

MAROON AND GOLD

Dedicated to the best interests of Elon College and its students and faculty, the Maroon and Gold is published weekly during the college year with the exception of holiday and examination periods at Elon College, N.C. (Zip Code 27244), publication being in cooperation with the journalism department.

REPORTORIAL STAFF

John Andrews, Landy Blackwell, Don Bowers, Edna Brantley, Richard Bray, Rebecca Burgess, Chester Burgess, Bruce Cohen, Dean Coleman, Dillard Dye, Joe Fowler, Don Goldberg, Joe Goldberg, Tom Hardee, Wally Hardwick, William Hartley, Joe Jessup, Sondra Jones, Bobby King, Bob Klingel, John McNeill, Sam Massey, Jerry Midkiff, Denny Moore, Robert Nash, Ned Poole, Elizabeth Sanders, Kay Savage, Jerry Schumm, Ronnie Sink, Mike Spillane, Mike Straka, Archie Taylor, Joe Teague, Bill Walker, Ronnie Wickler, Jerry Woodlief, George Watts, Frank Webster.

Howard Is Speaker In Scholars Series

Dr. Robert A. Howard, professor of art at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, who is associated with the Ackland Art Center and has won acclaim as a sculptor, visited the Elon College campus on Wednesday night of this week as the fourth in the series of Visiting Scholars Lecturers.

The Visiting Scholars program, which features speakers in many and varied fields of the academic field, is sponsored by the Piedmont University Center, which includes a group of twenty of the colleges and universities in the Piedmont section of North Carolina.

Coming as the fourth in the series of Visiting Scholars Lecturers to the Elon campus this year, preceding visitors for addresses have included Dr. Paul B. Weisz, in the field of biology and zoology; Dr. W. T. Jones, in the field of philosophy; and Dr. John Spanier, in the field of political science and history.

Dr. Howard, who now resides in Chapel Hill, is a native of Oklahoma, and he attended Phillips University in Enid, Okla., and the University of Tulsa as an undergraduate, receiving the A.B. degree from the latter institution. He later had additional graduate work in art at the Ossip Zadkine in Paris.

The guest lecturer came to Elon with a very fine record of accomplishments in the field of art, including national exhibitions of his works in sculpture in many and widely scattered cities in the United States, among them Syracuse, N. Y., Philadelphia, Detroit, New York City, Los Angeles and Minneapolis, Minn.

Howard has written many articles on the subject of art and sculpture, and his works have appeared in numerous of the learned publications in that field of art.

Hall Of Fame Award

A. E. Finley, Raleigh businessman and philanthropist, has been awarded the North Carolina citizenship award by the National Football Hall of Fame.

The award was presented by the N. C. Chapter of the National Football Foundation.

NEWCOMERS FOR ELON FACULTY

Among the newcomers on the Elon College faculty for this 1968-69 term are Dr. Kenneth A. Smith (left), who is an assistant professor in the Department of Business Administration; and Prof. Roger C. Grimson (right), who is an assistant professor in the Department of Mathematics. Dr. Smith, who is a native of Pilot Mountain, is a graduate of Wake Forest and hold the doctorate in law from the Wake Forest Law School. Professor Grimson, who is native of Durham, attended Elon College for two years but later graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and did his graduate work in mathematics at Duke University.

SIX NEW MEMBERS JOIN ELON BOARD OF TRUSTEES

MRS. LULA HELVENSTON

RICHARD J. HOLLAND

WOODROW W. PILAND

DR. T. EDWARD POWELL

J. J. POINTER

THOMAS B. SAIN

Elon College Lists Six New Members For Trustees Board

Six new members have been added recently to the Elon College board of trustees. The addition of the new members, announced from the office of Dr. J. E. Danieley, Elon president, gives the trustee group its full membership quota of thirty-six.

The new trustees, listed in alphabetical order, include Mrs. Lula Browne Helvenston, of Orlando, Fla.; Richard J. Holland, of Windsor, Va.; Woodrow W. Piland, of Portsmouth, Va.; J. J. Pointer, of Virginia Beach, Va.; Dr. T. E. Powell, III, Burlington; and Thomas B. Sain, of Burlington.

Mrs. Helvenston, who is a graduate of Elon College, taught religious education at Elon for one year after graduation and served as dean of women for a brief period. She later taught Bible in the public schools in both North Carolina and Florida. She has been active in the work of the Presbyterian church for many years and has travelled in more than 50 countries with her husband, who is a retired Air Force Colonel. She has won recognition as a lecturer, particularly on topics concerning Russia and Palestine.

Richard J. Holland, veteran Virginia banker, is a graduate of the University of Virginia, but he also studied at Virginia Military Institute and Harvard. He has long been a leader in affairs of the United Church of Christ and in various fraternal and civic organizations of the Windsor area. He is an officer of the Virginia Bankers Association and a member of the staff of Virginia Governor Mills E. Godwin.

Woodrow W. Piland, veteran school administrator in Portsmouth, Va., is a graduate of Elon College and holds the master's degree from William and Mary, with additional graduate work at the University of North Carolina and the University of Virginia. He is now principal of Woodrow Wilson High School in Portsmouth and is active in the United Church of Christ and in numerous civic, professional and fraternal groups.

J. J. Pointer, Virginia Beach business leader, who is now president of the Smith-Douglass Company, is also an alumnus of Elon College. He is a veteran of World War II and has been active in affairs of the Methodist Church and in civic life.

Dr. T. E. Powell, III, vice-president of the Carolina Biological Supply Company in Burlington, is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, holds the M.D. degree from the Duke University School of Medicine and the M. A. degree from Harvard University. He is a member of the United Church of Christ and holds membership in numerous medical and biological associations and he has done much research in areas of cellular respiration and fine structure anatomy and has published articles in several professional journals.

Thomas B. Sain, who is executive vice-president of the Burlington Hosiery Company, a division of Burlington Industries and received his management training at the University of Virginia. He is active in the Methodist Church and in numerous business, industrial and civic groups, having held numerous offices and committee appointments in these organizations.

Priestly Will Hold Seminar November 23

An event of special interest on the Elon campus for the fall semester is the Alumni Seminar on which is scheduled for Saturday, November 23rd, at 10:30 o'clock.

The Seminar will be conducted by Dr. S. E. Gerad Priestley, who is known worldwide as an authority on the less developed areas of the world, a leader in the field of international relations and as a historian, author, lecturer and world traveler. He is currently a visiting scholar on the Elon faculty and is teaching courses in international relations.

GIRL WATCHERS

