The Student Government is starting a used book exchange this term, according to President Cliff Hardy, who states that students may take books they wish to sell to the Student Government chairman; Sandra Neighbors, of Forest City; William Luby, of Wethersfield, Conn.; Susan Sandefur, of Charlestow, West, Va.; William Hughes, of Mebane; and Diane Binkley, of Winston-Salem.

Plans call for student to take books they wish to sell to the office between 9 and 12 o'clock next Monday, January 22nd, and the books will then be offered for sale to other students who may record as a laurel won during the Student Government student life, but members of the Honor Council know that holding office between 2 and 4 o'clock on Wednesday, January 31st, and Thursday, February 1st. Variety Show February 7th

A Student variety show will be presented in Whitley Auditorium at 8 o'clock on Wednesday night, February 7th, with proceeds from the 50 cents admission charge to be used for the improvement of the Student Union.

The variety show will consist of skits, comedy acts and individual as well as group talent numbers, and talented Elon students willing to give of time and talent for the show are asked to contact Susan Sandefur, who is in charge of plans for the show.

It is also pointed out that students will be needed to work on stage settings and publicity, and full student support is urged to show the administration that the students are willing to help in the improvement of their campus center.

Among the suggested Student Union improvements, to be provided by the variety show proceeds, are new tile floors and new furniture.

With the period of final reckoning on Fall Semester courses at hand, it is a busy time for both students and faculty. The students are putting in their best licks studying for the tests, and faculty members are working equally as hard preparing the examinations and finishing last-minute work.

The examination schedule for the entire six-day period, beginning on Thursday of this week and next week, has been released from the office of Prof. Fletcher Moore, dean of the college, who points out that the time of an examination may not be changed and that no student may be excused from any scheduled examination without authorization from the dean. The exam schedule follows:

A break is classes is scheduled from the last of the exams on Wednesday, January 24th, until the beginning of regular clas-

Elon Is Member Of Entrance Board

Elon College has been elected for membership in the College Entrance Examination Board according to an announcement from the office of Dr. J. E. Danieley, president of the college.

Any college, in order to be eligible for membership in the college entrance examination group must have been renewed only a short time ago following the completion of the Elon self-study.

Furthermore, Elon has for sometime required that scores of the College Aptitude Test be submitted by each applicant for admission, with scores in such a test considered along with his high school record to determine eligibility for admission.

ELON STUDENTS ATTEND NORTH STATE MEET

The Elon College Student Government was represented by a delegation of six at the statewide meeting of the North State Student Government Association, which was held recently at Atlantic Christian College in Wilson. Cliff Hardy, who is president of the Elon Student Government, is also vice-president of the statewide organization. The Elon delegation to the Wilson meeting, pictured left to right above, included Cliff Hardy, of Franklin Park, N. J.; Katherine Sandefur, of Charleston, W. Va.; Carol Trageser, of Arnold, Md.; Lynn Ryals, of Durham; and Bobby West, of Durham.

Events Of 1961 At Elon Listed In Annual Revied

The opening of the New Year and the initial issue of any newspaper for any given year is always a good time to cast a look backward and to take stock of the outstanding developments during the twelve months just ended, and the Maroon and Gold takes this opportunity for a brief inventory and review of the things which occurred at Elon College in the months that were 1961.

It was, in general a good year for Elon College, its faculty and students, with the outstanding event of the year, from the standpoint of achievement and progress, the completion of the two-year self-study, which was accepted and approved by the Southern Association, which renewed the accreditation of the college. Along with this completion of the self-study, plans were announced for a new study of the college curriculum.

Perhaps as good way as any for recalling the events that happened at Elon during 1961 is to take each of the twelve months and recall in capsule fashion the various stories and events which hit the columns of the Maroon and Gold during the year.

JANUARY—Among the events occurring in January were the annual football banquet, with Guilford's Coach Herb Appenzeller as speaker; the death of Dr. Ned F. Brannock, who served long and well as a member of the Elon faculty; and the generally fine play of the Elon basketball team, led by brilliant scoring of Jug Irvin and Ken Smith.
