

Elon Defeats Newberry 13-12 In Muddy Battle

The true-toe kicking of Sal Gero provided the margin of victory for the Fighting Christians when they came from behind and nosed out the Newberry Indians 13 to 12 in a muddy battle in Burlington Stadium on Thursday night, November 1st. The win was the sixth in seven starts for the Elon eleven this season.

The visitors from South Carolina turned in their best game of the season, and the Indians' inspired play added to a constant downpour of rain and a muddy field to give the Christians a much tougher battle than had been expected.

Carroll Reid started the first scoring drive with a 27-yard punt return, and Tingley and Biangardi paced the drive to the one, where the big fullback hammered across. Gero missed the point, and this enabled Newberry to tie the score at 6-all on the final play of the first half. Charlie Reames raced 74 yards for Newberry to the Elon eleven, and Charlie Berry circled right end for the score. Try for point failed to leave the score tied.

The Indians took the second-half kickoff and drove to their second touchdown. Reames started it with a 30-yard kick-off return, and Claude Weeks ended the drive when he dashed 14 yards off his own left tackle to score. Davis gain missed his kick, leaving Newberry ahead 12 to 6.

This aroused the Christians, who scored in just six plays after the next kickoff. Parker returned the kickoff ten, and Tingley made it first down on the Newberry forty-seven. A pass from Rochelli to Blackstone got another first down on the thirty-two. After losing two yards, Rochelli passed thirty-four yards to Biangardi for the touchdown, and Sal Gero booted straight and true for the point that won 13 to 12.

CHURCH TO HAVE STUDENT SUPPER

The Elon College students will be guests of the Elon College Community Church at a covered dish supper, which is to be held at the Parish House at 6 o'clock next Sunday evening, November 11th, according to an announcement from Rev. H. P. Bozarth.

The supper, designed to furnish an opportunity for the better acquaintance of the students with the members of the church from the town and the college faculty, will be followed by the second in a series of "hymn singings," to be conducted under the leadership of Prof. John Westmoreland.

New Group Hears Talk By Colclough

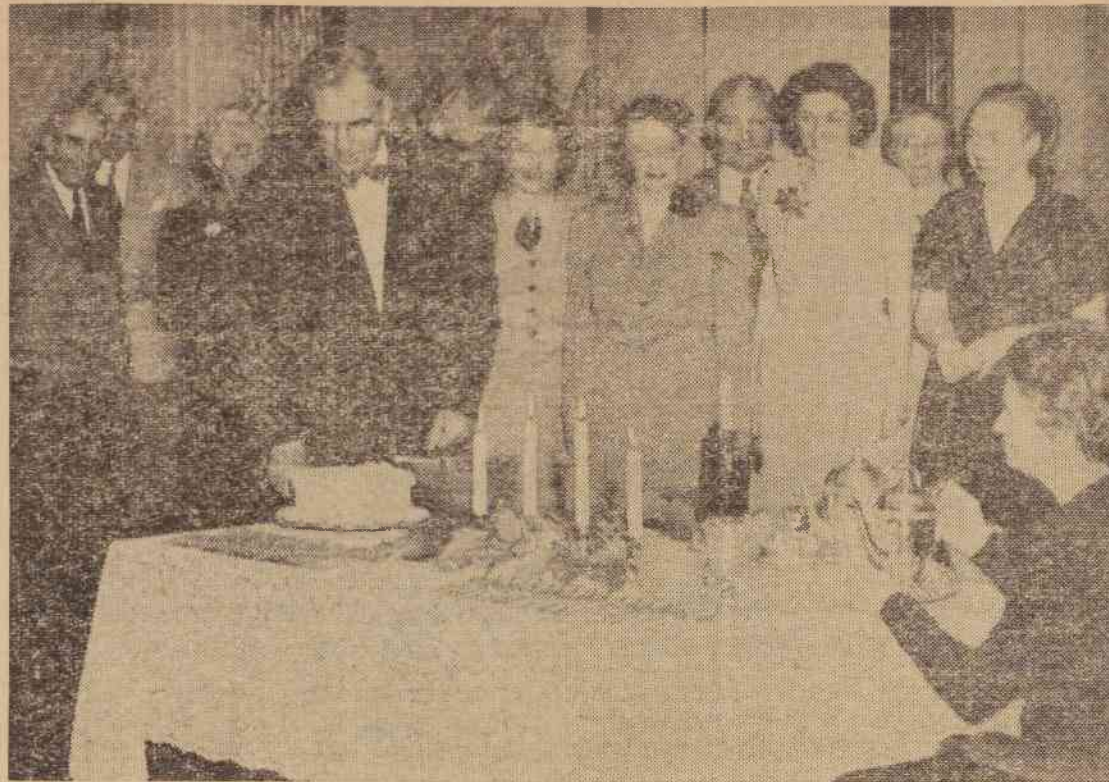

George Colclough, secretary of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce and member of the Elon College board of trustees, was the speaker at the first dinner meeting of Beta Chi Upsilon, newly organized commercial student group, which was held in the private dining room at Correct Time Inn on Wednesday evening, October 24th.

Also featured on the program was Miss Virginia Groomes, of the Elon College music faculty, who rendered several vocal selections. She was accompanied at the piano by Richard Brady, well known student musician.

Beta Chi Upsilon is the newest addition to the list of clubs on the campus, being composed of thirty-eight students of the commercial department, who plan weekly meetings and monthly dinner sessions. Its purpose is to create a business-like atmosphere in the classroom by sponsoring demonstrations of office equipment and planning field trips.

Officers of the group include Sylvia McAdams, of Graham, president; Anne Shoffner, of Graham, vice-president; Betsey Patterson, of Burlington, secretary; and Betty Stafford, of Burlington, treasurer. Mary York and Hallie Ragsdale are co-chairmen of the entertainment committee; Betty Jo Shepherd is sergeant-at-arms, and Dolores Hagan, Anne Rawls and Helen Hodge form the publicity committee.

PRESIDENT SMITH CUTS BIRTHDAY CAKE

Along with the anniversary honors accorded to President Leon E. Smith, he was also the honor guest at a birthday party given by the faculty in West Dorm parlor on Thursday night, October 25th. He is shown above slicing into the birthday cake. Directly behind him at the left is Mrs. Smith, who served the cake, and at the other end of the table is seated Mrs. A. L. Hook, who poured coffee and tea for the assembled guests. In the background are members of the faculty, who were joint hosts for the occasion.

right flank to pay-dirt. Gero made it 14-0 with the placement as the quarter ended.

The final Elon tally came in the waning minutes of the encounter, as the Christians took over on the Catamount 44-yard line after a fourth down pass gamble by Singleton fizzed. Runs by Biangardi and Tingley, a 9-yard pass from Rochelli to Greenwood and a Catamount penalty carried to the WCTC thirty-two. Rochelli got one, but two pass plays failed. On fourth down Rochelli whipped that strong right arm of his, and the pass connected with Bill Blackstone on the receiving end. The play covered thirty yards and was good for a first down on the Catamount one. Biangardi ploughed over from that point, and Gero tallied his fifteenth point-after for the season.

A safety on the last play of the game concluded the scoring for the Christians. WCTC had the ball on her own twenty-six after a pass interception by Rogers. On the first play from that point, Dwight Dillon dropped Singleton on the eight, and a penalty put the Catamounts back to one. Singleton tried again, but Paul Rergusson and Bob Reece swarmed in and dropped him for a safety in the end zone.

The Elon College student government will be represented by seven outstanding campus leaders at the fifteenth annual meeting of the North Carolina Student Legislature, which is to be held in Raleigh from Thursday, November 30th, through Saturday, December 1st.

There will be four Elon representatives in the statewide Senate. Those chosen for membership in the upper house are Matt Currin, Ray Euliss, Roger Gibbs and Rosamond Bromley. It will be the first time that either of the four has been to the Raleigh meeting.

There are three representatives from Elon slated to attend the session of the House of Representatives. They are Henry Hoppe, Ronnie Black and Lynn Cashion. Of this trio, only Henry Hoppe has attended the statewide legislative meet before. Hoppe was a member of the Senate last year.

The Elon delegation has taken a very active part in the deliberations of the intercollegiate gathering during the past two years, and the group is already discussing and planning legislation to submit for consideration. Announcements will be made later this month concerning such measures to be proposed.

Poetic Work By West To Appear December 1

The first volume of collected poetry by John Foster West, not in his third year as a member of the Elon College English faculty, has been accepted for publication by the Payton-Paul Publishing Company, of New York City, and the volume is to be released on or about December 1st.

The book, entitled "Up Ego!" will contain twenty-six poems in addition to the ones from which the title is taken. Some of these have appeared previously in The Atlantic, The Carolina Quarterly, and elsewhere; one was first prize winner in the 1951 Poetry Contest sponsored by the North Carolina Poetry Society. The book is dedicated to the poet's more than twenty friends and fellow students who died in World War II.

This first edition of "Up Ego!" will be bound in cloth covers of rich green, with gold lettering, and will appear in a dust cover with the same motif. The back of the dust cover will contain a short biographical sketch of the poet. The words will be set in handsome Baskerville type on heavy paper.

An interesting feature of the book is the frontispiece, a photographic reproduction of the poet's bust, which was created recently by Betty Davis Wesson, promising young sculptress of New Jersey.

West teaches English and specializes in his course on creative writing. His A. B. and M. A. degrees were received from the University of North Carolina, where he has done additional work toward a Ph. D. The poet is also a graduate of Morganton High School and Mars Hill Junior College.

Professor West's work has appeared in national publications and includes short stories, non-fiction and poetry. "Unto The Hills," a novel written during his undergraduate years at Carolina, was runner-up in the Dodd, Mead Co. Intercollegiate Fellowship for 1947. His writing experience also includes editing and journalism.

SCA Boasts New Room In Alamance

The Student Christian Association, which is once more playing an active role in the life of the Elon student body, is now set for an even more active life, having acquired a new headquarters on the first floor of Alamance Hall.

The new SCA room opens almost directly off the rotunda, being formed by a partition recently installed in the student government room that fronts directly across from the business office.

The new room will be a center from which the SCA will operate its varied activities. These activities include a lost and found bureau, a rides exchange for trips away from the campus, an employment agency for self-help jobs and an agency for small student loans.

The next SCA discussion panel session, which is scheduled for next Sunday evening in Student Union, will feature a discussion of the threat of Communism.
