

Elon Grid Squad Cops Title Win From A. C. C.

By JOE SPIVEY

The Fighting Christians unleashed a bevy of speedy and driving backs, plus strong offensive and defensive lines, to swamp the A. C. C. Bulldogs 33 to 6 at Burlington Stadium last Saturday night. In gaining this North State Conference win, the "Crushing Christians" rolled up 384 yards rushing to a meager 72 yards for the Bulldogs.

It was just too much Grayson, Biangardi, Tingley and Brigman for the undermanned Bulldog eleven, which fell before the bruising blocks of Elon's line and the slippery scampering of Elon's backs. The Bulldogs did bare their teeth late in the final period to score on a 27-yard pass from Clark to McBride.

The Elon scoring started in the first period when Barger intercepted an A. C. C. pass on his own thirty-seven. Nice runs by Grayson, Tingley and Marshburn, plus a pass from Marshburn to Greenwood put the ball on the ten, and two plays later Marshburn ripped over for the score. Sal Gero, in a new role, booted the extra point to put Elon ahead 7 to 0.

R. K. Grayson raced to the Bulldog four as the first quarter ended, and Marshburn bucked over to open the second period. Again Gero split the uprights with his kick, and Elon moved out further to a 14-0 lead.

Archie Brigman set up the second score of the second period when he scooted 36 yards around his own left end to the Bulldog four, and three plays later Fred Biangardi bull-dozed his way into pay-dirt.

Midway the third quarter Archie Brigman turned in the prettiest run of the night. Starting at the Elon thirty, he broke into the enemy secondary, picked up and used some excellent blocking past mid-field and then raced out in front for a touchdown. It was a 70-yard gallop. Once more big Gero missed his kick, leaving the score Elon 26, A. C. C. 0.

Lou Rochelli engineered the final Elon touchdown drive, tossing nice passes to Lewis and Johnston in the scoring series. Rochelli himself raced the final nine yards at right end, and Gero kicked his third point of the night. It was Elon 33, A. C. C. 0, but a few minutes later Clark tossed to McBride down the middle to ring up the Bulldog's lone score.

Spying on Sports

Athlete's Foot Institute, adjusted his silver knee-cap, loosened a valve on the copper tubing of his stomach, and he proceeded to give me the lowdown on the ever-confusing future.

Ersel refused to name a Conference champ just now, although he has promised a hint ere long. He tugged at his Egyptian sling-shot and spouted the following predictions (winners in capital letters):

Weekend of September 30th:
ELON over Appalachian (who else?) . . . N. C. STATE over Catawba . . . HIGH POINT over Guilford . . . LENOIR-RHYNE over Newberry . . . PRESBYTERIAN over Western Carolina.

Weekend of October 7--APPALACHIAN over Lenoir-Rhyne . . . CATAWBA over High Point . . . ELON over East Carolina (can't be beat) . . . WESTERN CAROLINA over East Tennessee . . . GUILFORD over Atlantic Christian.

Any complaints or jeers should be mailed directly to Ersel G. Moleskin, care of Upper Slobbovian Embassy, Washington, D. C.

Adult Education Starts This Week

Elon started on Tuesday night of this week its fourth annual series of night classes for adults, and Dr. W. W. Sloan, faculty chairman of adult education, has stressed in particular an invitation to wives of veteran students to enroll and take advantage of these courses. They may enroll for half the regular price to other students.

The classes are held on Tuesday and Thursday nights each week from 7 until 10 o'clock and will continue for a period of twelve weeks. All classes are held in Alamance Building, and all courses are taught by regular members of the Elon faculty.

Members of the faculty cooperating include Dr. W. W. Sloan, Dr. James Howell, Prof. James C. Hodgetts, Prof. Gilbert Latham, Prof. J. C. Colley, Prof. William H. Struhs, Miss Lila Newman and Miss Louise Ramsey.

AWARDS GIVEN FOR OUTSTANDING DRAMATIC ROLES

Dr. James Howell, (right above), head of the Elon College English Department, is shown as he presents awards to four members of the Elon Players for outstanding work in plays presented last year. The dramatic stars (left to right) are Robert Walker, Robert Wright, Edward Engles and Rosamond Bromley. Ann Truitt, who also received an award, was not present at the annual banquet when the presentation was made.

Five Members Of Elon Players Honored For Work Last Season

Five members of the Elon Players were honored with individual awards for their performances and work in the Players productions of the past school year. The awards were presented by Dr. James Howell, head of the Elon College English Department, at the Players annual banquet, which was held in Burlington at the close of the spring term.

Top performance awards went to Rosamond Bromley, of Huntington, W. V., and Robert Wright, of Springfield, Mass., for their performances in "Antigone," a modernized version of the Greek classic tragedy by Sophocles. Miss Bromley portrayed the sensitive, impulsive Antigone, a princess who fought and died for the freedom of her brother's soul. Wright won his award with his characterization of the persuasive tyrant, Creon, uncle of Antigone and self-made ruler of the Kingdom of Thebes.

Ann Truitt, of Elon College, was acclaimed as the year's best supporting actress by virtue of her interpretation of the kindly, if not too bright, landlady in the farce comedy "Out of the Frying Pan," an earlier Player's production; and Ed Engles, of Oshkosh, Wis., was judged best supporting actor for his narrative role of the Greek Chorus in "Antigone." A special award was made to Robert Walker, of Kernersville, for the high quality of his services as stage manager throughout "Antigone," although several times translated and considerably streamlined for the modern stage, lost none of its original impact or power when presented here last year, and it was acclaimed by most critics as the best play ever to be produced by the Players.

SUMMER IN EUROPE

thought this the craziest thing they had seen.

The language barrier often kept us from exchanging ideas with the other campers, but we had lots of fun trying. However, we found that working together breeds a better understanding than talk. Some may think it crazy to go to Europe and pay $1 per day to work for a month, but I'd like to do it again. I had a wonderful time in camp, working, climbing mountains, playing volleyball and living with the Italians, and I also found it wonderful to travel 10,000 miles through eight countries. Why should I complain of the work?

WANTED: By Elon Band, trombone, clarinet and trumpet players. An early start means some football trips and quarter-hour credit and extra quality points. Report now.

Oliver B. Howell Will Go To Peru

Oliver B. Howell, one of Elon's 1950 graduates from Sanford, is now at the Hartford Seminary in Hartford, Conn., where he is undergoing a period of intensive training for his new assignment as a Methodist missionary to Peru.

Howell, who was president of the Student Christian Association and an active member of the Ministerial Association here last year, is one of a group of 50 missionaries to be assigned to the Latin American countries by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church.

Three 1950 Grads Are Now Pastors

Three of the 1950 Elon graduating class were ordained as ministers of the Congregational Christian church in a triple ordination service held at the Palm Street Church in Greensboro on Sunday night, July 23rd. All three have already accepted pastorates.

The new ministers are Rev. James R. Hailey, now pastor of Shallowford Christian Church near Elon College; Rev. John R. Lackey, pastor of Apple's Chapel; and Rev. Carl E. Wallace, pastor of the Franklinton Parish. Hailey, who worked as field secretary for the college during the summer months, is also attending Duke Divinity School.

Dean's List Shows 117 Names For Fall Term

There are 117 students in school this fall who rate the Dean's List as a result of honor averages made on their courses during the spring quarter last year. They are the group left at Elon this term from the complete list of 202 students who made the honor average for the final three months of the 1949-50 session. The other 85 either graduated or failed to return to college.

The complete group of 202 honor students included 14 who made an "A" on all their courses, and nine of those top students are back this fall to seek further scholastic honors. The nine "A" students back on campus are Luther Clapp, Katherine Guthrie, Robert Harned, Jitter Horner, Warren Matthews, Billy Mittelstadt, Paige Painter, Louise Spence and Anne Strole.

Others enrolled this fall who made an average of "B" or better on their combined courses include Sheffield Abell, Harold Ackerman, Robert Anderson, James Andrews, Shirley Baker, Samuel Barber, William Blackstone, Glenn Bolick, Jane Boone, Fred Bowman, Joseph Bowman, Richard Brady, Branch Bragg, Albert Bryan, Hughes Buckner, James Burns, June Stone Byrd.

THE MAINE CAMPUS

Yearly Penny Carnival Will Be Tomorrow

In Orono, Maine, a favorite gathering spot of students at the University of Maine is the Snack Bar in Carnegie Library because it is a cheerful place—full of friendly collegiate atmosphere. And when the gang gathers around, ice-cold Coca-Cola gets the call. For here, as in college haunts everywhere—Coke belongs.
