

What's What

By EMERSON WHATLEY

Regular basketball practice got underway this week with about 30 boys out for the first day's drill. The boys out were mostly freshmen, with a few upperclassmen scattered about. Although most of the time the first day was taken up with fundamentals of basketball, some of the boys had an opportunity to show Coach Adcox that they knew how to handle the sphere.

The practice sessions to date have been mostly passing and limbering up drills, although one five minute scrimmage was held. Five boys showing up about equally well so far are Fred Register and Wayne Taylor, both right handers; Fred Chandler and Bob McCotter, both left handers; and Danny Banks, who seems to use either hand equally well. Others showing signs of true basketball ability are Bill MacIntyre, Ronald Grinstead, Bobby Foust, Wallace Owen, Fred Yarborough, Bob Graham, and Willard Marlette. With a stiff schedule of the best teams in the conference ahead of them, the boys have really got to get on the ball before the snow flies.

The boy's intramural touch football season ended this week with the freshmen and the upperclassmen in a tie for the top spot. It is rumored that a gala event is planned for the play off with either a game on Thanksgiving afternoon, or else a night game if it can be arranged.

Coach Adcox is really to be congratulated for the fine job he has done in the intramural setup this year. He has sacrificed a lot of time and hard work in order to make the program the success that it has been.

NEW OUTDOOR BOWLING ALLEYS ARE POPULAR; INTRAMURALS GOING WELL JUNIOR MANAGERS NEEDED

The Intramural Council members, the faculty members, and our president, Dr. Smith are delighted by the way in which our capable coach, Mr. Adcox, is carrying on the athletic program this year.

Badminton, shuffle board, bowling and archery have already started in the Physical Education classes, and the girls anticipate with enthusiasm their classes each Tuesday and Thursday. Bowling seems to be of greatest interest because it is the newest sport we have here on campus.

Coach has fine list of them for conditioning and just simple little training hints. They are all good and all are important. We can all get behind our boys for they are something to push.

UPPERCLASSMEN DEFEAT FRESHMEN

The upperclassmen touch football team defeated the freshman team Monday, November 5, by the score of 9 to 6. The game was the last of the season and proved to be a thriller from beginning to end. The upperclassmen, by winning the game, gained a tie for first place, and a playoff game will be necessary. As yet no plans have been made but it is hoped that the game will be played either at night or on Thanksgiving afternoon.

In the victory, the upperclass line was the standout on the field. Led by Don Miller and Bob Graham, who refused to be blocked out, the line was rushing the passer on every play and many of the passes fell short because of the continued harassing by Leon Gibbs, Wayne Taylor, and Emerson Whatley completed the line that averaged better than 190 pounds per man. Fred Yarborough and Rodney Southerland stood out in the backfield and Fred Register was sudden death on any passes that came near him at right end. Willard Marlette did a neat job at center for the older team.

The freshman team was outclassed and its only score came on a fluke play. Bill MacIntyre and Bob McCotter were standouts on both defense and offense for the freshmen and Fred Chandler's fine passes went for naught when they were either caught in the high wind that blew all afternoon, or else were batted down by the upperclassmen's secondary.
