Three Seniors To Graduate At End Of First Quarter

When the first quarter closes on November 24, three seniors will have completed the necessary requirements for graduation from Elon. They are Buster Butler from Prospect Hill, Bobby Johnston of Elon, and Ruth Koontz of High Point, N. C. Buster majored in Business Administration during his career here, and Bobby in Physics and Mathematics. Both are members of the V-7 Naval Reserve and will enter midshipman's school sometime in December. Buster is at present president of the student body and Bobby is president of the day student's organization and of the senior class.

Miss Koontz majored in English and French. At present she is considering accepting a teaching position at the Pleasant Garden high school near Greensboro. She has been active in campus activities. We shall miss these seniors, and we wish them well and hope to see them back here often.

Eleven Elon College Students To Be Listed In 1943-44 Issue Of Who's Who Book

Photographer Makes Phi Psi Cli Pictures

Work was begun on the college yearbook Wednesday and Thursday, November 17 and 18, when Mr. Torrence of Torrence Studio in Salisbury was here to make individual and group pictures for the annual. The photographer worked from 9 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. both days, allowing three minutes for each individual picture and five minutes for each group picture.

Proofs of these pictures will be ready sometime the first of December. Mr. Torrence will mail them to the editor and each person will be permitted to choose the proof he wants published. Anyone who wants a picture from the proofs will have to mail his order to Mr. Torrence personally. Plans are already progressing for the Phi Psi Cli, although the details have not yet been determined. Every effort will be made to keep the book as near up to past standards as wartime restrictions will permit.

Eleven Elon seniors will be listed in the 1943-44 publication of "WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES," according to an announcement from Dean Messick's office. They are Spike Harrell, Virginia Jeffreys, Bobby Johnston, Faye Thomas, Rachael Crowell, Elizabeth Hill, Buster Butler, Charlotte Husted, Shannon Morgan, Ruth Koontz and Elliott Schmidt, who is now teaching at Staunton Military Academy in Virginia.

The nominations to WHO'S WHO were made by a committee of faculty members and were chosen conscientiously and impartially. Requisites for membership include character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to the business world and society.

The candidates were carefully considered and their qualifications discussed. Those selected are active in campus life, and in some special phase, whether it be scholarship, religious work, literary, student government, public speaking, or music. This is a standard of measurement for them comparable to other recognized scholastic and service organizations and also recommends them as successful students to the business world.

S. S. O. PRESENTS

CHAPEL PROGRAM

The Student Service Organization presented an impressive program at the chapel hour Monday, November 15, for the purpose of introducing the group and its functions to the students. The college band opened the program by playing Sousa's "Washington Post."

Ann Frink, head of the S. S. O., talked to the students, emphasizing the importance of each doing his part to help bring the boys back safely. She explained the Red Cross program undertaken by the organization. This includes making surgical dressings on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and nights, the blood donating project which is at present at a standstill because of lack of facilities, and the first aid course which will be offered in the spring under the direction of Coach Pierce.

The band played several numbers. Then Eva Carpenter spoke reminding the students again of the part they can play in the war effort. A list of Elon boys who have already given their lives for their country was read.

Dr. Truitt spoke on a varied selection of topics during the week. His topics included The Weaving of a Tapestry, Twenty-Third Psalm, Queen Esther, Earthen Vessels, The Lord's Prayer, Four Anchors, Keys to Life, and a message from the Sermon on the Mount. At the conclusion of the week, the invitation was given those people who wished to join the church. A number responded to the call.

It was a very profitable week for all who attended the meetings. There was a special Morning Watch service each morning at 7:15. Dr. Truitt had conferences with those students who wished to discuss their problems with him.

ANDES AND SNYDER TO BE ORDAINED NOVEMBER 25

The Valley of Virginia Conference has accepted two Elon ministerial students, Mark Andes, a senior, and Walestein Snyder, a junior, to be ordained November 26. The churches of which these two boys are pastors put in the recommendation and asked that this be done. They are being accepted on the grounds of the present day emergency and the fact that they have full time work in these churches.

This is rather unusual, for Mark is being ordained one year and Walestein two years ahead of the accepted time. The conference is placing a great trust and heavy responsibility on these ministerial students.

Elliott, Violinist Opens Concert Course Nov. 15

Robert Elliott, young American violinist, opened the Elon College Concert Course Monday night with a program when captured the audience from the start.

Technical clarity, precision, and sincerity of interpretation on the part of Mr. Elliott were at all times manifest in his program. In his Handel's Sonata in D major, as well as the remaining numbers on the program, the artist showed his keen regard for phrasing and succeeded in conveying every change of mood to the audience. His contrasts in repeated phrases were always marked yet at all times rendered with great discretion.

In Mozart's Concerto in D major he played with the restraint and yet the playfulness of typical Mozart. The third number, the Vieuxtemps Concerto in E major, of which Mr. Elliott played the allegro movement, which contains spiccato, flying staccato, double stops and other devices, proved without a doubt that the artist was master of his instrument technically and bespoke this thorough training and musicianship.

The last group on the program consisted of four short numbers: the delightfully modern "Sumare" (Milhaud) in which polytonality is rampant, "From the Canebrake" (Gardner), "Ave Maria" (Schubert-Wilhelm), and the Novacek "Perpetual Motion" which was taken at a whirlwind speed and served to bring the program to a fitting close. For encore Mr. Elliott played Cui's "Orientale."

Charles Granville was at the piano throughout the program and gave the Twelfth Hungarian Rhapsody by Liszt as a piano solo. His encore was "Prelude" by Prokofieff.

Panvio Group Takes 31 New Members

Wednesday evening in Society Hall the Panvio Literary Society met for its regular meeting. The business session was conducted by the president and plans were made for the annual Society Banquet. The banquet is to be held December 4 in the ballroom of the Alamance Hotel in Burlington. Volunteers were asked to roll bandages for the Red Cross next Tuesday night. They were Evelyn Harrelson, Hilda Neese, Edna Reitzel, and Helen Blalock.

After the business was completed, the meeting was turned over to the vice president who had charge of the program. It began with the group singing the Panvio Literary Society song. Nance Frink and Grace Towery led—they, also, composed the words to it. A variety musical program was then enjoyed. Evelyn Harrelson played "St. Louis Blues," "You'll Tell Me When," and "Shortenin' Bread" on the piano. Lucille Morgan entertained with "Prelude by Chopin" and "Hall of the Mountain King." Edith Hall played "Second Movement From Sonata Pathetique." Ruby Braxton sang, "Say a Prayer for the Boys Over There," and "My Buddy."

She was accompanied by Eva Carpenter at the piano. The last numbers, "Anchors Aweigh," "Boogie," "There Are Such Things," and "Priest's Marche," were played by Evelyn Harrelson at the piano.

The following new members were taken into the society: Helen Blalock, Florine Braxton, Ruby Braxton, Athaleen Buckner, Eva Carverton, Margaret Ann Clayton, Hazel Cole, Virginia Ezell, Ann Frink, Marion Griffin, Francis Harris, Edith Hall, Sara Henley, Evelyn Harrelson, Letha Hinnant, Marion James, Colette Jefferson, Betty Sue Lloyd, Lucille Morgan, Edna Nichols, Hilda Neese, Verdalee Norris, Carrie Rook, Margaret Rice, Joyce Smyth, Myrtle Shephard, Kathleen Shoffner, Claudia Tapscoot, Mary E. Wright, Sara Wrenn and Marie Ziady.
