Three-Act Mystery To Be Given April 10-11

The Elon Players will present the Broadway hit "Mr. and Mrs. North," a three-act comedy-mystery by Owen Davis, Jr., in Whitley auditorium...

Under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Smith, head of the department of dramatics, the play is the Players' second major production...

Cast in the four chief roles of Mr. and Mrs. North are Al Burlingame, of Cambridge, N. Y., as Mr. North; Miss Jean West, of Hampton, Va., as Mrs. North; Bill Clapp, of Burlington, as the police lieutenant; and Floyd Boyce, of Jackson, as the detective...

The play concerns the mysterious goings-on in the Greenwich Village apartment of a pleasant young couple, Pam and Jerry North, who find an uninvited guest—a corpse—occupying the premises...

In the original Broadway production the author—Mr. Davis—and Miss Peggy Conklin played the leading parts. They also enjoyed success on the screen and as a radio dramatization.

Following the presentation of "Zengara" and "Mr. and Mrs. North," the Elon Players will start rehearsals for the religious drama "The Passing of the Third Floor Back..."

Tickets for "Mr. and Mrs. North" are on sale now, at 50 cents apiece, tax included. They may be obtained from members of the Players or of the cast.

Five Faculty Members Have Returned From Service

LT. JAMES STEWART REJOINS COMMERCE STAFF

Fifth of the faculty to come back from army and navy war service is Lt. James H. Stewart, who returns to the Department of Business Administration after four years with the Bureau of Ordinance at Washington, D. C.

Lt. Stewart was assigned to the Navy Ordinance Research Laboratory at Silver Spring, Md., and also worked in the Financial Administration, Bureau of Costs and research on Contracts of the Navy.

At Elon in 1936-1942, Professor Stewart calls the college his home. He received his A. B. from Transylvania College in Kentucky, his M. A. from the University of Kentucky, and completed other graduate studies there before he enlisted in the service.

Additional faculty members who have returned to duty are Lt. Fletcher Moore, of the Department of Music; Captain Howard Gravitt, Head of the Department of Biology; Lt. J. L. Pierce, of the Department of Health and Physical Education; and Professor Albert Coble, of the Department of Mathematics, who served as instructor here in the Air Corps Training program.

Ensign Harold S. Shultz is expected to return to the Department of History next September.

"Zengara" To Be Staged Wednesday

"Zengara," an original one-act play written by J. W. Clapp and Elizabeth R. Smith, will be presented by the Elon Players in a novel double showing in Mooney auditorium at 7:30 on Wednesday night, April 3. Second show will begin at 9 o'clock, for the convenience of students whose schedules may make it impossible for them to attend the earlier performance.

At the Elon presentation, it is hoped that a half hour of musical entertainment can be added to the program through the courtesy of the department of music. The play will be carried to the State Drama Festival at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill on the evening of April 6.

Miss Helen Newsome plays the title role. Merritt Burns, as the prince, has the main lead. Members of the supporting cast include Miss Kathleen Young, Jack Sunburn, Earl Danieley (as the ghost), Herbert Spivey, Ivan Ollis, and Richard Staten.

"Zengara," is a romantic comedy with a Fifteenth century setting in an ancient castle in Normandy.

Wayne Taylor And Pattie Cochran Sophomore Regents

The gym was attractively decorated to carry out the theme—"an Old Southern Garden." Pine boughs lined the sides of the building and green and white crepe paper covered the lights. At the opposite end of the gym from the throne of the king and queen was a white picket fence connecting two arches from which the grand march proceeded...

ANNOUNCING A CALL FOR BAND PLAYERS; WILL MEET TO ORGANIZE APRIL 3

All students who can play band instruments or wish to learn to play report to Whitley auditorium on Wednesday, April 3, at 7:30 p. m. Tommy Woodson, of Burlington, will be in charge of the initial meeting.

We need to get a pep-producing group ready for coming athletic contests and for other campus events. There will be a lot of fun, a chance to travel with the football team next fall, and to learn something worthwhile. Beginners will be given instruction and some instruments can be furnished for those who do not have them at present.

Your loyalty and good will in supporting this effort will be appreciated. The first meeting will be short so that you will have time to go to the play.
