ELON COLLEGE, MAY 3, 1974

No. 3

SPRING WEEKEND — 1974

Tomorrow night, the Elon College Entertainment Committee will present the rock group MOUNTAIN, in concert. The concert is scheduled to begin at eight p.m. and it will be held in the gymnasium.

MOUNTAIN, a well-known rock group, made its beginning in July of 1969 at the Fillmore West. In August of that same year the group appeared at the now famous Woodstock Festival. From there MOUNTAIN went on to tour the United States performing at most of the major rock festivals. After completing their U. S. tour, they left the States to hit such countries as England and Germany.

In the winter of 1972, MOUNTAIN broke-up when Felix Pappalardi, the leader, left the group so that he could concentrate on composing classical music. Soon after this break-up occurred, Jack Bruce, of Cream, teamed up with Leslie West and Corky Laing to form WEST, BRUCE & LAING. Together they toured the U. S., large sections of Europe, and cut several albums.

In August of 1973, MOUNTAIN was re-organized by Felix. This reunion was followed by a very successful tour of Japan. MOUNTAIN then came back to the United States to wind up their tour.

All of the MOUNTAIN recordings (on Columbia/Windfall Records) have made the U. S. charts. "Mississippi Queen," "For Yasgur's Farm," and "The Animal and The Toad" all MOUNTAIN singles, have made the top one-hundred. Their cuts, "Climbing" and "Nantucket Sleighride," are certified gold. The MOUNTAIN recordings on "Woodstock II" also hit the charts.

Students are reminded that I.D.'s are required for free entrance to the concert. Only married students may gain entrance on one I. D. Also, tickets are on sale at the door and in the campus shop for three dollars.

A NEW MAN IN THE FOOD

Mr. Howard Southerland who has assumed responsibilities as head dietician at Elon since March has already made many welcome changes and anticipates more to follow.

After having been employed at Clemson University and Citadel, both of South Carolina, he replaced Mr. Steve Bucko and now strives for better food and conditions in the cafeteria. "One of the main objectives of myself and the staff will be to improve the taste and quality of the food we serve. We will try to prepare and season the food more carefully than in the past," he explained.

Cake and ice cream and spaghetti all-you-can-eat nights have already been enjoyed by the students. "By next fall I hope to schedule special nights to break the monotony of the same old menu, he replied. I also would like to see more cookouts during good weather and steak served every Saturday instead of only twice a month if and when the prices on beef change."

Students are encouraged by Mr. Southerland to express their likes and dislikes to him and the cafeteria staff. "I would like an open line of communication between students and all of the constituents of the cafeteria. If there are any compliments or complaints, we are anxious to hear them. This also applies to the varsity grill, anything different that the students want of the menu we will be glad to consider."

Howard Southerland is aiming to make the cafeteria and its duties as pleasurable as possible. "I'm glad to be here and if there is party or reception I can help with I want the students to feel free to contact me. The students can help the cafeteria by refraining to take food and serviceware out of the cafeteria which causes extra confusion and added expense. Again, I will say that I'm pleased to be a part of Elon College and will try to contribute to the success of 1974-75 by making the meals more enjoyable."
