

THANKS FOR AIDING
THE M. & G. POLL

Maroon and Gold

Published By And For Elon Students

CONGRATULATIONS TO "WHO'S WHO"

VOLUME XIX

ELON COLLEGE, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1944

NUMBER FOUR

Religious Education Week Begins Nov. 19

Quarter Ends December 1--Who's Who Announced

Fourteen Elon Students Make "Who's Who"

Fourteen Elon students have been nominated to be listed in the 1944-45 publication of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES, according to an announcement of the Student-Faculty committee at its first meeting in President Smith's office on November 8.

There are twelve seniors on the list. Mary Ellen McCants, Anderson, S. C.; Eliza Boyd, Henderson; Mary Warren, Staley; Doris Chandler, Walstein Snyder, and Nell Crenshaw, all of Burlington; Jeanne Hook, Iris Boland, and Edna Rumley, all of Elon College; Theo Strum of Roxboro; Lula Brown of West Palm Beach, Fla.; and Earl Farrell, Pittsboro, who is now a student at the Divinity School at Duke University. The Juniors who were nominated are Junius Peedin, Glendon, and Jesse Thurecht, Elizabeth City.

The nominations were made by a committee of faculty members and approved by the newly-organized Student-Faculty committee. The selections were based on achievement in leadership, scholarship, and character.

The candidates were carefully considered and their qualifications discussed. Those nominated are all active in campus life, showing leadership in extra-curricular activities, and are each outstanding in some special field—in student government, scholarship, literary, or religious work.

Lt. L. A. Simonson
Writes From India

BILL OF ONE-ACT PLAYS SET FOR TUESDAY EVENING

On November 14, at 8:15 p. m. in the Little Theatre, the College players will present their first bill of the year. Joe Franks will make his farewell appearance before reporting to the Army Air Corps, playing opposite Kathleen Young in the clever comedy, "Angels Don't Marry."

Ann Strader, Thomas Horner, and Gene Poe will carry the leads in a stirring play called "The Terrible Meek." This drama has an intense religious background.

Frances Pegrum and Lem Allen will do "A Girl and a Gob," a short comedy skit.

The Dramatics Committee of the faculty is reading a group of plays from which one will be chosen for the first major production of the Players. Tryouts for this will be held the first week in December.

Admission Tuesday evening will be fifteen cents.

Student Senate Is Rendering Service

Student government is no new thing on the campuses of America; it became popular about the year 1915, although it is much older than that. The movement began in the United States as a means of preparing within our schools a background for intelligent citizenship and partici-

Freshman class officers, pictured above. From right, Francis Detrick, DeGraff, Ohio, treasurer, Bill McIntyre, Spindale, vice-president, Danny Banks, New Bern, president, and Ruth Webster, Haw River, sec'y

Federation Of Music Clubs Holds Piedmont District Meet At Elon

Piedmont District of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs held its eighteenth annual meeting November 8th in the Whitley auditorium.

The senior group met at 10 a. m., opening their meeting with the singing of their Federation Hymn under the direction of Miss Margaret H. Whittington, of the Elon faculty. Invocation was given by Dr. D. J. Bowden, dean of the college. Mrs. J. Kenneth Pfohl, state president, led the Federation Collect. Dr. L. E. Smith, president of Elon College welcomed the Federation to the Elon campus; and Mrs. Mark Hoffman, president of the External Club of organist, Elon College; Mrs. W. E. Cook, pianist, Mebane; Miss Anne McClenny, pianist, Elon College; and the Guilford choir under the direction of Dr. Ezra H. F. Wels.

Luncheon was held at 1 in Mooney Hall. At this time reports of the district committees were given.

The afternoon session was devoted to the Junior division of the Federation. Miss Nell Clapp, district chairman, presided. The meeting was opened with the Federation Hymn. The Junior Collect was led by the Mendelssohn Club of Burlington. Professor Irving D. Bartley, of the Elon faculty, welcomed these active juniors to Elon. Miss Sarah Ann Slaw-

Dr. Jesse Dollar Will Conduct Religious Service

MISS PEGGY MORRIS ELON'S PIN-UP GIRL

Chapel Thursday morning, November 9, saw a cavalcade of beauties in a contest sponsored by the Tau Zeta Phi Sorority. And the beauty of it all is that Elon now has three pin-up girls.

"Gentlemen prefer blondes" slogan held true when the men of the faculty as judges chose for the "Dream Chile," Peggy Morris, popular day student sponsored by the Doctor Johnson's Literary Society. Winners of second and third places were Margaret Rawls, representing the Maroon and Gold staff, and Frances Detrick, sponsored by the choir. There were fifteen girls in the contest who were sponsored by all four classes, the sororities, the publications, literary organizations, and the law-making bodies, the council and the senate.

LEON GIBBS AND JOE FRANKS CALLED TO SERVICE

Leon Gibbs, junior and major in mathematics and physics, of Reidsville, and Joe Franks, sophomore and pre-law student, of Elon and Burlington, have received orders to report for military duty within a week.

Gibbs has requested naval duty, and Franks has registered with the Army Air Corps. Both these men have been prominent in dramatics for the past two years, and have been popular in many campus activities. Good

Dr. Jesse Dollar, pastor of the Christian church at Newport News, Virginia, will be the guest evangelist during Religious Emphasis Week November 19-24. Chapel and evening services will be announced.

Dr. Dollar was graduated at Elon in 1925. His Divinity school was Vanderbilt University, and he has been made a Doctor of Divinity for outstanding services as a Christian minister. He is a native of Alabama.

Under his leadership the Newport News church has shown more progress than any other Congregational-Christian church in the Southern Convention during the past five years.