CRUMP ELON'S ONLY VETERAN GUARD

Jimmy Crump

Jimmy Crump, a sharp-shooting senior guard, is the only letter veteran reporting back for outside duty with the Christian cagers staff, and J. B. Vaughn was listed this winter. Crump, who hails from Aberdeen, is a deadly set shot and ranked among the top free-throw artists in America last season. The Elon-guard, who's top effort last year was 33 points in one game of the Parris Island tournament, rolled in 26 points in Elon's opener and accounted for 59 points in the first three games.

ne home folks in the final three ames of the pre-Christmas campaign, with strong rival squads from Guilford, Wofford and Me-Crary slated to furnish the oppotion in the three battles over in Alumni Memorial Gymnasium.

The Guilford Quakers come over from Quaker Flats tomorrow night to tackle the Christians in the first game of the new North State Conference campaign. Elon trampled the Quakers twice last season in the march to the Conference crown, and the Guilford squad under a new coach will be seeking revenge in tomorrow night's encounter.

The next home tilt will bring the Wofford Terriers up from South Carolina for a battle in the Elon floor on Saturday night. Coach Doc Mathis' boys rolled for a 98-76 victory over the Terriers last week down in Spartanburg and will be seeking a repeat victory this weekend.

The Christians will then close out their pre-holiday play by meeting the McCrary Eagles here on Tuesday of next week, and again the Maroon and Gold squad will be seeking a repeat victory. The Christians eked a thriller in Ashehoro last Saturday by an 81-76

In winning their first three starts of the current campaign the Christians have posted ar average of exactly 88 points per game, slightly below the 89.7 points they averaged in 32 games last winter. They have held their first winter. They have held their first three opponents to an average of Squad Tops 77.6 points, almost exactly the defensive average that was posted by the Elon squad last season.
