Music Department Sets Forth Plans For Rest Of Term

The Department of Music announces a full schedule of events for the remainder of the quarter. Graduation recitals, a symphony concert, the May-Day program, and the State Music Clubs convention, together with the choir's appearance at the Burlington Festival singing of the "Messiah" on May 1, will keep everyone busy indeed.

Easter week was given added beauty and meaning by the special music provided. Choir and organ numbers added much to the spiritual portent of the occasion, and were rendered with exceptional clarity and excellence.

Dr. Arne Hovdesven, head of the department, played with Miss Eloise Fischel in her recital on Thursday, April 25, presenting Mozart's Concerto in Major-Allegro. Miss Fischel played numbers from Bach, Beethoven, Dohnanyi, and Lecuona.

Recitals to come include those by Miss Violet Blackmon, piano, and Lucille Morgan, organ, on April 28; and on May 5 Miss Elizabeth Johnson, voice, and Wayne Moore, piano.

J. Kimball Harriman, conductor will bring his Greensboro High School Symphony Orchestra to Whitley Auditorium on Thursday, May 9. Professor John S. Westmoreland, of the Elon Faculty of Music, will appear as guest soloist for the performance of Grieg's piano Concerto in A Minor. The State Federation of Music Clubs, Junior Division, will hold its annual convention on campus on Saturday, May 4. Watch the bulletin boards and chapel notices for further information concerning the program.

MAY QUEEN, Miss Margaret Rawls, of Suffolk, Va., who will reign with king, Ed Daniel, of Virgilina, Va., at next Saturday's annual May Day Festival.

Juniors Are Host To Seniors At Annual Spring Banquet

The Junior Class entertained the Senior Class at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet last night at 7:00 in the college dining hall.

A Pan American theme was used, carrying out the Senior Class colors, red and white, in the decorations. The program opened with the invocation by Dr. L. E. Smith, followed by the welcome by Betsy Smith, president of the Junior Class. Bill Clapp, president of the Senior Class, returned the response. Dr. Paul Reddish, class advisor introduced the speaker, Mr. George Colclough, Elon alumnus and secretary of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce. The program concluded with the college song, "Here's to Dear Old Elon."

Committees for the banquet were: Program, Louise Clayton, chairman. Others were Virginia Ezell, Joe Dunn, Verdalee Norris, Mrs. L. E. Smith, Jr. Decorations, Lois Dean, chairman, Fred Register, Bob Graham, Jimmy Roberts, and Nancy Jordan assisting.

Helping were Tom Hoffman, and Verna Lee Ayscue. Program Booklets, Dale Hensley, chairman. Assisting were Ruby Braxton, Helen Cobb, Margaret Webster, and Anne Rader. COLLEGE GRANTED MORE HOUSING UNITS

The Burlington Times-News on April 26 received a Washington report, later confirmed by the college administration, that 37 additional housing units had been authorized for Elon College. Approved for the use of veterans whether married or single, these prefabricated dwellings are already allocated and will be moved as soon as possible.

This additional grant will make a total of 67 units, previously in use at government or military establishments, to be set up after shipment here.

All preparations to get them into use immediately after they reach Elon have been made. It is probable that the college may thus provide new quarters for over one hundred persons by next summer or fall.

Taylor To Head Veterans Club

Election of officers of the Elon Veterans Club for the coming year was held Thursday morning in Professor Barney's classroom. Wayne Taylor, of Eiland, who has served as the association's secretary-treasurer during the current year, was elected president to succeed Al Burlingame, of Cambridge, N. Y. Vice-president for the new year will be Thomas Foust, of Jackson; and the new secretary-treasurer elected was Bob Harris, of Wilson. The newly-chosen officers will assume their duties at the beginning of summer school.

Special Services Commemorate Holy Week

The first peacetime Holy Week in five years was observed on the Elon College campus with three special services of praise and devotion. The services were conducted on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 17, 18, and 19, with participation by members of the faculty, student body, and Community Church.

In the initial service, on Wednesday evening, four speakers discussed the different phases of prayer life. Dr. G. O. Lankford spoke on "The Prayer Life of Jesus"; Dr. D. J. Bowden, on "The Prayer Life in the Church"; Fred Register, president of the student body, on "The Prayer Life of the Youth"; and Dr. M. B. French, on "The Prayer Life of the Disciples." Special music was contributed by the choir.

On Thursday night, Dr. L. E. Smith and Dr. Bowden led the Communion Service. The music department's participation included a solo, "The Communion Hymn," rendered by Miss Dorothy Shepherd, and a trio number, "If With All Your Heart," sung by Misses Lucille Morgan, Violet Blackmon, and Marguerite Hudson.

The Good Friday service was held during regular chapel period, at which time Dr. Smith read the Easter Story. The choir sang "The Lord's Prayer" and two numbers from Handel's "Messiah": "Behold the Lamb of God" and "Surely He Hath Born Our Griefs." Miss Elizabeth Johnson sang "He Was Despised," and the same trio which had sung at the Communion Service repeated "If With All Your Heart." The choir closed the service with the "Thee."

MRS. HELEN P. CANNON ANSWERS APPEAL TO AID VETERANS

Two weeks ago an announcement was made through "The Christian Sun" of the government's allotment of 30 housing units for married veterans enrolled in Elon College. Attention was called to the fact that these units would not be furnished; that the College did not have necessary furniture; that many of the veterans would not be able to furnish their apartments; and an appeal was issued to any who would help provide the necessary furniture for these apartments.

Mrs. Helen Parkerson Cannon of Burlington, alumna of the College, has donated $200 for this purpose, as an expression of sympathy to the family of, and as a memorial to, the late Seaman Watson D. Lambeth, Jr., of Brown Summit, who lost his life in a typhoon off Okinawa on September 28, 1945.

PLEA MADE FOR STUDENT SERVICE FUND

Miss Judith Austin, executive secretary of the World Student Service Fund, in chapel on Friday, April 26, made an eloquent plea for support for the worthy cause of aiding European and Asiatic students who have been forced into dire straits by the war.

The annual Elon College May Day Festival will be observed next Saturday afternoon, May 4, with a gala program of ceremony and entertainment. Festivities are to begin at 5:00, following the home baseball game between Elon and Appalachian State Teachers college, which is scheduled for 2 o'clock.

Reigning over the spring festival as king and queen will be Edwin Daniel, Virgilina, Va., and Miss Margaret Rawls, Suffolk, Va., who were chosen in the midwinter student elections held to determine the 1946 court. Both the king and queen were junior attendants in last year's court, and both have been active in all phases of campus life. Daniel is editor of the 1946 Phipps; Miss Rawls is co-chairman of the Student-Faculty committee.

Attending the queen as maid of honor is to be Miss Elizabeth Holland, Shelby. She will be escorted by Gerald Hook, Elon College. Senior attendants are to be Mrs. Florine Braxton Poe and Miss Joyce Smith, of Whiteville; Jack Sunburn, New Britain, Conn., and Bill Claytor, Hillsboro. Junior attendants will be Miss Dale Hensley, Elon College; Miss Verdalee Norris and Fred Register, Sanford; Steve Castura, Hazelton, Pa., Jackie Newman and Buddy Bowden will be train bearers.

Miss Rawls, as queen, will be attired in white satin, with full court train, and will carry a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor will wear light blue marquisette and will carry a mixed bouquet, and the four attendants to the queen will wear white, pink, red, and blue taffeta and of Miss Holland.

Following the entrance of the court—junior attendants, first, then senior attendants, maid of honor, former king and queens, and the 1946 king and queen—the new rulers will be crowned and the court entertainment get underway. Entertainment will consist of folk and interpretive dancing by selected numbers of the girls' physical education classes; feature dances by Miss Graydon Butler, Stratford, Conn., and Miss Gloria Anderson, Hampton, Va.; and vocal music by the college small ensemble, with solos by Misses Jessie Ree Doughtie, Dorothy Shepherd and Marguerite Hudson. Numbers to be sung by the ensemble include Romberg's "Will You Remember," from "Maytime"; "Mayday Carol," by Deems Taylor, and Irving Berlin's "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody."

Direction of this year's May Day festivities is by Miss Anne McClenny, John Westmoreland, and Fletcher Moore of the Music Faculty.

THIS IS TOM HORNER, folks, who's been hiding all year behind editor's desk of the MAROON AND GOLD. Now that he's turned over his job to the new editor, he's finally come out into the open, as you can see. To know Tom better, turn to "Personalities" column on page five.
