Two Visiting Scholars Will Lecture On Elon Campus

Two outstanding speakers will appear on the Elon campus next week as features of the Visiting Scholars Program, sponsored by the Piedmont University Center, with the first set for Monday night and the other on Wednesday night.

Dr. W. T. Jones, professor of philosophy at Pomona College in California, will speak in Whitley Auditorium at 8 o'clock next Monday night, appearing as a guest of the Elon College Department of Philosophy and Religion, speaking on the topic of "Stance, Counter-stance and Metastance," which is concerned with various possible attitudes to adopt toward a rapidly changing world.

The guest speaker, who has won wide recognition for his work in the various fields of philosophy, has been on the faculty at Pomona College for thirty years. He has published a number of important books in his field, the latest being "The Sciences And The Humanities" three years ago.

Dr. John Spanier, of the University of Florida at Gainesville, Fla., is the other visiting speaker for next week, being scheduled to speak in Whitley Auditorium at 8 o'clock next Wednesday night. He will speak on the topic of "The Impact of Limited Wars Upon U. S. Domestic Politics."

In addition to his present post at the University of Florida, Dr. Spanier has also taught at Haverford College and at the University of Texas. His fields of interest include international relations, military policy and strategy, international organizations, comparative governments and varied fields of political and social thought.

Greek Letter Groups Adding New Members On Fall Bids

The Greek letter sororities and fraternities will conclude the annual fall rushing period this weekend, with the annual autumn "Bid Night" ceremonies on Saturday ending two weeks of entertainment for prospective members of the various groups.

The rush period began two weeks ago with a series of "Open House" receptions by the various groups, and since that time the rushees have had ample time to decide the sorority or fraternity of their choice. Both active members and new pledges will attend church in groups Sunday as a feature of the pledging weekend.

Active members of the four sororities and five fraternities are listed below, with the sororities listed first in alphabetical order, followed by the fraternities, also in alphabetical order:

NEWCOMERS TO ELON FACULTY

MRS. ANGELE AVIZONIS

MISS ELOISE BAYNES

Two additions to the Elon College foreign language faculty for this 1968-69 college year are pictured above. Mrs. Angele Avizonis (shown left), wife of Dr. Konstantinos Avizonis, chairman of the history department, joins the faculty as assistant professor of German; and Miss Eloise Baynes (shown right), will be assistant professor of Latin. Mrs. Avizonis, a native of Lithuania, was educated in universities of Lithuania and Germany, and she taught German in various continental universities in Europe for fifteen years, and for the past fifteen years has been associated with the professional library staff at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is listed in Who's Who of American Women and Who's Who in Library Service. Miss Baynes, who is native of Winston-Salem and holds the master's degree from UNC-CH, has had long experience in public schools of North Carolina and was for several years a member of the faculty at Salem College.
