The 1978-79 edition of Who's Who Among Students n American Universities and Colleges will carry the names of 25 students from Elon College who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders. Dean Chris White made the announcement today.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

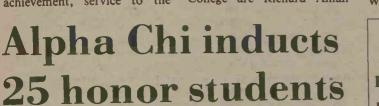

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,000 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations, Dean White said.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students who have been named this year from Elon College are Richard Amandole, John Atkinson, Lee Berryman, Sylvia Ann Buckner, Bryan Douglas Burney, Betty Burton, Bryant Colson, Elizabeth Crosby, Kathryn Dickens, Banu Duruman, Beverly Faison, Martha Jo Hall, Mary Frances Hamill, Andria M. McDowell, Wanda McDowell, Jane Nelson, Katherine Ann Pappas.

Watkins.

More than eighty parents, spouses and children, along with Elon faculty members and administrators, witnessed the induction of 25 juniors and seniors into the North Carolina Delta Chapter of Alpha Chi in second floor McEwen, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m.

Dr. Chris White, associate sponsor of Alpha Chi introduced the inductees, Dr. Jo Williams gave the invocation, and Barry Simmons presided over the constitution table. Dr. Robert Blake, the chapter sponsor, conducted the induction itself.

After the program of induction, a short business meeting was held to elect officers for the current year. Ronald Crotts was elected president; Perry Everhart, vice-president; and Karen Clifton, secretary-treasurer. Students inducted into Alpha Chi are: Laurie Ann Alcon, Nuha Mustafa Babaa, Donna L. Butts, Donna S. Causey, Eva Karen Clifton, Ronald L. Crotts, Julia S. Ewing, Jack W. Franks, David X. Haddad, Martha Jo Hall, Susan B. Hamlett, Barbara E. Huffman, Kimberly S. Leathers, Wanda G. McDowell, Freida J. Matkins, Bruce T. Patram, Lydia Rene Reaves, Connie T. Scott, Lawrence T. Sond-haus, Meredith W. Trester, Deborah L. Wallwork, Juliana L. Watkins, John F. Watts, Donna S. Wyrick and Sheryl R. York.

After the program in Mc-Ewen the inductees, relatives and other invited guests attended a reception at the home of President and Mrs. Fred Young.

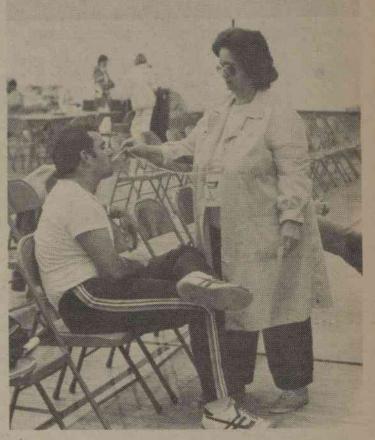

"This is the largest number of persons ever to witness Alpha Chi induction at Elon. This is largely because the ceremony was scheduled to coincide with Parents Weekend, as was the case last year," Dr. Blake said. "This gives parents a chance to share in a high moment in their son's or daughter's college life, and I want to continue this tradition. President and Mrs. Young have been most gracious in honoring these fine students with a reception in their home," Dr.

Senate recalls visitation bill

by Robin Adams

The Senate voted Monday night in a special called meeting to retract bill 77-10.1, the visitation bill, until next

Jim Stevenson proposed that the Senate wait until the spring meeting of the board of trustees to present the bill. Robin Moser suggested they "present a proposal to the Campus Life Committee first and lobby for it effectively."

Robin said the Campus Life Committee was more open than the trustees. She also assured the Senate that by not presenting the bill, she was not being passive, but planning to prepare a more detailed statistical report for the trustees. "Since the bill had been introduced three times and filed by the trustees three times, a more educated approach would be more effective," says Robin.

The proposed bill 77-10.1, the visitation bill, asks only for week-end visitation with the same open-door policy. The bill also notices that Swith and Carolina are unfit for female visitors and need to be upgraded.

Further business consisted of a proposal by Jim Stevenson to strengthen dorm governments. This proposal passed unanimously and was presented to the Campus Life Committee Wednesday.

New freshmen officers were sworn in and the Communications Media Board Constitution was presented to the Senate. It will be reviewed during the regular Senate meeting today.

BCS seeks an adviser

by Robin Adams

"A lack of faculty in an administrative position to assist blacks in counseling sessions is the major goal or concern of Elon's Black Cultural Society," says Vivian Miller, BCS president.

Ms. Miller is also con-cerned because BCS doesn't have a faculty adviser. She says William Sharpe offered his services to BCS whenever they are needed, but she felt that Mr. Sharpe has enough administrative duties as co-ordinator of student activities.

The purpose of BCS is to promote unity among black students and to help them deal with campus life. In order to fill these specifics she feels there should be more interrelationship among schools in the area.

BCS has contacted A&T University, Winston-Salem State, N.C. Central and the University of Maryland. By determining what works and does not work for them, Vivian feels she can better plan for Elon students.

BCS's officers for the 1978-79 year are Vivian Miller, president; Frances Murrell, vice president; Elizabeth Bynum, secretary; and Bryant Colson, treasurer. The Black Cultural Society meets every Thursday at 7:30 in the Listening Room of Long
