With Campbell holding a 4 to 3 edge in the ninth, the Christians knotted the count as Dempsey Herring singled with one away, advanced to second on a fielder's choice and raced home on Jimmy Freisinger's single to left field.

Herring had three hits and Taylor Duggins a pair of safeties to pace the Elon batting, while Bob Gwynn banged four hits and Ed Fisher a pair of bingles to lead the visiting Camels.

Elon Toppled By Delaware

Inability to hit behind the runners proved fatal for the Elon Christians as they dropped a 3 to 2 decision to the University of Delaware nine on the Elon field on Monday, April 3rd. It marked the fourth time this season that the Elon nine had dropped a decision by a single run.

The Christians grabbed an early lead when they used two Delaware errors and a sacrifice to plate a single run in the second. The Delaware outfit tied the score with a single run in the fourth, but Elon moved ahead again with a solo that came on two singles, a walk and an error.

The Christians pulled back into contention with a 7-run uprising in the eighth when they used five walks, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and a three-run homer by Jimmy Freisinger to pull up to 14 to 8. Elon later added two runs in the ninth, but Pembroke had also added three in the eighth for the final 17 to 10 score.

Paul Amundsen (left) and Sam Moon (right) are two letterman pitchers from last year who have seen heavy mound duty for Coach Jerry Drake's Elon College Christians in the early-season baseball games. With twelve games played, both Amundsen and Moon have seen mound duty in five games, with most of Amundsen's service in relief roles. Sam Moon, a sophomore from Snow Camp, has been mostly a starting pitcher and has been a tough luck hurler as he got credit for five losses, but many of the runs against the lanky chunker have come as a result of errors by his mates. Amundsen, also a sophomore who hails from Silver Springs, Md., has worked in five games in relief and has allowed only six runs in fourteen innings, with not a single earned run against him.
