan Ollis were appointed to the Deputations, Missions, and Junior Deacons Committees, respectively. Joe Tom, who is originally from Roanoke, Alabama, is a transfer from Southern Union Junior College, Wadley, Alabama.

Other business included discussion of a picnic supper to be given in the near future, and final plans were made for having a chapel program once each month sponsored by the S. C. A. ity.

Sophomore-Freshman Postponed Two Weeks

The Sophomore-Freshmen reception, originally scheduled for last Saturday night, was postponed at the last minute, because it was impossible to secure music for the occasion.

Tentative plans call for the reception to be held on October 25, which is next Saturday night. So, barring any unforeseen events, the Sophomores will open the inter-class social season at this time.

CO-EDITOR OF MAROON AND GOLD HAS LEFT SCHOOL

Mary Mendenhall, Co-editor of the Maroon and Gold, has left school and will take a position in her home town, Orlando, Fla. Mary, an outstanding member of the Junior Class, was secretary of her class, a member of the Pan Hellenic Council and a member of the Beta Omicron Beta Sorority.

Entire coverage of the new faces on the campus was impossible last issue, therefore we are continuing an introduction to these people in paper. We regret very much that pictures of all these faces were not available, but here goes with what information we have.

Professor Frederick Loadwick, who replaces Julian Gardner as Instructor of Voice, has had a thorough background of musical training. He is a Northerner by birth, a native of Harrisville, N. Y. He attended various grade schools throughout New York state, and graduated from high school at Oswego, N. Y. It was during his early school days that he became intensely interested in the study of voice and he devoted three years of his high school education. When he received a scholarship in Voice at the University of Syracuse, he entered as a student under the valuable and able instruction of Dean Harold L. Butler. Later, having received his major in voice, he decided to further his studies at the famous Julliard Graduate School, to which he also received a Voice scholarship. During the following four years at this Observatory, he studied Opera as well as Voice and was given the leading role in five major productions. After leaving graduate school he appeared in concert and oratorio engagements in New Jersey, New York City, and New England. For four years he was heard as soloist in many productions and appeared many times on various radio programs, until he came to Elon.

The new leader of our band is Mr. Rhodes, an alumnus of Elon. He attended the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music and has been a leader of the Burlington High School band for seven years. He also teaches mathematics at the high school. Mr. Rhodes states that he hopes to give us the best band yet had at Elon.

Miss Juanita Pardue has accepted the position as college nurse, replacing Miss Helen Clodfelter. She started her education in the public school of Concord, N. C., and she also attended Altamahaw-Ossipee High School in Alamance County. For three years she was in training at Alamance General Hospital, and for a year did private nursing in Burlington.

Professor Hornaday, like most of our new faculty, is from North Carolina. He has been connected with education since his graduation from Trinity College, now Duke University, where he received both A. B. and Masters degree. He majored in English. For several years he taught at Duke University and in the summer he taught English at State College. For the past few years he has been doing graduate work at Columbia University and teaching in the municipal colleges. Having pursued research work at Columbia he received the Masters degree and later the Ph. D. Degree. He spent sometime in travel and study and the University of Berlin. Last year he published a literary magazine of the University of Wisconsin. He was author last of a book of two hundred and twenty-one pages published by Columbia University. Professor Hornaday comes to Elon to supply the vacancy made by the absence of Dr. Fletcher Collins.

Elon Student Senate Sponsors Quiz Program

"Professor" Tom Smythe took over the job in Chapel Monday morning of stumping the Elon Quiz Experts. The program was sponsored by the Student Senate and for each miss, they gave a quarter to the STUDENTS' ALL OR NOTHING CAMPAIGN. On the board of experts were Miss Wilsie Bussell, Betty Hoyt, Dr. French, Coach Hendrickson, Jim Ferris and Jimmy Elder.

The board did so well that Dr. Smith had to see that things were not made too easy for them. The program was cut short by return to classes, but before leaving, the Senate turned over the remainder of the money to the Campaign.

The most versatile performer of the team was Coach Hendrickson who threw passes into the literary and musical field as well as the athletic realm.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Ministerial Association is a little noted, but very necessary part of Elon's campus life. Composed of those students who intend entering the ministry, it goes its way, holding meetings and gaining inspiration from them, without being given much recognition. Every Monday afternoon it has its regular meeting, where sermonettes are given by students, with constructive criticism. Private devotions are held, and once a month a special meeting with outside speakers is held in the Y. W. C. A. or in private homes. Other students and the general public are invited to attend these meetings and participate in the program.

Sigma Phi Beta took in four new members, Marvin Walker, A. D. Cobb, Bill Zipperer, and Keith Harris; while Delta Upsilon Kappa took in Alice Blue Mangum, Millicent Brittan and Carolyn McClenny.

NEW MEMBERS TAKE OATH AT SOCIETY CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

The Panvio Literary Society met Wednesday night in the Society Hall. It was a candlelight service at which twelve new girls took the society oath as new members. The oath was administered by the President, Marjorie Hunter and following this a program was presented by Nora Summey.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held next Wednesday night at the local Scout Cabin. This will be the first outing of the year.

Reporter Solves Enrollment Total

Ye reporter was asked to write a story concerning the enrollment of the college this year. I did find out that we have one, but I had to contact five people before the actual number could be found. There are enrolled at Elon this year 580 students.

Quite naturally they do not all come from the same state. At the same time no one seems to know how many states are represented here on the campus. Someone did tell me that there were 18 states represented here last year and that it would be safe to say that there is approximately the same number this term.

Among our fellows are two sets of twins: Evelyn and Emily Harrel from Burgaw, North Carolina and H. C. and Bobby Hisey of Shenandoah, Va. The Harrell twins have been elected cheerleaders for the year. I think the Hisey boys would have been elected to something like that except for the fact that they look so much alike that the cheerers would probably be to confused to yell.

In one office I was told that there are, "222 fine young people from Alamance county in school here this year."

I asked, "Do you know any more peculiarities about the student body?"

The answer floored me. "None that would do to print!"
