

New SGA Officers

Moser, Metcalf, and Berryman Win

by Bryant Colson

Elon College students have elected three new student leaders to serve them as president, vice-president, and treasurer of the Student Government Association for 1978-79.

Robin Moser, a senior from Graham, was elected president, defeating her closest opponent, John Atkinson, by 95 votes. David Sams received 32 votes.

Charlotte junior Annette Metcalf, won by a healthy margin of 297 votes over her closest opposition, Jesse Perkins, to capture the vice presidency.

A slim 83 votes separated Lee Berryman and his closest opposition, Greg Anderson, as the junior from Springfield, N.C., took the position of treasurer. Rusty City and Ken Payne also ran.

The two-day election saw an increase in voter participation. "Turnout was pretty good," said Charlie Hopkins, chairman of the election board, "28% of the entire student body voted. I am very pleased with the turnout," he continued.

Class office and senatorial elections were held Tuesday and Wednesday. This election saw some competition in the officers' race while some ran unopposed. There is, however, a stiff senatorial race, 31 candidates are vying for 21 positions. Results will be in next week's Pendulum.

Commuters plan booth

by Victoria Huffman

A commuter meeting was held April 20 on the floor of upstairs Long Student Center. Someone forgot to unlock the doors.

Tuesday's meeting centered on the upcoming "Johnny Graves Day" to be held on May 1. The framework of the May Day celebration, in honor of the retired professor, includes an activities fair which will be held on the lawn between Alamance Building and Long Student Center. Volunteers were asked to help with the fair.

Commuters will have a booth which will offer as first prize two free tickets to the Gallery Players' next production, "Arsenic and Old Lace." Second prize will be two free tickets to the Terrace Theater. Third prize—well—the commuters think it's best, so they are keeping it as a surprise!

All you have to do is guess or come closest to guessing the correct number of jelly beans in the gold fish bowl for first prize. Guesses are 10 cents each. All monies raised will go to aid Johnny Graves.

New tour director begins job

Dr. David Crowe, who specializes in Russian and European history, will serve as the director of the Elon College Studies in Britain next January. Not new to the program, since he went as leader of the history group last January, Dr. Crowe is already at work with his planning committee and faculty for next winter's study-tour.

Dr. Crowe, who joined the Elon faculty last year, has lived, studied and traveled in Great Britain, the Scandinavian countries, and has visited the Soviet Union twice. He has traveled in other parts of Europe, and the Caribbean, Mexico, and Canada as well.

His own academic preparation includes a B.A. in history from Southeastern Louisiana U., 1966; an M.A. in American and European history from Mississippi State in 1967; completion of another B.A. in Russian literature and language; and the Ph.D. in Russian history from the U. of Georgia in 1974. After his Ph.D., he went to Washington to work in the National Archives as a specialist on Russia for three years.

Dr. Crowe has published about 20 articles, contributed to two books, and delivered 10 papers at conferences in the U.S., Canada, and Europe, chiefly on Soviet history, European diplomacy, and the "holocaust" in Jewish history. The apex, according to Crowe, was the delivery of a paper before the Royal Swedish Academy in June 1977 on "American Foreign Policy and the Baltic States Question, 1940-41: The Critical Years."

Dr. Crowe and his wife Marcia have a daughter, Becky, 12, and a son, John, 8.

Careers night is May 4

by Dana Hill

The Department of social sciences will hold its annual "Careers Night" on May 4 from 7 to 10 p.m. in the second floor banquet room of McEwen Dining Hall.

This year's version of "Careers Night" promises to be the most extensive ever attempted. Students will be able to talk with people in a number of areas including law, journalism, social work, graduate and professional schools, publishing, teaching and government service.

Representatives will be on hand from the FBI, CIA, and the SBI as well as area law enforcement personnel. Admissions personnel from area law and graduate schools will be present to offer advice to students planning to continue their education after their undergraduate careers. Practicing attorneys will also be present to aid students with practical advice.

In addition, information concerning congressional jobs and other federal employment will be available. Students interested in the insurance field can expect to find answers to their inquiries as well.

Some of the persons who will be on hand to answer questions are David Sanders of the Alamance Battleground, Jim Wilson, editor of the Burlington Times-News, Dave Olsen of the political science department at the UNC-G Graduate School, a representative from the N.C. Department of Archives, a representative from the UNC-CH Law School, Leon Tew of Random House publishing company, Haywood Simpson,

It's 'go' for John Graves Day

by Rick Parham

Final preparations for the Johnny Graves Day carnival on Monday are underway. According to Gwen Crawford and Bunky Womble of the King and Queen of Spirit committee, there are 13 contestants so far. The voting will be held between 9:00 and 3:00 today and tomorrow in the lobby of the Long Student Center.

Paraphernalia for the auction and flea market has been piling up. Dr. David Crowe, history department, has donated his bicycle in response to the occasion. Faculty members, staff and students who have not done so are urged to donate something for the auction. According to Mrs. Mary Thomas, area merchants have donated many nice gifts for which drawings will be held periodically throughout the day. Mrs. Pat Moser says that many merchants have promised to donate all money made from coffee on J.G. Day to the Johnny Graves Trust Fund.

Howard Southerland and ARA will sponsor the "Elon Eat-Out" Monday, May 1. A hamburger eating contest will highlight the eat-out as things get underway at 6:30. Contestants are to see Julie Lackey for sign-up sheets. Here is a sampling of the day's activities:

2:30-2:45 p.m.—Presentation of John S. Graves Portrait.

2:45-3:00 p.m.—Crowning of "May King and Queen of Campus Spirit"

3:00-5:00 p.m.—Flea market
—Carnival booths
—Bake sale

—Ice cream/lemonade stand
4:30-5:00 p.m.—Talent dedications to "Papa John"

5:00-6:00 p.m.—Auction of remaining flea market and trivia items

In case of rain, Tuesday will be JG Day.

Five join Alpha Chi

by Beverly Faison

Last Wednesday five women students were inducted into the Elon Chapter of Alpha Chi, the honor fraternity, at a ceremony held on the second floor of McEwen Dining Hall.

The inductees were Linda Carol Bartlett, a math major; Carolyn Edwards Carter, community services (human services) major; Gayle Ann Fishel, a history major; Jacquelyn Marie Myers, physical education major; and Cathy Williams Sands, an elementary education major inductees are graduating seniors who became eligible for membership in Alpha Chi after the fall induction.

According to Dr. Robert Blake, William S. Long, Professor of English, this is the first year that the Elon chapter of Alpha Chi has had two inductions. Dr. Blake, sponsor, was assisted by Dr. Robert Delp, professor of history, in the ceremony. According to Dr. Blake, Dr. Delp assisted him because Dr. Chris White, assistant sponsor, was out of town. Refreshments were served to guests after the ceremony.

Dr. Blake says that the Elon Chapter of Alpha Chi is now a part of the regional convention. It is a part of region three which includes eight states. Dr. Blake was chosen vice-president of this region at the regional convention held in March in Atlanta. As vice president, Dr. Blake says that he is in charge of planning the regional convention for 1980.
