

Friday, November 3, 1967

REID THIS

Dr. J. Earl Daniele's job is now safe.

After the way Red Wilson has been instilling combat in our Fighting Christians, I suggest that Gov. Moore's position is now in jeopardy. I no longer propose that we replace Big Earl with one Mr. Shirley Wilson, a thought which I had after we took the Guilfords in the football opener. After later games, such as the PC win, Wilson merits something bigger, such as the governor's chair. Do you realize that already this fall, our footballers have won as many games as we collected in two previous years. Moreover, we doubled our Carolinas Conference victory total.

Even if we fall on our sitting-down places for the rest of the season, Red has still hauled our forces out of the (Ahem) red. If we were to dispose of just one of the Goliath types left on the schedule, I propose our man replace LBJ. The more I cogitate that suggestion, the more smitten I am with my suggestion.

Anyway, Red, for those of you who have met him, can be a soft and albeit firm-spoken fellow who has the build of a filled-out O'Kelly monument. One of the first sentences he passed my way after assuming the coaching command at Elon was: "Ummm -- well, I'm not used to losing."

Statisticians cite his past winning ways in Carolina high schools. I remember him in '49 at South Norfolk, Va., when he crash-landed our Norview High School Pilots when we might have flown high.

He has brought Elon a football formation called the Single Wing. It is one I played, so I like it. If I worked in that format, it means this tactic is ancient. Like vaudeville, it is so old that it is new. Lenoir Rhyne and East Carolina deploy it to advantage. Moreover, Mr. Wilson vows to use my very favorite play; the Statue of Liberty. The ball is hiked to the backfield man, you understand, and he stands there poised to chunk the ball, but he doesn't pass at all. Instead, he hands back to another chap who runs like Satan. Fresh as 23-skiddoo, but, oh you kid! It works!

Despite Wilson's being among the disadvantaged (he played at Davidson rather than Elon), my spouse describes him as "a real pussycat." I believe this is flattering.

Through his guidance of our team, Wilson is making my world a better place to live in. I mean, after all, he is the man who brought us a win streak of one straight.

Elon To Play At Newberry

The Elon Christians travel to Newberry this weekend for another important Carolina Conference engagement, hoping to avenge a lopsided 28 to 6 defeat suffered here at the hands of the Indians last fall.

Elon Players

(Continued from page 2) student body may obtain tickets for the performance by showing their ID cards to persons in the ticket office. Tickets will be available at the ticket office in the afternoons prior to the show. For outsiders, the admission will be $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for high school students and 50 cents for smaller children.

Many Pledges Taken

(Continued from page 1)

Faith; Jan Davis, Raleigh; De De Hart, Virginia Beach, Va.; Linda Huntley, Portsmouth, Va.; Sarah Kenyon, Little Silver, N.J.; Joan King, Hendersonville; Debbie Miller, Altavista, Va.; Gena O'Berry, Virginia Beach, Va.; Katie Patrick, Hampton, Va.; Jane Rountree, Suffolk, Va.; Nelda Shaw, Durham; and Joan Wilson, Wilmington, Del.

TAU ZETA PHI -- Susie Clark, Winston-Salem; Dianne Clendenning, Milford, Va.; Nita Campher, Purcellville, Va.; Kathy Copeland, Norfolk, Va.; Elaine Crowder, Buffalo Junction, Va.; Sandy Doflemeyer, Elkton, Va.; Emily Hall, Salisbury; Sherri McGirt, Charlotte; Sally O'Neill, Sycamore, Ill.; Carl Porter, Charlotte; Myra Rothwell, Albemarle; Connie Russell, West Palm Beach, Fla.; Pam Sauvain, Richmond, Va.; Janet Sylvester, Norfolk, Va.; Connie Theodore, Bellmore, N. Y.; Susan Tilley, Newport News, Va.; Carol Vincent, Charlotte; and Sally Ann Ward, Liberty.

ALPHA PI DELTA (TKE Affiliate) -- Tom Balderson, Chesapeake, Va.; Louis Blom, New York, N.Y.; Clyde Day, Portsmouth, Va.; Bob Jones, Memphis, Tenn.; Bob King, Asheboro; Pete Lawson, Greensboro; George Old, Virginia Beach, Va.; Jim Parr, Suffolk, Va.; Skip Rogers, Durham; Steve Sime, Lenoir; Leon Tew, Virginia Beach, Va.; and Jim White, Wytheville, Va.

IOTA TAU KAPPA -- Gerald Dale, Goldsboro, Michael Hailey, South Boston, Va.; William Hartley, Welcome; Gary Jones, Reidsville; George Lumbord, Alexandria, Va.; Tom McGee, Deer Park, N. Y.; Clanton McNnis, Rocky Mount; Rodney Miller, Lexington; Robert Moore, Yanceyville; David Oliphant, Mooresville; and Ronald

ELON CHEERLEADERS DO MUCH TO BUILD SPIRIT

Occupying the front and center position at the annual Homecoming grid battle with Western Carolina last Saturday were the varsity cheerleaders, who are pictured above. The seven varsity cheerleaders shown left to right are as follows: FRONT ROW -- Gail Porter, of Wilmington, Del.; Chief Cheerleader Sandy Bergman, of Uncasville, Conn; and Betsy Patterson, of Burlington. BACK ROW -- Kathy Copeland, of Norfolk, Va.; Connie Theodore, of Belmore, L.I., N.Y.; Cecelia Cobo, of Arlington, Va.; and Martha Kellam, of Spencer, Mass. There are several alternate cheerleaders, not pictured here, who fill in when the varsity pep leaders are not present.

Varsity Views

(Continued from page 3)

ern in every respect.

The expansion of the campus housing accommodations to the 1,000 student point reaches the limit established by the Elon trustees for campus students, so the construction of the new unit will mark completion of the college's planned expansion in the dormitory field.

What's New?

(Continued from page 2)

no food to be found. Several words were exchanged with Miss Parks, the sweet gray-haired lady with the charming voice, but she did not give any food out. She did have some of her staff bring out extra loaves of bread and the cafeteria's redeemer, peanut butter. Wasn't that nice of her?

Not only did the band go "supperless," but a busload of loyal fans did also. When a group represents the school in one way or another, they are given money or bag lunches for the meals they will miss at Elon. I feel very strongly that those band members should be reimbursed for the hamburger or hotdog they had to go out and buy. After all, they did represent Elon, and they did individually pay the $212.50 for board, and they did miss a meal.

Americans consume about 10 billion pounds of sugar each year. That adds up to about 100 pounds per person.

Research shows weight-watchers in the U. S. have tripled from 12 per cent of the population in 1963 to 36 per cent in 1965.

Pa.), Don Oakes (Gretna, Va.), John Austin (Greensboro), and Dewey Capps (Myrtle Beach, S.C.). These are all first-year prospects and have the potential to win.

The return of letterman Robbie Ellis to the infield should help last year's defensive problem at third base. Ron Brown, frosh from Glen Burnie, Md., has shown promise at shortstop. Bob Godfrey, first baseman from Greensboro, should help tremendously on hitting from the left side.

The outlook for the Christian outfield is real good. Mel Cliborne, Richard Smith, and Joe Rinaca, all sophs, should make the outfield one of the best in the state.

With the returning talent and the addition of new prospects the Christian "9" could possibly have one of the best seasons in recent years. If dedication and hard work by the coach will do it the '68 season should be a good one.

Coach Jerry Drake is one of the most dedicated men in his field. I saw many examples of this when we were team mates a few years ago. No one on the team worked any harder or loved to win any better than Drake. With this type of coach at the helm it is a shame that the administration of the school could not cooperate more in making baseball at Elon a winning tradition. Some have been wondering what happened to the fall practice games and I can't answer for certain. I wonder if anyone knows what happened?

