

What's What

By EMERSON WHATLEY

Here we are again and we're still talking about basketball. Coach Adcox still has that smile on his face and it is possible, that smile is getting larger every minute. One of the things that helped was the recent appearance of Wayne King on campus. King, an ex-GI, has one of the classiest shots we've seen in a long time. Of course the appearance of Ronny Cates helped to brighten that smile a bit too. Cates is the boy who in his last year in high school tossed in thirty points against the Greensboro High outfit. The final score was Burlington 34, Greensboro 32. Wonder who made those other four points.

Day students athletes. Clarence "Chubby" Brown will have to wait until baseball season rolls around in order to show off his wares. The guys in the corner drug store say that he is the best catcher ever to come out of Burlington High. Harold Walton is rated as a mighty fair horsehide handler too. Then there's Jack Hunley. The boys from B'town say that he is going to be hard to keep off the first five when basketball practice gets in full swing. Altamahaw-Ossipee has contributed Howard Danieley to the "cause." Howard is a good player either on the basketball court or on the baseball diamond.

Everett Kivett, the boy who played with Leaksville in the Carolina loop last year, is now enrolled in college and has been made a member of the 417 club. Nice going Kivett, a member in good standing after only three weeks in school. "Haw", as he is known to the boys, has been re-called to Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League for the 1946 season.

Too bad . . . We could have had a right nice football team this year. Joe Golombek is back. Whether you knew it or not Paul Plybon was once a pretty fair tackle. "Pep" Watkins played at Riversdale and was regarded as a mighty good center. Jim Wilkins and Wayne King were teammates at Hargrave Military Institute. Then there are a host of other boys like Fred Register, Ed Mulford, Ronny Cates, Earl Danieley, Don Kernodle, Perry Ayscue, Larry McCauley, Bob Foust and many others who show up mighty well in intra-murals. Every one of these boys with the exception of Danieley will be back next year. Well?

This intra-mural program that Coach Adcox has set up is something that every student can take part in. What he wants is that every person in college will take advantage of the opportunity and get out there for every game. It is a nice set up and it is ours. Let's take advantage of it.

It was mighty nice to see George Davis on campus this week. Davis was one of the mainstays of the old Elon Novelties. He figures that he either has three more years or else he has to find a widow with three children and an interest in matrimony to get out of the army.

Girls' Sports

By BETTY BENTON

The Girls' fall intramural sports contests will get underway Monday, October 8th with a volleyball game between Second Floor West and Ladies' Hall. Here is the schedule of the volleyball games in the near future:

- October 8th: Wildcats vs. Hubbas.
- October 10th: Rebels vs. Olds.
- October 15th: Beasts vs. Wildcats.
- October 17th: Hubbas vs. Rebels.
- October 22nd: Olds vs. Beasts.
- October 24th: Wildcats vs. Rebels.
- October 29th: Hubbas vs. Beasts.
- October 31st: Olds vs. Wildcats.
- November 4th: Rebels vs. Wildcats.
- November 6th: Hubbas vs. Olds.

The above names are the team names of the various groups. The Hubbas are Ladies' Hall girls; the Rebels, third floor West girls; the Beasts, the East girls; the Olds, the Oak Lodge and Day Student girls; and the Wildcats, the second floor West girls. The Day Student and Oak Lodge girls combined into one team because of the small number in Oak Lodge and the difficulty that the Day Students have in attending games because of the transportation problem.

All volleyball games are to be played at 6:45 p. m. in the gymnasium in North Dormitory.

The singles tennis tournament will be started in the near future. Also, the bowling ladder. Watch the bulletin board for further announcements.

Election of the team managers and the representatives to the Intramural Council was held Tuesday morning, October 2nd in Whitley Auditorium. Here are the results:

- Ladies' Hall (Hubbas); Lib Holland, team manager; Ruby Braxton, council representative.
- 3rd Floor West (Rebels); Ruth Everett, team manager; Hazel Cole, council representative.
- 2nd Floor West (Wildcats); Flo Chandler, team manager; Patsy Whrenn, council representative.
- East (Beasts); Nancy Jordan, team manager; Marjorie Reidt, council representative.
- Oak Lodge and Day Students (Olds); Mary Lib Simpson, team manager; Doris King, council representative.

Coach has worked hard on the organization of these games. They are for our enjoyment, so let's all cooperate with the team managers and make this a good year for everyone. May the best team win!

A POEM

By What's What

Tom asked me to write a poem. I can't write a poem. I once had a roommate who could. His name was Poe—Gene Poe. I remember one that he wrote. Professor McClure told him it was pretty good ("Doc" was just being nice to him) and he told everybody in the dormitory that Edgar Allan Poe was his grandpop. I I couldn't write a poem though 'cause I never had any ancestors who wrote poems. The only Whatley listed in "Who's Who Among Inmates in State and Federal Penitentiaries," is the one who was nabbed for shop lifting. He lifted it with TNT. He might get a pardon through. After all they have been having a lot of trouble with the Lifters Union in New York. Isn't there an exclamation point on this typewriter. Oh, did you know why the keys are arranged like they are on the keyboard of a typewriter. Well believe it or not, you can spell typewriter with the first line of the keyboard. This was made this way to help the first salesmen of typewriters who couldn't type any better than I can. But what all this stuff got to do with a poem?

ELON COLLEGE AND BURLINGTON FLYING SERVICE, INC., APPROVED AS VETERANS' FLYING SCHOOL; WILL OFFER JOINT INSTRUCTION

Approval of Elon College for veterans' training in aviation under the provisions of law enacted by the Seventy-eighth Congress has been received from C. P. Pate, chief, Vocational Rehabilitation Division of the Veterans' Administration, Fayetteville, N. C., it was announced today by Dr. L. E. Smith, president of the college.

All men and women eligible under the G. I. Bill of Rights may take the course with expenses paid under the provisions established by federal legislation. Civilian pilot license may be obtained upon completion of the work.

Facilities available are the same ones which were extensively used for Air Corps training during the war. Instruction will be given in the college by Professor A. L. Hook, head of the Department of Physics at Elon and licensed pilot, former president of the Physics Division of North Carolina Academy of Sciences. Flying instructors at the Burlington airport are C. H. Jordan and Henry Warf, both of competent experience. Further expansion of the program is contemplated by the joint management.

The report from the Veterans' Administration reads in part:

"The Burlington Flying Service and Elon College have been jointly approved as an institution for training in aviation . . . In the event veterans desire training in aviation and the Burlington Flying Services furnishes this instruction as an extension of the laboratory facilities of your institution . . . and if Elon College approves the content of it, and supervises the instruction, the course may be considered as meeting the requirements of Public Law 346, 78th Congress, and payments for it within established limitations will be made in conformity with the usual procedure."

It is believed that Elon is the first college in the state to be granted this approval. College and university practice now is to enroll veterans at any time during an academic term or quarter, provided that suitable arrangements are made through the dean of instruction.

During the war, 672 A A F cadets received their initial training at Elon College. In addition to these, 160 men and women have already been given training in civilian pilot and war training courses in aviation. The present class includes Miss Patricia Hook, third daughter of Professor Hook to study flying, and one of the youngest women pilots in the state.

LT. E. F. SHAW

RETURNS FROM PACIFIC

The big blond who was recently on campus in the uniform of a lieutenant in Uncle Sam's Navy, was none other than "Reb" Shaw, outstanding end on the Elon football team in '41 and '42. "Reb" has recently returned from the Southwest Pacific where he was commander of a PT boat. While he was in the Pacific, he took part in the Navy campaigns in New Guinea, the Philippines, and Halmahara. He has ribbons for the American theater, the Pacific theater, and the Philippine theater of operations, and his squadron has been recommended for the Naval unit citation.

As well as being an outstanding member of the "Fighting Christian" eleven. Shaw was president of his senior class, business manager of the Phi Psi, and an active member of Sigma Phi Beta fraternity during his years at Elon. "Reb" was a biology major while at Elon, and hopes to go into that field after his discharge from service.

After completing his stay at Elon, Shaw will return to his home in Rosemont, Pennsylvania, and from there will go to the PT training center at Melville Rhode Island, as he is still on call for Naval duty.

MEN'S INTRAMURAL PROGRAM STARTED

The men's intramural athletic program for the 1945-46 season was scheduled to begin last Wednesday afternoon with a touch football battle between the "Bombardiers" and the "Wolves," the former squad managed by Larry McCauley and the latter by Al Burlingame. The intramural league, under the direction of Coach Lacey B. Adcox and consisting of four well-matched teams, is currently concerned with football, volleyball, and bowling, but will include numerous other sports before next June.

Seeking intramural honors with the two teams mentioned will be the "Daybreakers," representing the Day Students and managed by Clarence Brown, and the "Jokers," whose manager is Ronny Cates. The latter squads will open their football schedule with a clash on Monday.

The initial volleyball game was slated for Thursday, between the "Jokers" and "Wolves." The "Bombardiers" and "Daybreakers" open their schedule on Tuesday.

Both the touch football league and the volleyball league will consist of one round, with playoffs to be held only in case of a tie for first place at the end of the round. A schedule for the bowling league is now being drawn and will be announced shortly.

At team meetings held this week, Orville Robinson was elected to represent the "Jokers" on the Intramural Council; Perry Ayscue, to represent the "Wolves"; Bill Clapp, the "Daybreakers"; and Floyd Boyce, the "Bombardiers."
