CO-CHAIRMEN LEAD HOMECOMING

Talent Show Is Planned For Tonight

The Elon College students will inaugurate a festive weekend of Homecoming activities for 1968 tonight with the annual talent show to be held in Whitley Auditorium at 7 o'clock tonight, but that event only serves as an enjoyable prelude for the varied events that will follow before Sunday's sun sets. Theme for Homecoming 1968 will be "Color Colossal."

The entire Homecoming celebration will be highlighted by tomorrow's homecoming football battle with the Catawba Indians, which is set for 2 o'clock in Burlington Memorial Stadium.

No less than 16 of Elon's most attractive girls have been nominated for the position of Homecoming Queen, and the students have already voted to determine which of this group will rule over the festive weekend. The winner will not be revealed until the weekend events have already started, and she will be crowned in half-time festivities at tomorrow's football game.

The girls who have been nominated for the Homecoming Queen honor include Terry Bresnahan, Becky Burchette, Dianne Clendennen, Janet Hooper, Barbara Hudson, Jane Husk, Leslie James, Barbara Mageloff, Sue Peake, Cleo Perdue, Gail Porter, Resa Robinson, Kaye Savage, Chris Smith, Phyllis Tillery and Jane Vaughan.

They have already been narrowed to a select group of five girls, with the girl who receives top voting total reigning as "Queen" and with the next four in the balloting to-

Repertoire Players Offer Play Tuesday

The Pacific Repertoire Company, widely hailed troupe of professional actors, will appear in Whitley Auditorium at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night in the next feature of the annual Elon Lyceum series, appearing as the first of two Lyceum attractions within a single week, for they will be followed two nights later by Gerald Goodman, harpist.

The Pacific Repertoire group, which has performed in many areas in colleges, churches, schools, and military installations, will present John Patrick's delightful comedy entitled "Everybody Loves Opal," which is the heartwarming story of how a loving woman who retains her faith can turn even the most off-beat type of person into a decent citizen.

The play is of the type which provokes thought and still furnishes top-flight entertainment. It features a cast that includes Jacquelyn Wiersma in the title role of Opal, Betty Jo Gallow as Gloria, Charles J. Golden as Brad, Keith Erickson as Rocky the outlaw, and Carl Press as the deputy.

Each of these actors is a veteran of the professional stage, with Charles Golden having made his first stage appearances in his native Chicago at the age of six and having performed since that time in more than 500 plays in over 300 cities.

The other members of the group have had almost equal experience, and they promise an outstanding evening of entertainment when they present "Everybody Loves Opal," with its theme that there is something of good in everyone if you take the time to find it.

Trustees Hold Fall Meeting October 16th

The Elon College trustees, in their annual fall meeting held on the campus on Wednesday, October 16th, set an all-time high budget of $2,212,000 for the operation of the college during its 1968-69 term. This figure, announced by Dr. J. E. Danieley, represented an upward revision of the tentative budget that was set last March.

The trustees also heard and approved the reports of the various administrative officials of the college, including Dr. J. E. Danieley as president, Prof. Fletcher Moore as dean, Robert Gwaltney as registrar, W. E. Butler, Jr., as business manager, and Robert C. Baxter as director of development.

Also presented and approved by the trustees were the reports of the standing committees of the board, including the
